JFK Appoints Crisis Negotiators; Marinites Called With A.F. Wing

MARIN AMONG LEADING COUNTIES IN INCOME

Marin County has the eighth highest median family income of counties in the United States and ranks first in California, according to figures from the U.S. Census Bureau.

From information gained in the 1960 census, the median income of a family in Marin was pegged at $8,110. San Mateo County follows Marin both in the national and state rankings with an average income of $8,103.

The top 10 counties in the country are Montgomery County, Md., $9,317; Los Alamos, N.M., $9,269; Arlington County, Va., $8,670; Fairfax County, Va., $8,607; Du Page County, Ill., $8,570; Nassau County, N.Y., $8,515; Johnson County, Kan., $8,161; Marin and San Mateo counties, and Westchester County, N. Y., $8,502.

California ranked fifth, with $6,726, in states for median family incomes, behind Alaska, Connecticut, New Jersey, and Nevada.

80 Local Airmen In Uniform

Air Force reservists of the 349th Troop Carrier Wing from the Bay Area, including about 80 Marin County residents, were called into active duty yesterday as a result of the Cuban crisis.

An Air Force spokesman at Hamilton Air Force Base, where the 1,200 reservists were processed, said they were recalled to active duty for 12 months.

MORNING CALL

The orders originating in the Defense Department to call up the reservists, which came via the Continental Air Command Headquarters in Georgia, were received at the base at 3 a.m.

They did not specify that the troop carrier wing, whose job is to transport troops and material in C-119 "Flying Boxcars," would be shipped out.

The spokesman said, however, the wing "could be ready to go tomorrow" if the orders were issued.

NATIONAL MOVE

The Bay Area reserve unit was part of a national callup of 24 troop carrier squadrons and support units from 20 states and 14,000 reservists.

The 349th Troop Carrier Wing was called up for the Korean War. About 30 per cent of the reserve unit consists of Korean War veterans, according to the spokesman. It also contains some World War II veterans.

Air Force officials at Hamilton termed the reactivation a "no-notice recall." There was no prior notification of having to go on active duty status as there was for the Berlin crisis last year, they said.

COULD GO HOME

Most reservists were awakened with notices shortly after 3 a.m. Bay Area radio stations were alerted and a predetermined system of one reservist calling another was put into effect.

Reservists started reporting to the air base at 5 a.m. Processing of personnel forms, equipment, and medical checkups started shortly afterward and continued all day.

By 4 p.m. most of the processing had been completed and units had begun inspections and formations, with scattered reservists in civilian clothes standing in the ranks.

Among the 1,200 called up were six members of the Women's Air Force, WAFs

For almost all the reservists, the recall was unexpected, with only a few hearing radio announcements earlier in the evening that unspecified troop carrier wing units would be called to active duty.

The telephone rang in the apartment of S/Sgt. Harold M. Buck at 50 Alexander Avenue, San Rafael, at 5 a.m. with the news coming from his master sergeant, Bill Bator of 31 Corillo Drive.

Nikita Softens On Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—President John F. Kennedy set up a special three-man committee today to handle negotiations looking toward an end to the Cuban crisis.

Kennedy designated John J. McCloy, whom he previously had appointed special assistant to U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson during the period of the Cuban emergency, as chairman of the group.

FULL TIME STUDY

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger described the group as "a coordinating committee to give full time and attention to the matters involved in the conclusion of the Cuban crisis."

He said the group would report directly to the president but act under the supervision of the three officials concerned. These are Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, and Stevenson.

DUTY IN N.Y.

Salinger said the coordinating committee would function in New York.

The press secretary said it would be concerned with "implementing the letters of President John F. Kennedy and Premier Nikita Khrushchev."

In these letters, exchanged over the weekend, Soviet Premier Khrushchev pledged dismantling of Soviet bases in Cuba and a halt to the delivery of offensive weapons to the Castro regime in return for an end to the U.S. blockade and a no-invasion pledge.

Khrushchev has dispatched Deputy Foreign Minister Vassily Kuznetsov to the United Nations to work with Acting Secretary-General U Thant in dealing with the many details involved in a settlement.

Salinger said he had no information as to whether McCloy, Ball and Gilpatric would

FURTHER REPORTS ON CUBAN CRISIS

Brown Tells Defense Plans

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown, just back from civil defense briefings in Washington, today said the state will:

1. Mark buildings capable of providing shelter for four million persons.
2. Improve a program of assigning disaster duties to various state departments.
3. Renew a request that the federal government increase the supply of wheat stockpiled in California by several million bushels.
4. Make full use of the state's Disaster Control Board, part of the governor's cabinet.

Creating Khrushchev Image

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press and radio did its best today to depict Premier Nikita Khrushchev as the man who averted a possible thermonuclear war over Cuba.

This was coupled with warning that the West should not interpret Soviet "peacefulness as a weakness."

JFK, Nikita May Be On Nobel List

OSLO (UPI)—Both President John F. Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev are believed to be on the secret list of candidates for the Nobel Peace Prize this year, informed sources said today.

No More Leaves In Soviet

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet military personnel will be granted no leaves until the U.S. arms blockade around Cuba is lifted, a Soviet military source said tonight.

Gen. Norstad To Stay On Job

PARIS (UPI)—The North Atlantic Treaty Organization announced tonight that Gen. Lauris Norstad would stay on as supreme allied commander in Europe until Jan. 1. NATO sources said he delayed his retirement by two months because of the critical world situation.

RUSS TOUR REPORT

No Salesmanship Needed In USSR

(Editor's note: This is the seventh of a series of interviews with Marinites who visited the USSR with the Marin Executive Delegation.)

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Soft goods, Mayer explains, is a trade term which excludes such hard goods as household furnishings.

"It's interesting to see people standing three and four deep at a counter with but one clerk to wait on them," said Mayer. He said he saw this at the GUM department store in Moscow, a store which does an annual volume of about $270,000,000.

"I found there was no such thing as salesmanship. There didn't have to be. People were standing in line waiting to take the goods off the shelves . . . it was one of the poorest organized stores I have ever been in in my life but it's still doing business. The store is wholly owned by the state.

"I visited other stores not quite so big," the young businessman said. "I saw a woman's cloth coat fairly well styled out of good quality wool selling for around $200. That's two month's pay.

"They use a lot of synthetic furs. A good karakal cap runs around $90. Needless to say, I know of no one on our trip who bought one.

"A good pair of nylon hose costs around $5. This compares here to our hose which sell between $1.65 and $1.95.

"They were pushing for trade with the U.S.," said Mayer. "But it is a little difficult to understand on what basis because most of their trade they derive on a barter basis.

"I was asked more than once, 'why don't you buy things from Russia?'

"I had a simple answer. I

Two Boats Sink; Fumes Of Third Fell Woman

A fishing boat sank off the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday, a second went down in six feet of water in the San Rafael Canal, and a woman passenger was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes aboard a third.

Three occupants of a 26-foot cabin cruiser were rescued by a second fishing boat after their craft swamped and went down just outside the gate.

Harry E. Flowers, 40, of 11 Southwood Avenue, Ross, and Maurice Cawffet, 53, of San Francisco, owner of the boat, were treated for minor injuries at Letterman Army Hospital. Alfred L. Kendricks, 57, of San Francisco, who was piloting the boat, suffered a gash in the left forearm when he was thrown through a cabin window.

The boat encountered high waves about 2:12 p.m. between Point Bonita and Point Diablo and was swamped.

The three aboard were picked up by the fishing boat Martha out of San Francisco.

Another 26-foot boat, owned by Robert Rejeski of San Rafael, went down in six feet of water in the San Rafael Canal yesterday afternoon when a piece of wood was knocked through the hull by the propeller.

Rejeski managed to raise the craft with two inflated life rafts and tow it to San Rafael Marine Repairs Inc. at Harbor and Canal Streets.

Barbara Prah of San Francisco became seasick yesterday aboard a boat operated by Carl Nelson of San Francisco, off Sausalito. She went below to the cabin to rest. Fifteen minutes later, Nelson related, he went below to see how she was feeling and found her unconscious, overcome by carbon monoxide from the engine.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Missing Cuba Pilot Gets Medal

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — A Distinguished Service medal has been awarded to Maj. Rudolf Anderson Jr., 35, pilot of the U.S. reconnaissance plane missing in the Cuban area.

The pilot's father, Rudolf Anderson Sr. said yesterday he was notified of his son's award by Gen. Thomas S. Power, commander of the Strategic Air Command.

Maj. Anderson already holds the Distinguished Flying Cross with two oak leaf clusters for action in Korea and the Airman's Medal.

Two Die On Foggy Highway

WOODLAND (AP)—A little sports car hit a tanker truck and trailer on the foggy Sacramento-Woodland highway yesterday morning, killing a student from India and a Sacramento school teacher.

Killed were Paul Singh Heerey, 26, a graduate student in science at the University of California at Davis, and Miss Mary Emma Kelley, 35, of Sacramento.

The Highway Patrol said their sports car, driven by Heerey, went through a stop sign, hit between the truck and trailer, and the trailer ran over it. The truck driver, Louis Martin, 36, was not hurt.

This Man, 86, Won't Go To War

NASHVILLE, Tenn (AP)—William R. Cantrell said he would tell his draft board today he has no intention of going to war and it would be a mistake to call him up.

"I'd do 'em a heap of good," he snorted after getting a draft notice in the mail. Cantrell is 86.

Train Delayed

BERLIN (UPI)—East German guards today held up the Aachen-Berlin Express train for an hour just outside the West Berlin border and made an inch-by-inch search of the train.

Passengers said the East German guards halted the train, which runs between West Germany and Berlin, at the Griebnitzsee Station. They said the guards checked and rechecked travel documents in addition to making an intensive search of the cars.

Six Killed

PASADENA (UPI) — Six persons, including an off-duty policeman and his wife, were killed and two others were injured today in a two-car collision at a busy intersection.

Police said a large sedan rammed broadside into a compact car making a left turn at Orange Boulevard and Craig Avenue. The compact car careened onto a lawn and came to a halt with the motor still running.

Minutes later the compact "came to life" as the accelerator somehow was pushed to the floor and the car made a U-turn onto the boulevard, narrowly missing two pedestrians and roaring into a tree on the opposite side of the street.

All six passengers in the compact were killed. Police said that at least two persons were thrown from the car.

Council's 2nd Week

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The Ecumenical Council's second week of debate opened today but the week will be cut short by religious holidays and preparations for an anniversary celebration for Pope John XXIII.

The topic this week is the same as last—the liturgy of the church. That is, the form of public worship including the Mass.

Council officials, apparently responding to complaints last week that the Latin-language debates are moving too slowly, asked speakers to be "brief and concise." But an official communique indicated this was more a hope than an order.

Moonlet Planned

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The United States, fresh from a puzzling "partial" success with its new Explorer XV satellite, went ahead today with plans to launch another artificial moonlet this week.

The upcoming shot, scheduled for tomorrow morning, will attempt to put a 350-pound "winking star" satellite called "Anna" into orbit to help missilemen and mapmakers accurately pinpoint any spot on earth.

Officials said the 98-pound moonlet was left spinning about 10 times too fast as it soared around earth—a problem which ruined some of the experiments.

Hoffa Trial

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — The second week of James Hoffa's conspiracy trial got under way today with government prosecutors attempting to prove charges that the labor leader shared in a one-million-dollar illegal payoff.

The controversial boss of the huge Teamsters Union is under indictment for violation of the Taft-Hartley laws.

Machine Gun Deaths

NUORO, Sardinia (UPI)—Two British citizens were found machine gunned to death late last night by shepherds in the bandit infested hill country of nearby Orgosolo, police reported today.

Police identified the victims as a man and a woman, both from Kenya. They said the identification was made from papers left in the couple's car along the road. They refused to reveal any names.

New Hebrew Month

HAIFA, Israel (UPI)—An inked inscription on a clay jar recently discovered near the Dead Sea added another month to the ancient Hebrew Calendar, Archaeologist Dr. Yohanan Aharoni said in a lecture here this weekend.

Aharoni said the month — Tsah — was one of four which are no longer used in the Hebrew calendar. He said the Bible mentions only three ancient months — Eytanin, Ziv and Bul.

Reverse Flow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. balance of payments deficit registered a three fold increase in the July-September quarter, reaching an annual rate of 2.6 billion dollars.

The sharp set-up from the April-June rate of 872 million dollars was attributed largely to a quick reversal of the large flow of capital from Canada that helped reduce the U.S. payments deficit earlier in the year.

U.S. PLANE FLIES OVER SOVIET RUSSIA

President John F. Kennedy acknowledged yesterday that an American aircraft sampling air in connection with the current Soviet nuclear tests made a "serious" navigational error.

He told Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who raised the specter of accidental war over the incident, that he would take steps to prevent a recurrence.

Khrushchev said in his message to Kennedy concerning withdrawal of missiles from Cuba that the plane violated Soviet air space over the Chukotka Peninsula, near Alaska.

Kennedy replied: "I have learned that this plane, without arms or photographic equipment, was engaged in an air sampling mission in connection with your nuclear tests. Its course was direct from Eielson Air Force Base in Alaska to the North Pole and return.

"In turning south, the pilot made a serious navigational error which carried him over Soviet territory. He immediately made an emergency call on an open radio for navigational assistance and was guided back to his home base by the most direct route.

"I regret this incident and will see to it that every precaution is taken to prevent recurrence."

Khrushchev had told Kennedy that in view of the current tensions, such incidents "could lead to a fatal step."

Kennedy said shortly after taking office that "flights of American aircraft penetrating the air space of the Soviet Union have been suspended since May, 1960. I have ordered that they not be resumed."

Khrushchev told Kennedy the U.S. flight over Russia took place on Oct. 28 and said "one asks, Mr. President, how should we regard this? What is it? A provocation?

"Your aircraft violates our frontier and that at times as anxious as those we are now experiencing, when everything has been placed in a state of fighting readiness," Khrushchev said.

De Gaulle Wins, But Narrowly

PARIS (AP) — France waited anxiously today to see if President Charles deGaulle considered his referendum victory decisive enough for him to stay on as president. The outlook was that he would and that the nation would continue in a period of bitter political strife.

The country's voters yesterday approved de Gaulle's proposed constitutional amendment providing for direct election of future presidents, an issue which de Gaulle turned into a real test of strength with the majority of the nation's politicians.

He deliberately tied his political life to a solid majority, saying he would resign if the approval was "weak, mediocre or doubtful."

De Gaulee won, but the margin was less than his followers expected, and only a minority of the French electorate approved his proposal.

Complete official returns from metropolitan France, including Corsica, were:

"Yes" — 12,810,840, 61.7 per cent of valid ballots.

"N" — 7,939,399, 38.26 per cent of valid ballots.

The "yes" votes represented only 46.3 per cent of the registered voters. Fully a fourth of the electorate abstained, by staying at home although some cast blanks or spoiled their ballots. De Gaulle's backing on previous referendums had never been less than 56 per cent of all the voters.

Contract Dispute

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The five-month dispute over a new union contract at Aerojet-General Corp, missile plant in Sacramento and Azusa took a new twist yesterday.

In Azusa, the IAM voted by a 7-1 ratio to accept it.

Overall, the vote was heavily against it since Sacramento has 6,500 members and Tzusa only 2,000.

Cameras Still Watch Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. reconnaissance planes focused their sensitive cameras on Cuba today in search of evidence that the Russians are starting to dismantle their missile bases there.

The American quarantine fleet remained on guard in the Atlantic. But no Soviet ships were reported within two or three days' steaming time of the U.S. quarantine line thrown up nearly a week ago.

There was an almost tangible easing of the tension that gripped the nation during the past week of crisis.

There was no accompanying reversal of the military preparations which had been mounting toward an indicating bombing strike or invasion of Cuba.

Informed officials said they don't expect to see any substantial reduction in those land, sea and air preparations at least until this country is convinced the missile threat from Cuba is removed.

Even after that it is almost certain that aerial surveillance will be continued over Cuba to make sure there is no sneak try at setting up ballistic missiles pointed toward the United States.

Authorities said the 14,000 Air Force Reservists who went on active duty Saturday probably will be kept in service for the time being.

The Pentagon announcement Saturday night that the Reservists were being called up to man troop-carrying planes hinted very strongly at a possible invasion.

Officials believe the significance of this pointed announcement—together with a declaration that appropriate measures will be taken to insure that U.S. reconnaissance aircraft are protected — was not lost on the Kremlin.

They said the United States was speaking to Soviet Premier Khrushchev through these announcements, and they called the studied U.S. military build-up "a most dramatic application of military force to achieve diplomatic ends."

VENEZUELA OIL FIELD WRECKED

U.S. Warns Of Sabotage Campaign

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — U.S. diplomats are alerting Latin-American governments against an expected continent-wide Castro sabotage campaign believed launched yesterday with bombings that knocked out one-sixth of Venezuela's oil production.

Authoritative sources in Washington said Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro gave the signal for general terrorist action in Latin America with the American-operated oil fields in Venezuela a prime target. Saboteurs dynamited four power stations of the Creole Petroleum Corp. at Lake Maracaibo, which holds beneath its waters one of the world's richest oil stores. The lake, roughly 75 miles wide and 130 miles long, lies about 300 miles west of Caracas.

The bombers struck shortly after midnight Saturday a few hours after President Romulo Betancourt ordered mobilzation of the armed forces to counter what he called the threat to Venezuela of "the reservoir of Soviet nuclear rockets in Cuba."

U.S. officials were reported reminding Latin Americans that while a settlement may now be in sight to dismantle the Soviet missile sites, the long-range problem of dealing with Castro in this hemisphere will remain.

Venezuela blamed the oil field bombing on "Communists." Two suspects were hauled out of the debris-strewn waters of Lake Maracaibo after the blasts destroyed transformer stations of Creole Petrolem, a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey.

Police said one of the blasts apparently blew up the saboteurs' boat, killing one of the bombers. One of the suspects was so badly burned he was blinded.

A Creole spokesman said the entire Tijuana oil field in the lake was rendered inoperable. He estimated it would take about a month to get the field back to its daily production of 525,000 barrels. Other sources said it might take as long as three months.

Cuba Crisis Draws Large Number Of Worshippers To U.S. Churches

By LOUIS CASSELS
U.P. International

Prayers for peace were offered at Protestant and Roman Catholic services across the land. Many pastors appealed in their sermons for national restraint, and voiced hope that dismantling of Soviet missile bases could be achieved by negotiation rather than military action.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's letter to President John F. Kennedy, offering to dismantle the bases, was made public while millions of Americans were attending or en route to church.

In Atlanta, Ga., the Rev. Alfred Hardmman read the news bulletin from the pulpit of St. Philips Episcopal Church.

"This is indeed a day of joy, a day of rejoicing and thanks to almighty God," he said.

A spokesman for St. Mary's of the Mount Catholic Church in Pittsburgh said the number of confessions had tripled in recent days.

The Roman Catholic bishops of the United States asked their parishes to observe Sunday, the feast of Christ the king, as "a day of prayer to beseech God's blessing on our president and government."

"We urge our Catholic people to implore divine providence to grant that peace with freedom and justice be preserved," said the statement sent from Rome by the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

In New York, a capacity crowd of about 1,800 persons, 200 more than average, filled Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church. The pastor, Dr. Bryant M. Kirkland, said great "intensity of feeling" was evident in the congregation's participation in hymns and prayers.

From the pulpit of Washington National Cathedral, the Rev. Francis B. Sayre Jr. read a joint statement from seven of the nation's leading Protestant theologians, including Reinhold Niebuhr and Paul Tillich.

They commended Kennedy's actions in the Cuban crisis to date as "restrained, courageous and necessary under the circumstances involved." But they said Americans had a moral obligation to explore "every possible avenue" for peaceful solutions before resorting to military force in this or any similar future crisis.

Meredith Sees Taboo On Discussion

JACKSON (UPI) — Negro James Meredith says any talk of his admittance to the University of Mississippi apparently has been declared taboo in the state's Negro school system.

Meredith said in a telephone interview from Oxford yesterday, he had received thousands of letters from students in other states but not more than a handful from Mississippi.

"Either students in Mississippi are being pressured, or they are against my enrolment, or they are insensitive to the situation," he told United Press International. "The first reason seems the most likely."

"I haven't even received a single word from my old school, Jackson State College," Meredith added.

Horst, a radio and television repairman for Mac Department Store at 555 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, said a car belonging to his employer was broken into while it was parked outside his home Saturday night.

FIRE CAUSES BUILDING TO FALL

Baltimore firemen take cover from the intense heat of a 12-alarm blaze behind a tractor-trailer truck last night. Seconds before this picture was taken the side wall of the building in downtown Baltimore collapsed, sending flames 150 feet in the air and forcing firemen back. Four hundred men and 30 pieces of apparatus battled the fire before it was brought under control. (AP Wirephoto)

Exec Who Ran Out On Firm Returns

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fugitive financier Edward M. Gilbert, who fled the country after telling his board of directors he had withdrawn nearly two million dollars from his firm without authorization, returned voluntarily from his Brazilian sanctuary today.

Gilbert was met at International Airport by two U.S. marshals who took him into custody to face charges in connection with manipulators of the funds belonging to the E. L. Bruce Co., a hardwood flooring manufacturer, of which he was president.

Gilbert's lawyer, Arnold Bauman, who also met the balding, 38-year-old financier, said he planned to have his client plead innocent at his arraignment later today.

"We'll have to see what happans in court," Bauman said.

Bauman said Gilbert left New York in a "state of shock," and returned because "he wishes to do the best he can to untangle his snarled affairs."

"He wants to make restitution and to do his level best to see that nobody has been hurt by his actions," Bauman said.

Gilbert, asked how he felt about being back in the United States, said, "I'll answer that question in a few minutes," apparently referring to what happens during his arraignment.

Gilbert's return reduced to three the number of American financial "wizards" who remain in Brazil to escape prosecution for illegal dealings. Brazil has no extradition treaty with the United States.

Expanding Schools Called Reason For Higher Marin County Taxes

Rapidly expanding schools are the major reason for increases in Marin property taxes, County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel stated in a comparison of Marin taxes with taxes in other counties.

Commenting on statistics selected by the California Taxpayers' Assn., Broemmel said that while the tax per capita in Marin is lower than that of other Bay Area counties, the Marin homeowner bears a greater share of taxes because of so little commerce and industry.

During the past fiscal year, Marin's tax per capita was $148, and the county was 22nd from the county with the highest tax per capita.

San Francisco, Contra Costa, San Mateo and Santa Clara counties were all higher than Marin. The statewide average was $149.

But during the past five years, Marin's school tax levies increased 145 per cent, third highest increase in the state, with Santa Clara and Orange counties only slightly higher.

During the same five-year period, Marin's basic county tax (excluding schools, cities and special districts) increased 52 per cent.

Sausalito Board To Discuss Size Of School Classes

Sausalito School District trustees will hold a special board meeting at 8 p.m. today in the district office to discuss equalizing size of fourth grade classes in the district.

The question was discussed a week ago and a decision postponed as to whether a class should be moved from Bayside School, where three fourth grade classes are small, to Richardson Bay, where two classes are large. Counter-suggestions were made that some fourth graders be moved from Richardson Bay to Bayside or that all fourth graders be moved to Bayside.

Reed Trustees Due Tam Report Discussion

At a special meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Reed School, the Reed Union School District trustees will discuss recommendations to be made to the Augmented County Study Committee for the Tamalpais Union High School District at its meeting on Nov. 28. A committee will also be appointed to study merit pay for teachers.

Following the meeting an executive session will be held to discuss employment of personnel.

6,000 Children Plan Marin UNICEF March

More than 6,000 Marin children are expected to participate Wednesday in the annual UNICEF Trick or Treat campaign by collecting small change for the United Nations Children's Fund.

Last year the UNICEF drive netted $3,647.83 in the county to provide milk and medicine for needy children in other countries.

Nationwide about three million children gathered more than two million dollars for assistance in 107 countries.

Children collecting coins will be supervised by adults. In Sleepy Hollow, neighborhood mothers will dress as witches to accompany the youngsters.

Mrs. Dore Schwab of Winding Way, Ross, will direct this year's drive for the Marin chapter of the American Association for United Nations. Assisting are 14 area chairmen.

Besides the Hallowe'en doorbell-ringing campaign, there will be a benefit dance Saturday by the YMCA inter-club council to raise additional funds for UNICEF. Sir Francis Drake Hi-Y and Tri-Y clubs will donate all food and decorations, and the Rex Larson Combo will contribute music.

Bootblack Faces Driving Charge

A San Rafael bootblack was booked in Marin County Jail by San Rafael police yesterday on a drunk driving charge after his car pushed a 40-pound rock and damaged a porch on Rafael Drive.

Police said a car driven by Frank Smith, 66, of Vallejo, who shines shoes at a Fourth Street barber shop, damaged the front porch of George W. Presson at 15 Rafael Drive and tore up shrubbery belonging to Walter E. Zurcher at 14 Rafael Drive.

Presson told police he heard a crash at 12:11 a.m. and dashed out to see Smith trying to back away from his porch by driving forward. The rock, beside the road, was pushed 24 feet, police said.

Kuchel Sees No Politics In Crisis

The solidarity of the people of the United States and of the western hemisphere in the Cuban crisis has had "a profound effect on the peoples of the free world and of the Soviet leaders," Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel told a Mill Valley audience today.

Kuch, Republican incumbent seeking reelection, said he was "exceedingly distressed" that "anyone could accuse the president of the United States of "politics" in relation to the Cuban decision.

Kuchel was flown back to Washington in an Air Force jet a week ago to confer with the president and other leaders in the crisis.

He told about 50 people in the Mill Valley Tennis Clubhouse that the president's action was taken "because the safety of the United States was endangered."

The senator made a quick tour through Marin County this morning. He visited briefly in the county courthouse in San Rafael before attending the Mill Valley meeting. He was introduced by Robert Acott, his northern California campaign manager.

Kuchel predicted that five million dollars would be appropriated for purchase of the first portion of Point Reyes Seashore "within 30 days after the next congress convenes." He said the special appropriation measure which he introduced in the closing days of the last session died when house leaders "junked the whole appropriations bill."

Discussing other problems, Kuchel, who has served 10 years in the senate, said:

"We must face current problems as they are, like the fact that the common market actually exists."

Red China cannot be admitted to the United Nations because it is not a peace-loving country, he declared.

We can make no agreements with the Soviet Union which are not "fool-proof," he asserted, pointing to Russia's insistence right up to Saturday that it had placed no offensive weapons in Cuba.

accompany U Thant to Havana tomorrow to meet with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro and devise methods of confirming that the Soviets offensive weapons are removed.

Khrushchev's pledge was hailed in Western capitals as a stunning victory for the United States.

Informed sources said there were no deals or secret understandings involved with the Soviet leader's offer to dismantle the Cuban bases and return their rockets to the Soviet Union. The only price he asked was a guarantee, which Kennedy gave, that the United States would not invade Cuba.

'GRIM WEAPONS'

American diplomats focused on working out arrangements for U.N. inspection of the withdrawal from Cuba of the "grim weapons" which Khrushchev, under threat of forceful U.S. action, dramatically announced he would ship back to the Soviet Union.

Militarily, the U.S. Navy marked time while Soviet ships once headed for Cuba stayed from two to three days' sailing time away. The State Department announced that while the quarantine against offensive weapons shipments to Cuba continues, it expects no interceptions by the U.S. blockaders.

Washington authorities said they did not know at the moment whether the building of Soviet missile sites in Cuba—reported proceeding at a rapid pace Saturday—had stopped. They figured speedy dispatch of a U.N. team to Cuba would help check that.

Khrushchev agreed to defuse the missile bases in a letter to Kennedy made public yesterday morning in Moscow. The Soviet leader said "the interests of peace" guided his decision.

Obviously eager to match his adversary's conciliatory tone, Kennedy issued a public statement praising Khrushchev's decision as statesmanlike and as "an important and constructive contribution to peace." In a quick reply to the premier, Kennedy said Khrushchev had made possible "a step back from danger."

part of the Air Force reserve technician program. They agreed, "we were groomed for going back in. The only difference is the change from civilian to military pay."

Buck, a veteran of the Korean War, said, "If it's gotta be done, it's gotta be done." Bator agreed.

For A/2c Douglas Webber of 930 West California Avenue, Homestead Valley, it was a little different. Webber, who heard the news of the recall on the radio at 8 a.m., purchased the Shell Service Station at 77 West Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, nine months ago.

"I have no idea what will happen to the service station," he said.

A/1c William Gaffney of 601 Main Street, Sausalito, commented, "I think I can catch up on my job when I get out although I will be a couple of steps behind." Gaffney is a draftsman for a San Francisco civil engineering firm.

A/1c Lloyd Tunik of 175 Oak Drive, San Rafael, an attorney, said simply, "It's just part of our obligation."

AIRMAN ROBERT D. CARROW

Candidate Carrow Puts On His Uniform

Robert D. Carrow, Democratic candidate for State Assembly, processed the first morning report of the newly active 349th Troop Carrier Wing today as an airman second class in the wing's statistical department.

Carrow was among 1,200 Air Force reservists called to active duty yesterday at Hamilton Air Force Base.

On active duty, subject to shipping out any time, Carrow will miss scheduled campaign appearances in his effort to unseat Republican William T. Bagley on Nov. 6 as assemblyman from the Seventh District (Marin and Sonoma counties).

"I have no idea if I can get off the base for campaign speeches," the Novato attorney said today. "I am in the reserve and fulfilling my obligation.

Carrow's campaign manager, Caryl Conner, said members of Democratic organizations would speak for Carrow at scheduled campaign appearances he is unable to make. First of these will be at the Sausalito Women's Club at 8 p.m. today, where Carrow was to share the platform with Bagley.

The Democratic organization already is without a candidate for Congress, due to the plane crash death of incumbent Clem Miller on Oct. 7.

Formal Charge Is Filed Against Man For Assault

A formal charge of forcible rape was filed today against John Henry Bopp Jr., 42, of 67 Spruce Road, Fairfax, suspected of attacking an 85-year-old woman in her Kentfeild home Saturday morning.

Bopp, a sign painter, was held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $10,500 bail. He was scheduled to be arraigned in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

The victim, in near-hysteria, told investigators that a man had climbed in through a window, threatened to kill her if she screamed, and assaulted her.

Sheriff's deputies arrested Bopp, who was walking along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, a short time after the attack. Inspector Bowen Bridges and Sgt. Edward Levine said Bopp denied the attack.

Clothing Pioneer Block Dies

Charles A. Block, who for many years was president of L. and H. Block Co., pioneer San Francisco men's clothing manufacturers, died unexpectedly yesterday in his Corte Madera home, apparently of a heart attack. He was 67.

Block appeared in good health before collapsing about 10:30 a.m. A doctor, called at once, pronounced him dead.

He was a son of Harry Block and nephew of Leo Block, brothers who founded the clothing firm in San Francisco in 1863 to manfacture men's work clothes. In the 1920s, it began production of "Block-Bilt" leather jackets, which became nationally famous, and later expanded to make many types of men's sports wear.

During World War II, the firm made most of the leather flight jackets for the Navy's air arm.

In 1955, H. and L. Block Co. was sold to Day Trouser Co. of Spokane, Wash. Block then organized the firm of Charles Block and Associates in San Francisco as manufacturers' representatives in the men's clothing field. He headed that firm until his death.

He was a native of San Francisco and attended University of California.

He is survived by his widow, Bertha M., at the home at 6 Chickasaw Place, Corte Madera; a son, Richard C. Block of Oakland, manager of the Kaiser Broadcasting division of Kaiser Industries, and a daugther, Mrs. Florence Nestel of San Francisco.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Halsted and Co., San Francisco. Burial will be in Home of Peace Cemetery, Colma.

Probation Given In Check Case

Michael Dennis Maloney, 20, who took more than $2,700 in checks and cash from Lucky Store in Fairfax where he worked, drew two years probation and a suspended jail term today.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court sentenced the young father for grand theft.

Fairfax police arrested Maloney last month. Officers found about $1,100 in cash at Maloney's home, 78 Wreden Avenue, Fairfax. Checks, totaling $1,600, were found in an El Cerrito mail box.

Maloney has a six-month jail term hanging over his head if he violates probation.

Coat Stolen

Theft of a cashmere coat and portable radio, valued at $79.95 and $29 respectively, was reported to San Rafael police today by Rose Scotto of 2309 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael. She said the items were stolen out of her unlocked car in the Montecito Shopping Center parking lot between 8 and 8:30 p.m. Thursday.

EARLY ENTRANTS IN HALLOWEEN PARADE

Kennie Saul (left) and brother Charles try to hitch a ride on broomstick with witch Irene Vandenbos and hobo Jode Anderson at San Rafael's Albert Park. The four, all West End School pupils, showed up for a preview of community Halloween parade to be held at the park at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, sponsored by San Rafael Recreation Department. Prizes of children's games will be given for winners in various costume categories: prettiest, ugliest, funniest, most original, etc. Costume winners will then compete for more prizes in contests including balloon bursting, threading the needle, marshmallow eating, and cracker eating while whistling, said Dennis Sullivan of recreation department. Event is open to all children in San Rafael Elementary District. (Independent-Journal photo)

Salesmanship Not Needed in Russia

didn't see anything there that would have appealed to my customers. Their soft goods, basically, weren't as good as ours nor as reasonably produced. You can't expect much trade on that basis.

"The only thing we have exported to Russia so far in any degree of quantity is jazz. Every hotel we stopped in had a dining room with an orchestra. At least 80 per cent of the music was American jazz. The only time I heard a song sung in English was in a Kiev hotel. It was 'When the Saints Go Marching In.'"

Mayer said he was pleased that everyone in the Marin group attended church services of some sort while in Russia.

"In Leningrad, a city of two and one-half million, there are about 20 'functioning' places of worship," he said. "Fourteen are Russian Orthodox. There are one Moslem mosque, one Baptist and one Catholic church, and one Jewish synagogue.

"There are approximately 200,000 Jews in Leningrad. Obviously 200,000 Jews can't worship in one synagogue. This is part and parcel of the destruction of religion in Russia.

"We also visited the atheist museum in Leningrad, dedicated and devoted to knocking of all religions. It is located in sight of a Russian Orthodox church to show the masses that religion is an opiate and nothing more."

Other impressions Mayer capsulized were:

"We were extremely cordially received; people on the street were not too inclined to talk to us; we never saw an unfriendly act the whole time we were there.

"The average worker's wage is around $100 a month but he gets an incentive bonus; vodka is from $4 to $5 a fifth.

"I don't remember a smile on any Russian's face.

"I would love to have every American make a trip to Russia to appreciate his own country more and because the more they see us and we see them, the better off the world is going to be.

DENSE FOG HAMPERS ALL TRAFFIC

Marin County's commuter automobile traffic crept along through dense fog early today while aircraft flew only on instruments.

"Instrument conditions developed at Hamilton Air Force Base at 7:18 o'cloc last night and continued past 10 a.m. today when ceiling was 200 feet and visibility one-eighth of a mile but the fog began to break up fast by 10:30 a.m. No interruption in operations resulted as all planes could operate on instruments.

The county airport north of Novato reported a "sock-in" with planes staying on the ground until the mid-morning fog breakup started.

The Commodore seaplane base had no flights scheduled and flying school patrons decided to stay away although the school reported local pattern flights possible soon after 10 a.m.

Sewage Monitor End Is Asked

A Nov. 15 session of the Bay Region Water Pollution Control Board in Oakland will consider Marin County's request that costly monitoring programs for the San Rafael Meadows and Venetia Harbor Sewer Maintenance Districts be suspended, the control board announced today.

The monitoring process now serves no useful purpose, according to the county health department, but to continue it according to requirements laid down by the control board would mean considerable cost and addition of personnel.

It is conceded that neither district is presently in position to handle sewer discharge in accordance with present control board standards and both are expected to arrange annexation to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District in accordance with board recommendations.

Alaska Becoming Important In Oil

NEW YORK (UPI)—Alaska is rapidly becoming an important oil producing state, according to Oil Facts magazine.

The first successful well was completed in September, 1957, and by 1961 the state ranked 19th among the 31 American States producing oil.

Tobacco Study Ordered By U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government has launched a study to find out how big a health threat tobacco is to the 70 to 100 million Americans who smoke.

Surgeon General Luther L. Terry, in naming the 10 medical experts to the special new advisory committee, said its first task will be to investigate the "nature and magnitude of the health hazard" of tobacco.

Five years ago, Terry's predecessor, Leroy E. Burney, said the weight of medical evidence "is increasingly pointing in one direction: that excessive smoking is one of the causitive factors in lung cancer."

Two years later, in 1959, Burney declared that the individual person's risk of lung cancer could best be reduced by the elimination of smoking.

After completing the first phase of the study, the committee or a successor panel will try to decide what, if anything, the government should do about smoking.

The second portion of the study could mean major political, economic and social problems for large segments of the American population.

In addition to the fact that between 70 and 100 million Americans now are using tobacco, there are these other aspects:

The tobacco industry has an estimated annual income of more than 7.5 billion dollars and pays about three billion dollars a year in state and federal taxes.

17 million Americans and the economies of six states could be drastically affected by any negative government decision about tobacco.

Not every expert is convinced smoking is dangerous. The Tobacco Institute recently said a warning statement by the Cancer Society "does not alter the fact that medical science does not know the cause of lung cancer."

Named to the new committee by Terry this weekend were: Louis F. Fieser, Harvard University; Dr. Emmanel Farber, University of Pittsburgh; Dr. Maurice H. Seevers, University of Michigan; Dr. Leonard M. Schuman, University of Minnesota; Dr. Charles Lemaistre, Southwestern Medical College; Dr. Jacob Furth, Francis Delafield Hospital; Dr. Walter J. Burdette, University of Utah; Dr. John B. Hickman, University of Indiana; William G. Cochran, Harvard University and Dr. Stanhope Bayne-Jones, Yale.

Budget Bureau Gets Marin Water Items

Four items of Marin County interest appeared in the water resources development program for the fiscal year 1963-64 just presented to the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with instructions of the late Rep. Clem Miller.

Before Miller's death Oct. 7 he prepared a six million dollar federal investment plan for flood control, water supply, navigation and recreation development in the seven counties of the First Congressional District.

His recommendations were to be presented by his staff to the Budget Bureau after presidential signature of this year's Public Works Appropriation Bill which occurred last Thursday. It included three Marin items two of which are to be carried farther if the new recommendations are followed.

A $15,000 item would apply to the Richardson Bay Basin, completing flood control survey of Coyote Creek and Arroyo Corte Madera del Presidio near Mill Valley. This year's bill had a $10,000 item to begin the flood control survey.

Corte Madera Creek would be subject to of $150,000 appropriations to begin the actual design work on the newly authorized 5.5 - million-dollar flood control project.

Novato Creek flood control survey would be started with a $35,000 appropriation.

Important to the future of North Marin's water supply, the Dry Creek-Warm Springs Dam in Sonoma County would be subject of a $350,000 appropriation to advance the design of the newly authorized 4.5 - million - dollar reservoir project. This year $100,000 went to start design of the Dry Creek Dam.

Cooperative Corner For This Campaigner

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP) — In Wyoming, one of the most effective ways to campaign for political office is to walk up and down Main Street of small communities and shake hands with voters.

BIG BANNER IS GIVEN A 'REPRIEVE'

An illegal banner advertising the Corte Madera Firemen's Ball was granted a "reprieve" today until next week.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst said he thought an order to remove the 15-foot banner across Tamalpais Drive should be taken up by the town council at its meeting next Monday night. Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow, who had ordered that it be taken down today, agreed.

Next Monday is Nov. 5. The Firemen's Ball is on Nov. 10.

Building Inspector William McBride had ordered the banner removed as in violation of the town's new zoning ordinance.

Zoning Of Parcel On Plans Agenda

Public hearing will be held by the Marin County Planning Commission next Monday morning on a petition by I. N. and Betty Tucker for rezoning a property on Reed Street, just south of the Mill Valley City limits, to administrative-professional.

The property is near Miller Avenue and abuts a parcel facing on Evergreen Avenue which is already administrative-professional. The present zoning is one-family residential.

This will be the eighth item on an agenda starting at 9 a.m. at 1711 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

The Twain Met In Altercation

ADA, Okla. (AP)—Ada police said cross-complaints were filed in city court by Elmer West and A. R. East, both of Ada, following an altercation when they met on Main Street.

West said East assaulted him with his automobile and also cut his ear with a knife. East said West hit him in the head.

Each charged the other with assault and battery.

Ex-Convict Arraigned On Bad Check Charge

Ex-convict Edmund James Whalen, 55, formerly of San Rafael was arraigned Friday in Santa Rosa Municipal Court on a grand theft charge for allegedly cashing an unauthorized $2,600 check on the apple growers' union of which he was manager.

Whalen, who already was on parole from similar offenses, was returned to Santa Rosa on Thursday from Hawthorne, Nev., where he was apprehended. Sheriff's deputies in Santa Rosa said Whalen disappeared over a week ago, made a trip to Southern California, and bought a car in Bishop.

Whalen is charged with cashing a check on the Sebastopol Growers Union, of which he had been fresh fruit department manager for two years since his parole from prison.

The arraignment of Whalen was continued to allow him time to confer with the public defender of Sonoma County. Whalen told the court he had no funds with which to employ counsel. Meanwhile he was in jail with bail set at $10,500.

Gets Recognition After Retirement

TORONTO, Canada (UPI)—A Canadian firm has given a former employee a $2,000 suggestion award five years after his retirement.

The award was presented recently to 70-year-old Van H. Smith by Cyanamid of Canada Limited, a subsidiary of American Cyanamid Company.

Smith's suggestion was that ammonium nitrate prills be used instead of conventional explosives at the company's limestone quarry at Beachville, Ontario. Several years' experimentation were necessary to prove out the idea and put it into use at the quarry.

Keeps In Harness —No Automation

ENGLISHTOWN, N.J. (AP)—Ira Hulsart hasn't much time for machines.

Cars may rule the highways, but there'll always be horses, he says. And he's the man to provide the harnesses.

A harness maker for 60 years, Hulsart runs his one-room shop without a single machine.

His formula for avoiding machine-age ills: "I just like to work good and hard, and when I get tired I sit down."

In a recent poll of 10 per cent of the student body, Republican Richard M. Nixon was favored for governor. The poll, taken by the school newspaper, the Redwood Bark, showed 61 per cent favoring Nixon, 29 per cent for Democrat Edmund G. Brown, and 10 per cent undecided.

In the mock election, students will cast their votes for candidates for governor, attorney general, U.S. senator, U.S. congressman, state superintendent of schools, and state assemblyman.

State propositions on the ballot will be 1A, the state building bond proposal; 23, Senate reapportionment, and 24, the Francis Amendment.

16th Annual Fall Flower Fete Draws Appreciative Crowds

The 16th annual Fall Flower Festival Saturday and yesterday at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross, drew appreciative crowds to admire the arrangements, the hundreds of cut and growing chrysanthemums and other autumn blooms.

Quantities of home-grown plants were also sold at the show sponsored by the Garden Society of Marin to benefit the center. The event was designed by Herman E. Hein, Mill Valley landscape architect and Art and Garden Center board member, to express the "Indian Summer" theme.

Bus Service Is Running Smoothly

San Rafael's new bus service was running smoothly this morning in its first day of operation on a paid fare basis, said Robert L. Peterson of Marin Transit Authority.

The buses began running at 7 a.m. on hourly schedules over four routes, and Peterson said another route will be added when the new county civic center opens.

Operating on a 60-day trial basis under authority from the City of San Rafael, the line is running four buses with a fifth one standing by as a spare.

Peterson said complete schedules will be published this week and made available on all buses.

Passengers may ride on any run for 30 cents cash or may buy eight tickets for $2, reducing the cost to 25 cents per ride. The company plans to inaugurate a 20-cent student fare shortly.

Petersen said a passenger may get on a bus at Fourth and Court streets and ride to any stop in the system within 40 minutes.

Prize Gelding Hit By Car, Has To Be Destroyed

Deputy Sheriff R. H. Tschirgi said the horse's right leg was broken. On the advice of a veterinarian, the horse was put out of its misery.

Home Burns In Drill

Muscat Arrested —He Tasted Wine

A man named Muscat was booked in Marin County Jail last night on suspicion of drunkenness after spending some time at a wine tasting store in Tiburon.

George Frank Elmendorf, who runs the wine tasting store at 72 Main Street, told Deputy Sheriff James L. Current the man had fallen down in the store, then had gone to the parking lot to enter his car.

3 San Rafael Nurses Awarded Scholarships

Mrs. Margaret Nichols, Mrs. June Perkins and Mrs. Sydney Moore, nurses on the staff of San Rafael General Hospital, have been awarded scholarships to a series of three seminars in nursing of cancer patients, according to John H. Prescott, hospital administrator.

The seminars will be held at the San Francisco Medical Center under sponsorship of the University of California School of Nursing. Two units of university credit will be awarded on completion of the seminars and an assigned project.

Garety Asks For Murder Verdict

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety today asked a jury of nine women and three men to bring in a first-degree murder verdict against Claude Hilton Bradley, 22, accused of strangling a San Rafael mother last June 3.

The district attorney charged that Bradley strangled Mrs. Carole Leona Frederick during an attempt to commit rape. Death which occurs during the commission of a felony is murder in the first degree.

The prosecution called San Rafael psychiatrist Dr. John Burke as final witness this morning. Dr. Burke, who examined Bradley at the time of the arrest, said he found no mental abnormality that would have prevented Bradley from being able to form an intent. The doctor found Bradley unstable but not psychotic.

Then, the district attorney opened his final arguments. He was to be followed this afternoon by defense attorney Berwyn A. Rice's final argument. Garety then will have the closing argument.

Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. indicated the case should go to the jury for deliberations tomorrow morning.

Tam Trustees To Hear Protests Against Steadman Talk At School

Tamalpais High School District trustees will hear a letter at next Monday's board meeting from 18 parents who objected to discussions of pacifist movements by nuclear test protestant Dr. Monte G. Steadman Jr. in Redwood High School classrooms.

The letter states the Corte Madera doctor, who spoke to social studies classes Oct. 10, "came into the school to propagandize." Signers of the letters also complained that Steadman, who sailed Everyman II in protest of nuclear bomb testing, distributed pamphlets and sold "peace buttons" to students.

Redwood High Principal Donald Kreps said today there was "nothing wrong" with Steadman's presence in the school.

"He did not propagandize," said Kreps, "and I feel that his being invited to discuss current events was an example of good teaching."

Kreps said each social studies class at the school spends one day a week on current events, and students of Robert Wylie's classes "expressed an interest" in non-violence in Mississippi, ban-the-bomb movements, and peace marches. One student suggested Steadman, a Corte Madera resident, might speak to the classes.

"He spoke to three of Mr. Wylie's classes," Kreps said. "He discussed non-violence from Gandhi to Martin Luther King. He didn't talk specifically about the Everyman. It was very informative, and the students asked many questions.

"He didn't pass out any literature and did not sell buttons. I understand one student asked him after class for some Everyman buttons, which he gave her. The school would not condone his selling anything. But students around here are wearing all sorts of buttons, including Nixon and Brown buttons."

(Steadman said students later sold about 20 buttons between classes. He said they were all gone within a half hour.)

The letter was signed by Robert M. Eschen Jr. of 155 Corte Elena, Greenbrae; Mrs. B. G. Kessler, 2 Birch Avenue, Corte Madera; and N. B. Stevenson, 18 Tamal Vista Lane, Kentfield. Attached were 15 names of other resident of Corte Madera, Larkspur, Greenbrae and Kentfield who said they "concurred" with the letter.

Signatures included names of husbands and wives and actually represented about 11 different families.

Marin County Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis said six parents called him last week to protest Steadman's talks at Redwood but he referred the calls to the Tamalpais High School District office. He said parents invited him to attend a protest meeting, but he declined.

Wrong Car Reported Hitting Another

A car driven by F. A. Blankenship, 38, of 137 Hillside Drive, Fairfax, was struck in the rear by a car driven by Joseph A. Moyle, 48, of 24 Hammondale Court, San Rafael, in a Friday morning accident on Center Boulevard, according to San nAselmo police.

The Independent-Journal incorrectly reported Friday that Blankenship's car struck Moyle's. Both were traveling east on Center Boulevard near Saunders Avenue, San Anselmo.

Statement of Policy

Regarding Political Advertising

The Independent-Journal does not aggressively solicit or render copy writing service for political advertisements that are argumentative in content. Political advertisements are construed to be all assertions subject to public controversy, whether or not a public election is involved

Any political advertisement that is not clearly the personal appeal of the elective candidate or candidates involved must show the name of the sponsoring group together with the name or names of one or more persons officiating for such group.

Political advertisements must be submitted in complete and explicit form, ready for the printers, and clearly marked as to size and date of appearance. All political advertisements are payable in advance. Charges are figured at the regular rate.

Advertising deadlines are 4 p.m., two days preceding publication. As example: Tuesday advertisements must be in Friday at 4 p.m.; Monday advertisements must be in the preceding Friday morning. Any intervening holiday advances the deadline by a day.

If a proof is desired, advertisement must be submitted substantially in advance. Corrections, if any, must be ordered by 4 p.m., two working days preceding publication. Any changes from original copy will be charged for on basis of printing work involved.

On the last publication day before an election no political advertisement other than a simple statement of advocacy will be printed. As example: "Vote yes on proposition three," or "Elect John Jones," together with facts as to nature and time of election and, if desired, candidate's party affiliation or occupational identity.

Nearing a public election, no advertisement introducing a new controversial subject will be accepted to run later than the fourth publication day preceding the election. If any new statement or issue should be introduced on the fourth publication day preceding the election, attacking the opposing candidate or issue involved, the newspaper may, at its discretion, make allowance under this rule for the opposing side to answer.

Necessity for the newspaper's disinterested handling of political advertisements is readily apparent. These terms and conditions are adhered to in spirit of fairness to all.

Rams Save Waterfield's Job With Upset Victory

Bass Stars In Triumph Over 49ers

Coach Bob Waterfield of the Los Angeles Rams heaved a sign of relief today and finally agreed that life isn't so bad, after all.

Waterfield watched his boys knock over the San Francisco 49ers yesterday, 28-14, and the word is out that the effort probably saved the coach's job for him.

It was the first Ram victory this season. The club had lost six in a row in the National Football League, in addition to its last three exhibition games—a record of nine straight defeats.

Additionally, the team had lost 15 straight games on the road, going back to last season.

The difference yesterday was the defense — plus another great effort by halfback Dick Bass.

"Bass is a great halfback," said Waterfield, with pleasure. "I've always said he was. And he has been great in every game this year, even while we were losing."

Bass gained 95 yards from scrimmage, plus another 22 from the lone pass he threw. And he was voted the game ball after the battle.

But with all his fine work, if it hadn't been for the leakproof defense the game could have been lost. Led by linebackers Mike Henry, Bill Jobko and Jack Pardee, the defense stopped the 49ers time and again when they were down in Ram territory and needing only a foot or two for a first down.

PASS BACKFIRES

And a defensive plus can be added for Carver Shannon of the Ram secondary who picked off another of Brodie's tosses late in the game when San Francisco was threatening to tie up the score.

The Rams were supposed to be crippled, and tackle Frank Varrichione and center Art Hunter never did get into the game. But the others boys did just fine.

QUICK SCORES

The Rams struck for three touchdowns in the first 21 minutes of play — and then sat back and played it safe. They got one on that Crow runback; another on a 62-yard march in nine plays; and still another when they went 74 yards in just three plays. The big counters in this were a 34-yard run by Bass and a 36-yard touchdown pass from Pete Bratowski to end Duane Allen.

The other touchdown came in the closing seconds of the game and was more-or-less of a gift as San Francisco gave up the ball on fourth down in its own territory.

51,033 FANS

After the lightning strike for the first three touchdowns, San Francisco started to rethe half on a 14-yard pass from cover to the chant of 51,033 fans in Kezar Stadium. The 49ers got a counter just before Brodie to Jim Johnson. But that was the end as the defense bottled up all further efforts.

The loss was the fourth against three wins for San Francisco and put them down with the Rams, Minnesota and Baltimore as being out of the running for the Western Division crown.

Los Angeles plays Detroit next, while the 49ers come up against Baltimore. Both games are on the west coast.

49ER TOUCHDOWN— San Francisco's end Clyde Conner pulled in this pass from quarterback John Brodie in the second quarter for a 49er touchdown. It was not enough, however, as the Rams dropped the 49ers for the first L.A. victory this year in the National Football League.

49ers Deserve Boos

SIDELINES

By ED RANDOL

"My greatest team," Coach Red Hickey announced to the world earlier this year. Add that deathless quotation to the sports world's list of famous last words. Let's face it, those words will haunt the 49er headman for years, wherever he is coaching.

In losing to the previously winless Los Angeles Rams, 28 to 14, at Kezar yesterday, the San Franciscans sank to a new low in disorganized performance.

They lost not only the game but the vocal support of several thousand "loyal" fans. Again, the boos were not a pretty thing to hear.

It is easy to understand that the Niners were down after losing to the Green Bay Packers last week. The first half of the Rams game looked like what would have been the third half of the Green Bay game. It was that bad. A brief period of regrouping brought the 49ers within grasp of a tie before the bottom fell out and the Rams wrapped it up with another score.

FOR THREE weeks the 49ers have been living off an improbable ground game with passes in the background. And, as usual, the defense caught up. Against the weakest defense in the league, J. D. Smith and Bobby Gaiters went nowhere.

Most of the yards gained on the ground were made by John Brodie himself.

By the time Coach Hickey switched over to the passing game, it was too late. Brodie's arm was obviously rusty, and his receivers ran patterns that broke the Rams loose for interceptions.

This, in spite of Hickey's week-long plan to pass the Rams silly. The practice field is not the battlefield, and in this league you don't win by just showing up for the game. Ram backs ran through tacklers as if they were still feeling the thrusts of Jim Taylor, and the 49er defensive backfield was beaten time after time by Ram ends and flankers. It could have been worse.

MORE UPSETS occur in football than in any other sport, and the answer is usually psychological. The Los Angeles papers have unmerifully crucified the Rams during the past two weeks, and the barbs apparently reached their marks. Catching the 49ers as flat as last week's beer, however, was purely coincidental.

NOW IT'S the turn of Hickey and his men to take their biggest dose of tongue lashing. I feel that they have earned it. The lack of rapport between the players and the coach is an open secret, and is a situation that can never be tolerated for long. But these men are pros who are paid to put on a good show or suffer the blasts of the critics.

The rule of "caveat emptor," let the buyer beware, does not apply to pro football, and the San Francisco fans will be the first to let the 49ers know that they aren't buying.

Kid Shows Sailors A Lesson

By ALFRED MATSON

A 16-year-old sailor from Fresno gave a two-day seminar in the fine points of racing to his 25 senior opponents in the Sausalito Yacht Club's annual Mercury Invitational Race series.

This knowlegeable lad is Pat Bradley and he sailed off with two firsts and a fourth to gain possession of the trophy by a comfortable margin. Jim Enzenperger, the host club's top Mercury sailor took second place honors and the national champion, Doug Baird, up from Carmel, had to settle for third position with Dink Crawford, another Sausalito Stalwart, coming in fourth.

As Jim Enzenperger commented on conclusion of the regatta, "That youngster is a natural, he is going to be hard to beat. I'll have to give much of the credit to the sailmaker, Allen Mitchell; Bradley has as fine a suit of sails as I've ever seen."

The races on both Saturday and Sunday were run off under almost ideal conditions, an 8-10 mile breeze prevailed on both days and the fog had dissipated before the starts.

SMALL TURNOUT

Due undoubtedly to the war tensions and brevity of advance notice, the number of the participants in the Corinthians' initial midwinter regatta was somewhat smaller than past opening races. The wind at the start was sufficiently brisk to send the fore and afters winging along at a fast pace and for some of the smaller classes the fun was over within an hour.

The course for all was around Angel Island, once for the classes mentioned and twice for the larger craft. With a failing wind and adverse tide, some of the twice-rounders had quite a struggle in making it across the finish line.

The winners: Cruising Club, Turtle; Bird Class, Robin; Folkboat, Filur; Triton, Sarameis; Bear, Cub; Electra, Sonatine; T. I., Manana; J. C., Aloha; Fleur Bleue, Tackless; Maya, Ichi-Ban; Hurricane, Hanaloa; Knarr, Blue Peter; IC, Iorana; Div. 14, Vixen; Div. 15, Navis; Div. 9, Rendezvous.

RAM WALL — With only inches to go for a touchdown, 49er's J. D. Smith (24) couldn't find an opening in the L.A. Ram front wall as he tried to go over the mass of humanity but failed. The 49er defeat gave the San Francisco team a three-win, four loss record this year in the NFL.

Builders Slug Their Way To 10-7 Victory

The Billings-Hutchison Builders won their third game in a row in the Alameda Winter League yesterday by outslugging the Alameda Sporting Goods team 10-7.

Ron Cole hit a tremendous 425-foot home run and a single, Ron Blum hit a single and a double, Ernie Demattei had two singles and three RBI's and Don Lauters hit two singles to head the Builder slugging attack.

The pitching was split between starter Bob DeRosa and reliefer Buzz Wensloff. DeRosa hurled the first seven innings, striking out six and walking two.

Lema Finally Scores First Official Win

COSTA MESA (UPI)—The victory Tony Lema thought would never come his way materialized for the ex-Marine yesterday when he captured a sudden death playoff from Bob Rosburg to win the $22,500 Orange County Open.

Lema and Rosburg tied for first at the end of 72 holes with scores of 267 and it took three holes for the San Leandro, Calif., golfer to win with a birdie putt on the par three hole from 11 feet. The loss was heartbreaking to Rosburg whose putt went into the cup and bounced out.

"I've been on the pro golf tour for just about five years and I still was trying for my first official tournament win," Lema said today as he relaxed happily after the victory.

Lema had been the hottest golfer on the fall western swing, earning almost $20,000 in eight weeks during which he captured the Sahara Invitational which does not rank as an official PGA tournament. He was second in the Seattle and Bakersfield Opens and finished two strokes back of the winner in the Ontario Open.

"But I just couldn't get in that official win, which means so much to a player on the tour," he said, "and I had to fight an uphill battle all the way yesterday to finish in a tie and then win on the third extra hole."

The win gave Lema a total of 110.67 points and the lead on the fall tour for one of two starting spots in the Master's Tournament next year; it put him ninth on the Ryder Cup team standings and 18th on the official money list with earnings of $26,232. The Orange County win was worth $2,800 to Lema with Rosburg forced to settle for $900 less, the cost of missing the vital putt.

Lema went into the final round with a two stroke lead at 198 but two bogeys on the front nine proved costly as he shot a 69 while Rosburg had a 67 that was enough to put him in a tie for first and the playoff.

Terra Linda On Way To Warner Title

With only one more week remaining in the Marin Pop Warner Football League schedule, the Terra Linda Junior Trojans seem well on their way to a championship.

The Terra Linda junior gridders dropped the Novato Junior Hornets 13-6 yesterday in Novato. Pat Carney scored both Trojan TDs, the first on a 25-yard pass from Steve Congdon and the second on a 15-yard run.

In other Pop Warner action, the San Rafael Junior Bulldogs downed the Redwood Junior Giants in a thriller, 14-7, and the Mill Valley Junior Indians shutout the San Anselmo Junior Pirates 18-0.

For San Rafael, Bill Meredith scored both touchdowns, one on a 10-yard end sweep and the other on a spectacular run after receiving a pass from Bill Joost. The big pass play broke a 7-7 deadlock in the last minute of the game.

Redwood's TD was scored by Harvey Hand who scored from 10 yards out.

Drake Edges Marin Catholic Gridders In Thriller, 18-13

Kemp Scores Winning TD On Long Kickoff Return

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Mike, who stands 5-6 and weighs 135 pounds, was a big man in Saturday night's game against Marin Catholic which the Pirates won, 18-13. And he touched the ball only twice.

One of the two times was the kickoff following a Marin Catholic touchdown which put the Wildcats out in front 13-12 with only 1:15 left in the game. He first touched the ball when he hauled in the kickoff on his own 28-yard line and he didn't let it go until he had sprinted 72 yards to the Wildcat end zone for the winning touchdown.

SCORELESS FIRST HALF

The crowd of 2,700 had been much quieter during the first half of the battle in College of Marin stadium as the Pirates and Wildcats traded the ball back and forth with neither team scoring.

Drake was the first to hit the scoreboard on a big bomb from quarterback Hamish Tyler in the third quarter. The Drake quarterback flipped a long pass to halfback Tom Tanzi who pulled it in and pranced into the end zone completing a 52-yard play. The try for point failed as the Wildcat defense stopped fullback Tom Kobe from hitting the goal line.

Minutes later in the same period, the Pirates started a drive of nine plays, finishing on a 12-yard aerial from Tyler to end Bruce Thompson in the Marin Catholic end zone for the tally. The try for point failed, as Kemp tried a run and was knocked back.

66-YARD TD

Marin Catholic came back with a touchdown of its own in that same third quarter. Chuck Hardeman took a handoff and started around right end and was able to turn the corner, found daylight and rambled 66 yards for the TD. Ed Ghiringhelli threw a key block on the Pirate 15-yard line knocking out the last Drake man who had a shot at the fleet Hardeman.

In the fourth stanza, Marin Catholic demonstrated perfect ball control after an intercepted pass gave the Wildcats possession on their own 41. The Wildcats drove for 16 plays and five first downs to earn the next TD.

Lourdeaux got the call from the three and hit over right tackle for the touchdown, putting the Wildcats in front for the first time in the game, 13-12. The try for point failed but with only a minute and a few seconds remaining in the game, it looked like Marin Catholic had put the game away.

WILDCATS THREATEN

But then came Kemp's dazzling 72-yard kickoff return!

The Wildcats tried desperately for another touchdown and got as far as the Drake 13 with only seconds left, but quarterback Lad Wilsey tried a pass which was intercepted by Drake's Mike Crabtree, ending the threat.

Marin Catholic scored a touchdown in the second quarter only to have it called back because one of the Wildcat gridders didn't get off the field fast enough when he was replaced, leaving 12 men on the field. It was Lourdeaux around right end for 16 yards and an apparent TD, but the seldom-seen penalty erased what would have been the winning touchdown.

Cullenward Wins Lefty Golf Title

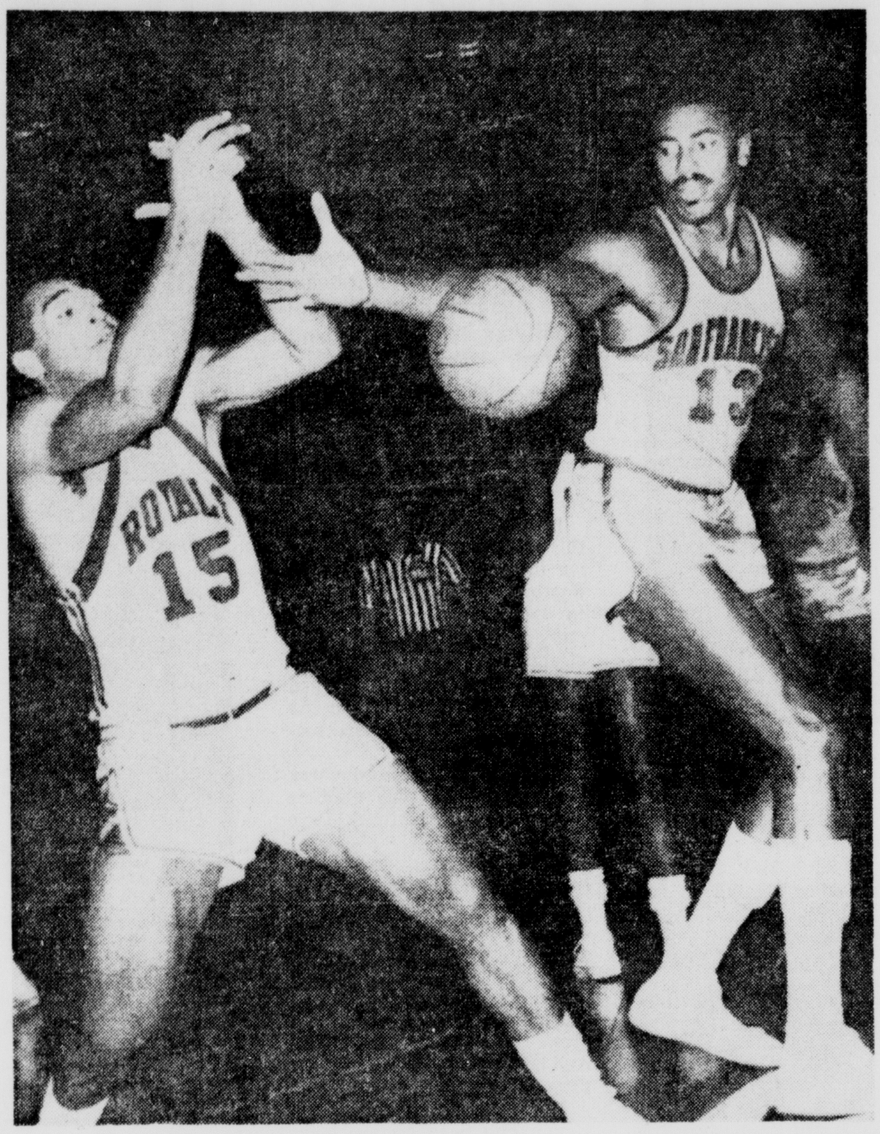
Second in the two-day event last weekend was 1959 champion Tom Pinckley of Visalia, who scored a 75-72—147. Alex Eichmann of San Francisco was third with a 78-74—152.

Pinckley also won the senior title. Bob Walker of Menlo Park won the handicap title in a sudden death playoff from Hal Hammerickson of El Cerrito. Both had a net 135 for the two days.



'WELL, SOMEONE TAKE IT'—Cincinnati's Wayne Embry and San Francisco's Wilt Chamberlain can't seem to get together on a loose ball in third quarter of an NBA game last night. Chamberlain scored 53 points, but the Royals won, 131-130, in the third straight overtime game the Warriors have played this season. (AP Wirephoto)

Cincinnati Edges S.F. 131-130

CINCINNATI (AP) — Shooting free throws is a fundamental part of basketball, but San Francisco Warriors superstar Wilt Chamberlain always has had trouble at the foul line.

The 7-foot 1-inch center scored 53 points at Cincinnati last night — but it was his inability to dunk two free throws in three tries that sent the Warriors down to a 131-130 overtime loss to the Royals.

Behind 56-49 at halftime, the San Franciscans pulled even in the last half, and Chamberlain sent the team into its third straight overtime contest by making a field goal with 17 seconds left.

Oscar Robertson and Wayne Embry then scored all of Cincinnati's 16 points in the extra period to give the Royals a 131-129 lead with less than 10 seconds left.

But Bub Reed fouled Chamberlain — giving the Stilt three tries to make two points. He hit the first, but missed the next two and that was enough to give the Royals the win and hand San Francisco its first loss of the year after three wins.

When the Warriors return to San Francisco tomorrow to face New York, they will be one-half game behind St. Louis (4-1) in second place in the National Basketball Assn's. Western Division.

Masked Goalie Paces Red Wings

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Goalie Terry Sawchuk's decision to wear a mask this season looms as one of the key factors in the success of the Detroit Red Wings during the early weeks of National Hockey League play.

The veteran net-minder has been virtually impregnable as the unbeaten Wings have won five and tied two in their first seven starts. League-leading Detroit blanked the Stanley Cup champion Toronto Maple Leafs 2-0 Sunday night as Sawchuk recorded the 10th shutout of his career.

In the only other game, the Chicago Black Hawks turned back the New York Rangers 5-3 and moved into second place.

49ERS LOST

Tittle Is Big Return On N.Y. Investment

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — All us old guys will stand today and give a rah-rah for "yah-yah."

That would be nobody else but Y. A. Tittle, the old Bald Eagle of the New York Giants. And at 35 the Archie Moore of the pro gridiron certainly has it coming after the show he put on to stop those rampaging Washington Redskins.

All he did in that 49-34 Giant victory was tie the National League record of seven touchdown passes in one game and complete 27 of 39 tosses for an eye-popping 505 yards.

Not that this was unexpected, if you've been a long-time observer of Tittle spectaculars. Because this is his 15th year as a pro grid pitcher and no later than last season was picked by his fellow National League players as the circuit's most valuable player.

Yet it's another return on the "old man's" investment of unflinching eye and unfailing arm in the rigors of one of the roughest means of making a living that you can figure out when you get deep into the supposedly tiring 30's.

Y.A. has to remember, too, the reception he received when he arrived with the Giants last year. They still had Charley Conerly, their seemingly ageless quarterback, with Less Grosscup waiting in the wings. So when Tittle joined the Giants in Los Angeles there was no gaudy welcome mat in the hotel lobby.

ALMOST QUIT

In defense of the Giants, it must be explained that Yelberton Abraham sported a pate which was being polished by age. And he almost had quit the game in favor of his San Francisco insurance business when the 49ers, needing a running-type quarterback as they readied a new offense, bartered him away.

That first night he stood around hoping that some of the Giants would invite him along to dinner. Nobody did. So Y. A. eventually found where some of them were eating and invited himself apologetically to join them.

This was in August. Then, although he was injured in the first game he played as a Giant and was out almost a month, he battled back, replaced Conerly and led the Giants to the National League's Eastern Division title and the playoff, if disastrous, against the Green Bay Packers.

Thus, last December, his mates made up for that original cool reception by throwing him a dinner in his honor.

Now, in his latest feat of derring do, he has powered them to victory over the previously undefeated Redskins.

It isn't exactly unexpected. Y. A. has come a long way for a fellow with bronchial asthma whose chief ambition was to be a baseball pitcher until he discovered he couldn't throw a curve. He was the spark of the Baltimore Colts for three years prior to joining the San Francisco 49ers, and before turning pro was a whip-armed wizard at L.S.U.

HOW EMBARRASSING

If you forget how long ago that was, imagine that while at L.S.U. the coiled-steel Texan competed against Conerly when Chuckin' Charley was at Mississippi, and Conerly retired this season at 40. A game against Conerly actually provided one of Y.A.'s most embarrassing moments.

Tittle intercepted one of Conerly's passes and, with L.S.U. trailing 20-18 in the final moments, seemed off for the winning touchdown. A tackler made a dive and stripped Y.A. of his belt.

"The next thing I knew my pants were down around my ankles, right there in front of 40,000 fans and my financee," he reddens at the memory. "Had to stop and hitch up my britches and they stopped me."

There have been many times they haven't been able to stop him since that day. Like yesterday against the Redskins.

By MAURICE WEINGER

Novato's well balanced squad took advantage of Terra Linda's mistakes to roll to a 26-6 win Saturday on the losers field.

The victors had just too much meat in the forward wall to lose, but Terra Linda, nevertheless, played a fine game of the passing arm of Dick Schultze, who threw for 139 yards on 13 completions, and out-first downed Novato 11 to eight.

The Hornets, last year's Marin County Athletic League champs, stayed on the ground most of the time to grind out 185 yards, but when Terra Linda's defensive halfbacks weren't looking, threw the big bomb that scored one touchdown and set up two others.

Halfback Tom Miller and Rich Thomas were the big horses for Novato, who along with quarterback Roy Otis did most of the damage.

Novato's first series of plays ended in the end zone after an 81 yard drive on 12 plays. Thomas and Miller carried every other time to the Trojan 43 where Otis sent Dave Ralph down and out on the right side for a 26 yard catch to the 21 yard line.

Miller then went into the line three straight times to add another first down on the five where Thomas added four and Otis the last yard for the score.

Terra Linda came fighting right back on the kick-off from their own 31 yard line. Using Jack Edwards — a big hitting fullback up the middle and Schultze's arm as the slugger for quick first downs the Trojans started a torrid march.

Edwards and Schultze combined to move the ball to Novato's 45 where the latter then struck on two straight passes to Ed Connell and Dave Dohn for a first down on the 22. Edwards gained 11 straight yards and Schultze rolled out to the left for six and a first down on the five.

The Hornets came right back to go ahead for keeps on the arm of Otis. A big break for Novato came on the return kick-off by Larry Bitts, who grabbed Edwards' kick on the 20 and raced 32 yards to Terra Linda's 48. Otis kept for four and Thomas added two where a big third down play resulted in Otis' pass to Ralph for 8 and a first down on the 34.

Thomas again drove for three, but to end matters quickly, Otis sent Ralph straight down field, and Novato was ahead by six on the 31-yard pass play.

Novato broke the game wide open in the fourth quarter on two lightening plays. Schultze fumbled on his 42 where Kris Kristophers recovered. After an eight yard run, Otis again went to the air and found Nick Willard alone on the 10 yard line. Big Tom Miller raced around his right end to quickly score the third touchdown.

The final score came on a superb defensive effort by Willard. Novato's reserve quarterback Tom Miller tried a long pass, but defensive halfback Bob Taylor intercepted on the Trojans 13. Schultze tried for a long gain and had Connell almost open on the 35, but Willard came out of nowhere and stole the ball out of Connell's hand to race untouched with 45 seconds left in the game.

Unranked Fighter To Get Chance At Title

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cus D'Amato, who proved he was a genius as a manager by twice guiding Floyd Patterson to the heavyweight championship, hopes to strike it rich again with middleweight Jose Torres.

Torres, an unbeaten, unranked-end and untested 160-pounder from New York via Puerto Rico, gets a crack at a piece of the world middleweight crown Friday night when he takes on defender Paul Pender of Brookline, Mass., in the Boston Garden.

The 15-rounder won't be telecast or broadcast. Pender has been guaranteed a $100,000 purse. D'Amato is putting up the money so that his 26-year-old protege will get the shot. Pender is recognized as king of the middleweights by New York, Massachusetts and Europe but New York has refused to recognize the fight as a title affair because Torres is not ranked. Nigeria's Dick Tiger won the World Boxing Association's recognition by soundly beating defender Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, at San Francisco last Tuesday.

Although he is not ranked among the 160-pound set's top 10, Torres, has been made an even-money bet against the clever Pender, 31. A beaten finalist in the 1956 Olympics, Torres has won 25 of 26 pro fights. In the other he drew with the late Benny "Kid" Paret three years ago in Puerto Rico. His record is filled with victories over mediocre opposition.

Pender has a 40-6-2 record. His last six fights all have been for the title. He first captured it by outpointing Sugar Ray Robinson at Boston, Jan. 22, 1960. Then he whipped Sugar Ray again, outpointed Carmen Basilio in 15, stopped Lindon's Terry Downes in seven, lost the title by retiring after nine to Downes in London and regained it by outpointing Downes in Boston last April 7.

Seals Hockey Team To Play Vancouver

VANCOUVER (AP) — Rejuvenated by a successful swing on the Canadian prairie, the San Francisco Seals move into Vancouver tomorrow to face the Canucks, leaders of the Western Hockey League's Northern Division.

The Seals are tied with the Los Angeles Blades and Portland for the Southern Division lead, each team having eight points. The Blades and Portland however, are 4-4-0, while the San Franciscans are 4-6-0.

Still, coach Bud Poile has reason to be pleased at the Seals' recent showing. The team has won three of its last four games after a miserable start, and is scoring well.

Saturday, Edmonton scored three times in the third period to pull out a 5-3 victory from the Seals.

Seven (7) TD Passes By Tittle; Green Bay Wins Again

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Y.A. Tittle of the New York Giants shares a record pedestal with Sid Luckman today, the Washington Redskins have been jarred back to the harsh realities of life in the National Football League and the Green Bay Packers remain in a class by themselves.

Tittle, 35-year-old "bald eagle" who appears to improve with each season, tied the league record of seven touchdown passes yesterday and became the second N.F.L. player ever to throw for more than 500 yards in one game as the Giants handed the Redskins their first defeat, 49-34.

The champion Packers, meanwhile, scored their seventh straight victory by beating the Baltimore Colts, 17-6, and unless some team stops them soon, they'll go through the first undefeated N.F.L. season in 20 years.

The Detroit Lions emerged the lone serious challenger to the Packers in the Western Division when they defeated the Chicago Bears, 11-3, in a game devoid of a single touchdown.

There were two big Sunday upsets, the Los Angeles Rams scoring their first victory of the season by beating the San Francisco 49ers, 28-14, and the St. Louis Cardinals putting a damper on the Dallas Cowboys' contending hopes with a 28-24 setback.

In other games, the Cleveland Browns clobbered the Pittsburgh Steelers, 41-14, and the Minnesota Vikings made it two in a row with a 31-21 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles.

"YAT" completed 27 of 39 passes for a total of 505 yards in a remarkable demonstration of aerial artistry that enabled him to tie the seven-touchdown record set by Luckman with the Bears in 1943 and matched by Adrian Burk of the Philadelphia Eagles in 1954.

The only N.F.L. player who ever passed for greater yardage was Norm Van Brocklin, who gained 554 yards for the Los Angeles Rams in a game in 1951.

Joe Walton caught three of Tittle's TD tosses, Joe Morrison grabbed two and Del Shofner and Frank Gifford one each before a crowd of 62,844 at Yankee Stadium. Shofner was tittle's most efficient target, however, catching 11 passes that gained 269 yards.

The Skins, who retained first place in the Eastern Division despite the defeat, scored the first touchdown of the game and twice pulled to within one point of the Giants, at 14-13 and 21-20.

Norm Snead, who threw four scoring passes, hit Bobby Mitchell with a 44-yard TD strike early in the game. He later passed 24 yards to Fred Dugan and immediately after the second-half kickoff he teamed up with Mitchell again for an 80-yard bomb that cut New York's lead to 21-20.

Tittle, however, completed the first nine passes he threw in the second half to set off a 21-point third-period barrage that pulled the Giants away. During that streak, he caught Shofner with a 32-yard scoring pass and Walton with a 26-yarder.

And after finally missing with a pass, he lofted a beautiful too into Gifford's arms for a 63-yard TD play.

As for the Packers . . .

They struggled at close quarters with the Colts for three periods of a rough game before Jim Taylor's 36-yard touchdown run gave them easier breathing.

With the score tied at 3-3 in the second period, quarterback Bart Starr put Green Bay ahead by firing a 25-yard TD pass to Ron Kramer. Dick Bielski narrowed the Packers' lead to 10-6 in the third period with his second 34-yard field goal of the game before a crowd of 57,966 at Baltimore.

Tempers snapped a few times during the game and the Colts were penalized 89 yards and the Packers 74.

At Detroit, a crowd of 53,342 watched Wayne Walker kick field goals of 17, 43 and 38 yards for the Lions. Detroit's only other score came when tackle Alex Karras tackled Bears quarterback Billy Wade behind the goal line for a safety in the third period. Chicago gained only 60 yards on the ground and 15 through the air.

Shock Waves On Gridirons

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Shock waves emanated from the West Coast football empire today following a pair of crashing upsets that left the experts groping for tranquilizers.

The first jolt was registered at Los Angeles on Saturday afternoon where Stanford's Indians hung a 17-7 defeat on a UCLA team that had gone into the game a nine-point favorite.

Then the "feeble" Tigers of the University of the Pacific, who were not supposed to have any business being on the same field with Washington State, dazed the Cougars 31-21 in a night game. The one point reversal knocked Coach Jim Sutherland's club out of the undefeated ranks and came after UOP had been blasted by Oregon State, 40-6, the previous week.

So how do you figure?

Even Washington, which meets Southern California next Saturday in a game that could decide the coast's Rose Bowl delegate, had to settle for a 21-21 tie with Oregon.

In other key games, the undefeated Trojans handed Illinois its 15th straight loss, 28-16; California found a great new quarterback in Craig Morton but lost to Penn State, 23-21; Oregon State knocked West Virginia from the unbeaten ranks, 51-22 and New Mexico vanquished victory-starved San Jose State, 25-13.

FIVE INTERCEPTIONS

Stanford intercepted five UCLA passes in a game marked by a total of six lost fumbles.

With his team clinging to a 10-7 lead in the fourth period, quarterback Steve Thurlow marched the Indians 89 yards for their clinching touchdown which John Paye scored on a one-yard shot. Frank Patituci of the tribe earlier raced 82 yards for a score after grabbing a Bruin bobble in mid-air and UCLA's Carl Jones went 81 yards to tally when the Indians committed a similar error.

The University of the Pacific steamed off to a 13-0 lead over Washington State which rallied for two touchdowns before the half ended. Then neither side could score after intermission.

A 15-yard run by Greg Stikes with a messed up field goal attempt by teammate Roger Francis gave UOP its first touchdown. The Tigers scored again on Aaron Youngblood's 80-yard run and Bob Scardini kicked the placement that meant the winning edge. Washington State rallied on a TD pass from Dave Mathieson to Hugh Campbell and George Reed's 27-yard scoring gallop. But the alert Tiger defense smothered both Cougar attempts at two-point conversions.

OREGON RALLY

Oregon seemed just about beaten by Washington in the closing stages of its game with Washington but quarterback Bob Berry turned Larry Hall loose for an 18-yard touchdown run and then insured the 21-21 tie with a pass to Dick Imwalle for the vital two points.

The fifth-ranked Trojans exploded twice against Illinois for scoring plays that exceeded 70 yards. A 72-yard pass from Pete Beathard to Hal Bedsole accounted for one while Willie Brown raced 73 yards to score another.

Craig Morton, CAL's sophomore quarterback who never had played varsity ball in his life, accounted for 274 yards passing and 11 yards rushing while the Bears made rugged Penn State battle for its 23-21 win.

Morton, who underwent surgery last month for torn ligaments, entered the game in the second quarter and passed for three touchdowns during the afternoon in a vain cause.

ONE OF SEVEN — New York Giant quarterback Y. A. Tittle (former San Francisco 49er quarterback) is rushed by Washington Redskins' end Andy Stynchula (71) but is able to complete a touchdown pass to Giant back Joe Morrison in the first period of the game at Yankee Stadium yesterday. It was one of seven touchdown passes tossed by Tittle. Other players are tackle Joe Rutkens (72) of Redskins, center Ray Wietecha (55) and Roosevelt Brown (79) of the Giants. (AP Wirephoto)

Hosses Move To Meadows This Week

ALBANY (AP) — Thoroughbreds, owners, trainers and jockeys will move from Golden Gate Fields to Bay Meadows this week.

Golden Gate Fields closes its 44-day meeting tomorrow and the entire melange moves across the bay and down the San Francisco Peninsula to the San Mateo track for 42-days of racing.

There will be 10 stake events in the seven-week season, topped by the 30th running of the $20,000 added Bay Meadows Handicap on closing day.

Typhoon 2nd was given top weight of 120 pounds for the $10,000-added San Francisco Mile, to be run on Golden Gate's getaway day Tuesday. The 4-year-old Irish-bred spots 11 rivals from 4 to 15 pounds.

Dean Hall is the leading Golden Gate jockey going into the last two days of racing. He's ridden 43 winners and 36 placers. Of his 209 mounts, 106 have run in the money. Hall's mounts have earned $96,905 during the meeting.

Foyt Sets Mark For Golden State 100-Mile Auto Race

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A. J. Foyt set a track record and won $5,720 first place money in the Golden State Hundred, a 100-mile National Auto Club race, at the State Fair Grounds yesterday.

His time was 1:02:59.14. The old mark was 1:05:57.58 by Rodger Ward in 1957.

Don Branson of Champaign, Ill., got $3,109 for second, and Elmer George of Speedway, Ind., $1,976 for third.

A crowd of about 12,000 paid $42,760 to see what may be the last auto race on the fair's dirt track. Horsemen have complained auto racing is ruining the surface.

The race was the 12th of 13 scheduled this year. The final event is scheduled for Phoenix next month.

Ward, who has sewed up first place for the year, was injured recently and watched yesterday's race. Foyt, of Houston, Tex., is second and Branson third in the standings.

Jim Hurtubise of Lennox, Calif., led for five laps when Foyt took over and was never headed. Hurtubise finished fourth.

Rookie Jim McElreath was running second on the 62nd lap, but had to drop out because of mechanical trouble, as did half the field of 18 qualifiers.

Other finishers were Parnelli Jones, Torrance, Calif., fifth; Troy Ruttman, Dearborn, Mich., sixth; Johnny Rutherford, Fort Worth, Tex., seventh; Lloyd Ruby, Houston, Tex., eighth, and Chuck Booth, Sacramento, ninth.

Mexico Advances In Davis Tourney

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico's Davis Cup Whiz Kids, flushed with victory, brushed aside thoughts of their next opponent, India, and looked ahead today to the challenge round against Australia.

"India should be no problem," said team Capt. Pancho Contreras after Mexico edged Sweden three matches to two yesterday in the inter-zone semi-final.

The Mexico-India clash in the interzone finals is scheduled for New Delhi in December. The Mexicans rank a prohibitive favorite to gain the challenge round.

Youthful Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox, each a student at a United States university, brought the Mexicans the victory.

Osuna, who attends the University of Southern California, nailed it down with his 3-6, 6-4, 6-3, 1-6, 6-3 triumph over Sweden's lanky Jan-Erik Lundquist in the final singles match.

In fact, the cat-quick Osuna had a hand in all of Mexico's winning matches. He defeated Ulf Schmidt in one of the opening singles and teamed with Palafox to hand the Swedes their first loss this year in doubles competition.

Mexican officials are expected to stick with Osuna and Palafox against India, and probably against Australia, should they advance that far. They're the pair that brought Mexico past the United States for the first time in history, then handled Yugoslavia easily to gain the semi-finals against Sweden.

Wheel Of New Car Rolls Off, Driver Injured

Dallien M. Vines was treated for injuries suffered when the car, driven by Leslie A. Brockhouse, 19, also of West Englewood, N. J., overturned just south of Rodeo Avenue at 10:30 a.m.

Miss Brockhouse said she had just purchased the 1960 model foreign car a few days ago. According to the California Highway Patrol, a defective nut on the wheel worked loose.

William D. Fleet, 19, of the 78th Air Police Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base, was in satisfactory condition today at the base hospital after he changed lanes too fast on Highway 101 north of Atherton Avenue and overturned at 7:50 a.m. yesterday.

CALIFORNIA CANDIDATES

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A new political storm is swirling over the propriety of Richard M. Nixon's decision to speak out on the Cuban crisis while running for governor of California.

The former vice president's Democratic opponent, Gov. Edmund G. Brown, said Nixon's statewide television speech "marked a new turn in his spurious and reckless campaign."

Nixon's reply: "I didn't discuss it (Cuba) as a candidate. I discussed it as an American citizen. The people are concerned whether we are taking too great a risk and it is very important for officials with knowledge to talk about it.

"It is not enough to say you must support whatever the national policy is. The people need to know why."

In his 30-minute speech Saturday night, Nixon said the missile bases in Cuba were more dangerous to the United States than those in the Soviet Union because "Castro is a hot-blooded maniac compared to Khrushchev."

He characterized the Cuban leader as an impulsive man who conceivably might get control of the Soviet missiles and risk triggering a global holocaust.

Nixon also urged that all American unite behind President John F. Kennedy during the crisis.

Governor Brown, who returned to Sacramento after attending a Civil Defense conference in Washington, said yesterday:

"The best description of the address was made by the station announcer who identified it as a paid political broadcast . . ."

He said Nixon's motives were obvious and that the Republican's campaign for governor is "bankrupt and going downhill." Brown added:

"Because Mr. Nixon was president Kennedy's opponent in 1960, and because he has been his severest critic ever since then, it was well that he declared his support of the current course of action with respect to Cuba.

"But it would be reckless in the extreme to go beyond a simple expression of support, to talk about future actions and future policy without consultation with our national leaders."

Brown said he and other governors who talked with Kennedy were better briefed on Cuba than Nixon.

"Yet neither I, nor governor Rockefeller nor the governors of any of the other states who attended those briefings would presume to do what Mr. Nixon did Saturday night."

Nixon press secretary Herbert G. Klein said Californians have flooded GOP campaign offices with praise of Nixon's "statesmanlike appraisal of the crisis and his constructive suggestions on how California and the nation should meet the problem."

"While Mr. Brown was off seeking to become a 24-hour expert on Cuba and civilian defense," Klein said, "Mr. Nixon determined that California needed a calm appraisal of the situation which had led to panic, food stampedes and confusion. He supplied this in his television address which made no mention of Mr. Brown or the campaign."

State Sen. John F. McCarthy of San Rafael, chairman of the California GOP "truth squad," termed Brown "a self-appointed guardian of who has the right to practice freedom of speech and who does not."

The Sacramento Union, a morning newspaper, endorsed Nixon for governor. It said Brown has given "a reasonably good administration" but that Nixon "brings a richness of experience plus personal ability and unusual devotion to public welfare."

Larkspur To Choose School Head

The Larkspur School District board will choose a superintendent tomorrow night to succeed Dr. Vaughn D. Seidel, chairman Pauline Secor announced today.

The board will begin a special meeting at 8 p.m., one half hour later than usual, in the superintendent's office at Larkspur-Corte Madera School, 20 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur.

The school board has interviewed four candidates recommended by a screening committee. The committee, headed by Richard L. Foster of Greenbrae, had interviewed 12 candidates from a list of 50 applicants from areas extending from California to Pennsylvania.

After selecting Seidel's successor tomorrow night, the board will determine his salary within the $13,500 to $16,000 a year range. Seidel receives $12,500. He has agreed to serve until a successor is obtained.

U.S. Arms Assured At India Request

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India turned to the United States today for weapons to fight the Communist Chinese and was assured they would be sent soon.

Prime Minister Nehru asked U.S. Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith for the weapons and an American Embassy spokesman said Galbraith indicated they are coming.

Almost simultaneously an Indian spokesman announced the loss of Demchok, the farthest thrust the Chinese have made southward at the western end of the fighting front.

The spokesman estimated between 2,000 and 2,500 Indian soldiers are dead or missing since the Chinese launched their offensive Oct. 20 and added the Chinese are believed to have suffered much heavier casualties.

Reinforcements were being rushed to Se Pass to try to head off at least one 10,000-man Chinese division moving from the key northeast border town of Towang, lost last week.

Despite setbacks such as the loss of Demchok India refused offers of mediation of the undeclared war with China.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman said "no self-respecting country, and certainly not India with her love of freedom, can submit to Chinese aggression, whatever may be the consequences, nor can India allow China's occupation of Indian territory to be used as a bargaining counter for dictating to India a settlement of differences regarding the boundary on China's terms."

American infantry weapons for the Indian defenders in the Himalayas may begin arriving by air by the end of this week, it was understood.

The terms on which the weapons will be supplied were left open, a U.S. Embassy spokesman said. In the past India has insisted on paying for weapons but now there is no cash and a desperate need for arms.

A small shipment of British weapons has already arrived. France and Canada have also been asked to supply arms. The feeling here is that only the United States can provide the amount of weapons needed.

Galbraith delivered to Nehru a letter from President John F. Kennedy expressing sympathy for India in its present emergency and "something more tangible," the spokesman said. In response Nehru made the first direct request for American arms.

Deputy Hits Roadblock

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The dispatcher at the sheriff's office was worried.

One of the deputies had stopped for a routine night check of a school grounds. He should have returned to his car but he didn't answer his radio. The dispatcher kept calling.

Finally the deputy answered. Nothing wrong, he said. It was just that a skunk had gotten between him and his car and he preferred to wait for the skunk to move on.

Forester Plays Trick Or Trees

Karpick said some residents have painted cutting marks on trees in front of their homes, indicating to forestry crews that the tree is doomed.

The tree-chief is fighting back now with what he calls an "odd colored green paint" and a "detailed" description of each tree that is supposed to go.

Planning Aide

Mrs. Jean McLean, Mill Valley Planning Department clerk, has been named planning aide for the city and will receive an increase in salary from $340 to $410 per month. With the city five months, Mrs. McLean will continue to perform the duties of planning clerk.

Pioneer Aviator In Glider Landing

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP)—An 81-year-old pioneer aviator won first prize recently for the best glider landing by a power aircraft pilot at the Southern Tier Flying Club's annual outing.

After his ride, Edward C. Richard of Elmira reported "it was a little bumpy but I enjoyed it." He said he expected to take another ride soon. He has been up in a sailplane three or four times.

Richard described himself as a protege of the famed late Glenn H. Curtiss of Hammondsport, N.Y., and said he flew with the French in World War I and joined Charles A. Lindbergh for the first U.S. Air Mail Service in the 1920s.

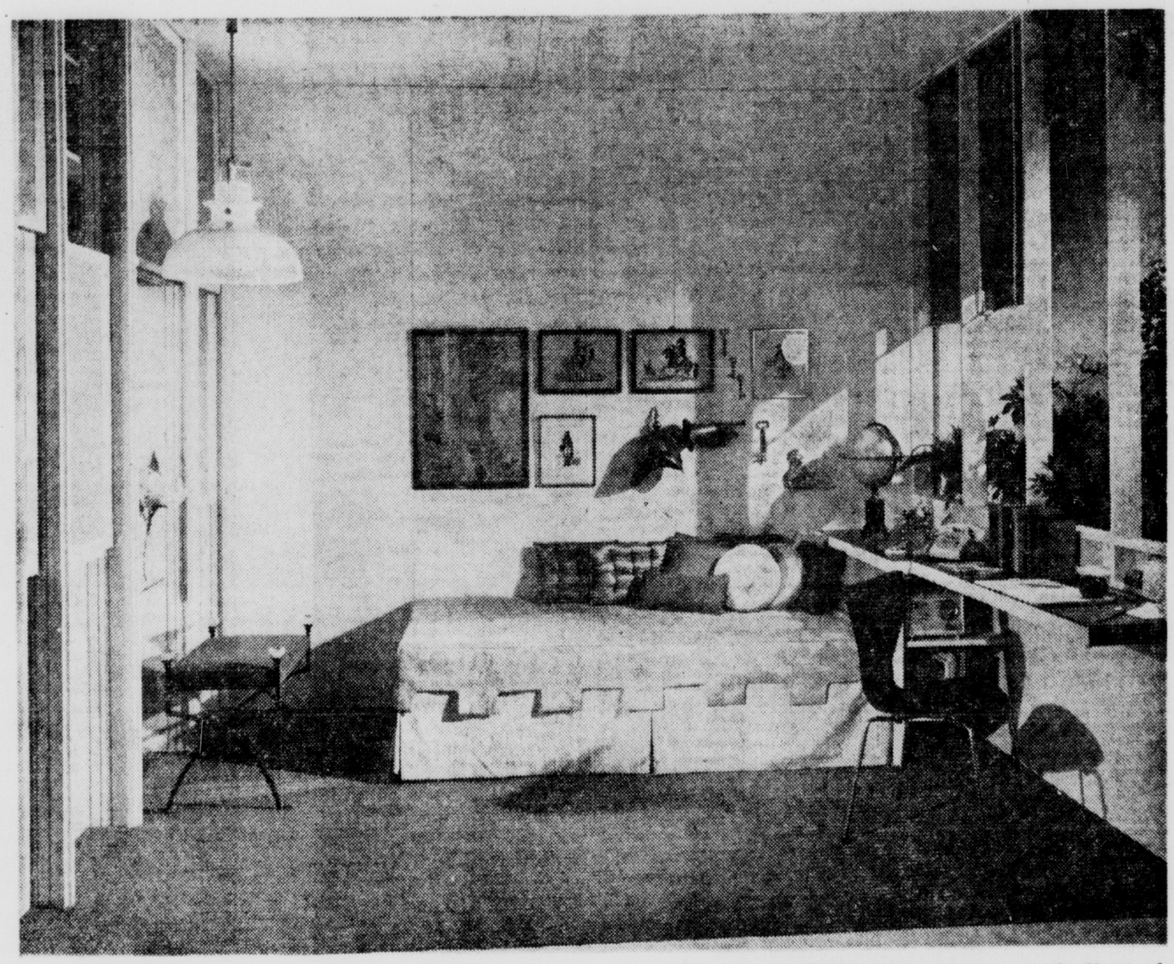
A MASCULINE RETREAT in the European manner, a study in blue and gold, was designed by Arto O. Szabo, a native of Hungary now practicing in New York. A damask in royal blue with overbloom of mustard-beige covers one wall of room and its inset panels in on opposite storage wall, left. Mouldings are painted mustard-gold against deep blue.



IMAGINATIVE PLAN for a teen-ager's room was done by interior designer Joseph Almansion showing appreciation for the needs and vagaries of youngsters not quite adults. Conventional closet space has been compartmentalized to solve storage problems. Instead of doors, fabric covered panels have been installed in three units vertically to be opened separately or in combination. Fabric inserts can be removed to change color scheme. Same fabric is used for bedspread in shades of yellow and gold. Fabric window shades are olive, French blue and mauve-gray, striped.

Fabric Versatility In Design

Seven young interior designers, none of them older than 32, are responsible for a collection of new ideas on ways to use decorative fabrics in the home.

Furthermore, this creative group, 1962 winners of The Interior Design Competition for Young Professionals, has come up with ideas that can give a fresh look to many areas that have proved difficult to handle, and offer the answer to specific decorating problems.

Excellent use of the lush opulence of damasks and textured satins woven with contemparary fibers is shown in the award-winning interior designed by 27-year-old Arto O. Szabo, of New York, regional winner from the North Atlantic area.

Two large storage areas on either side of a set of bookshelves in his handsome "Room for a Bachelor" shown above left) are covered with panels of textured matelasse in royal blue with an overbloom of mustard-beige within decorative moldings pointed a deep mustard color. The same fabric is used to cover a window wall, and to trim a pair of Roman shades, made from a nappy, homespun fabric in natural color.

Walls of the room are painted in an intense, muted blue which matches the background of the matelasses, a blend of rayon, acetate, cotton and nylon. This idea of applying a decorative fabric for just such an ornamental effect is one which many homemakers could carry out for themselves. Furthermore, it gives the right look to a room furnished in traditional style.

Inaugurated with the aim of uncovering original and imaginative applications of home furnishings fabrics, while at the same time discovering and encouraging fresh new talent in the field of interior design, the second annual interior design competition fulfilled both objectives, while also showing awareness of these young designers to the needs of the average homemaker.

Joseph Almasian tackles the case of a bedroom (shown above right) occupied by two imaginary teen-agers and solves their very real storage problem delightfully with space-saving fabric-covered panels, each divided into three sections, which replace conventional closet doors. These can be opened separately or in combination one with another, giving maximum accessibility and maintaining an uncluttered look.

He has used a handsomely textured fabric in a rich golden hue for the panels. Being removable they can be replaced at comparatively little cost with new fabric when another color plan is demanded by the youngsters.

This designer loves fabric shades, and has used a striped damask in olive with muted French blue and gray for roller shades above a counter which runs along the window wall doing double duty as desk and shelf in this interesting room.

SEW SIMPLE

Side Seams, Christmas Gifts Concern The Home Seamstress

By EUNICE FARMER

"If my dress is not long-waisted enough in the back and I have to add to the bodice back, how can I make the side seams come out even?"—Mrs. A.B.

Dear Mrs. A.B.:

If you need extra length in back and not in front, the underarm darts in the bodice front should be changed. Make them about half the width (depending on the amount of length you are adding to the back). Change the dart so that the side seams will come out even.

The leaflet I referred to a few weeks ago about clever Christmas ideas was to have been made up from the suggestions you sent to me. It's getting pretty late now, but if we hurry, we might still have time. We need any new ideas for unusual gifts, for little tots, teen-agers, and big folks, that we can make in time for this year. If you drop everything to send them to me today, I'll drop everything to make up a leaflet and then I'll let you know when you can send for it.

"The last dress I made for my daughter had large unpressed pleats in the skirt. After I had the pleats basted in place, I noticed that they were turning the opposite way from the picture on the pattern. I still don't know what I did wrong. Does it really matter which way they lie?" — Mrs. B.P.T.

Dear Mrs. B.P.T.:

I think the clue to your error was in the method of marking the unpressed pleats. I imagine you marked them on the wrong side of the fabric with chalk or a tracing wheel.

Since unpresed pleats must be folded into position from the RIGHT side of the fabric, you must tailor-tack your pattern marks because you can't use colored chalk on the right side of the fabric.

After the pleat marks have been tailor tacked, keep your paper pattern right above your garment and you can see the direction each pleat is to be folded.

If often makes a great difference in the appearance of a garment and should be made the way the pattern was designed.

"If you have a slide fastener that won't stay closed, sew a small hook on the waistband directly above the metal tab on the fastener. The slot in the tab may now be caught on the hook so it won't slip open."

For this suggestion which will so easily soothe many frayed nerves, Mrs. Betty Bacik, Detroit, Mich., is being sent the weekly tailortrix pressing board award.

Mrs. L.B. says: Alterations I made on an old, but expensive black coat turned out beautifully. The pockets, cuffs, and buttonholes were worn, so I covered those spots with a pretty black braid, also shortened the coat to the new length. Results: an up-to-date coat with very little effort and expense.

"If I can't get buttonhole-twist to match my skirts, can I use anything else for the hand-picking and putting the side fastener in by hand?"—Mrs. H.E.

Dear Mrs. H.E.:

Yes, you can get a matching embroidery floss or use a double mercerized thread. If you are using two strands of thread, be sure you un-twist the thread with each stitch to avoid tangling and knotting. Running your thread through beeswax will strengthen the thread and keep it from fraying and knotting.

Your sewing glossary:

Carton seams: These are seams used in coats and dress skirts made up of several gored sections. The seams are pressed together like trouser pleats. Don't over-fit the skirt or you will lose the effect.

PILLS, PILLS, PILLS . . .

Can Your Family Take Too Many Vitamins?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Pills, pills, pills — Americans gulp them by the millions in their quest for vitamins. Are vita? min pills necessary? Can we take too many? Why is there such a fluctuation in their cost? How did the Vitamin Age begin? The controversial subject of vitamins is explored in the following three dispatches by Barney Seibert, United Press International correspondent.)

By BARNEY SEIBERT

Chicago (UPI) — A vitamin pill is something you can take or leave alone, according to whose advice you're getting.

As the weather turns colder and sniffles spread across the land, more and more Americans are fortifying themselves with the alphabetized concoctions out of box and bottle.

Vitamin pills have become a multi-million dollar business and those who manufacture and sell them say this is good because many of us don't eat what we should. Such people need extra vitamins, they say.

But, as with most subjects, there is another side. The American Medical Assn. thinks Americans have been so sold on vitamins that they regard them as a food substitute synonymous with good nutrition.

THE MANUFACTURERS believe the AMA opposition to vitamin supplements stems from the physician's traditional suspicion of self-medication.

They feel that officials of the U. S. Agriculture Dept. also have inspired many of the attacks on vitamin pills because the department hopes to persuade the public to eat more food, helping to solve the farm surplus problem and raise agricultural prices.

The AMA says vitamins are necessary for good health, but most people get all they need from the foods they eat.

Dr. William B. Bean, of the University of Iowa College of Medicine, fed vitamin pills to one group of soldiers and gave another group similar pills without vitamins. "There was no difference in performances, fitness or health," he said.

THE ONLY DIFFERENCE he found in the two groups of soldiers was that the segment receiving vitamin pills had large amounts of vitamins in their body wastes.

Nearly three years ago the AMA said vitamin pills are unnecessary for the normal person eating an average diet.

Two years ago the AMA warned that vitamins actually may be harmful to some people.

Dr. William N. Pearson, Vanderbilt University nutrionist, in a paper delivered Nov. 30, 1960, at a symposium on clinical nutrition in Washington, D. C. said:

CLEMENT A. SMITH, a pediatrician of the Harvard Medical School, said, "They have been deceived by skillfully misleading advertisements into believing vitamin pills will take care of the family's nutrition. Children don't gain pep by taking vitamin pills . . . no vitamin, either in food or pill form, is a tonic or stimulant . . ."

Pearson said physicians must share in the blame. "Few practicing physicians have not prescribed a regimen of vitamin supplementation for . . . (patients) who have that tired feeling or a nonspecific ache or pain."

DRS. FELIX MILGROM and Ernest Witebsky, of the University of Buffalo School of Medicine, writing in the Aug. 25 Journal of the AMA, blamed the "army of nurses, dietitians, nutrition counselors" who "fight the dragon of malutrition who is busy in other countries and ignores the United States."

In the May 20, 1960, AMA Journal, Dr. A. B. Curry Ellison, of Charleston, W. Va., reported that folic acid in multivitamin pills delayed the diagnosis of pernicious anemia.

HE RECOMMENDED that "folic acid be removed from all multivitamin and iron preparations." Ellison said the substance was being added to many vitamin preparations "without adequate therapeutic evidence of need." (Folic acid is one of the vitamins of the B complex).

In an editorial Aug. 19, 1960, the AMA Journal reported that an overdose of viatmin A may lead to "loss of appetite, irritability, skin eruptions, or enlargement of the liver." Too much vitamin D may cause "gastrointestinal symptoms," it said.

THE NOV. 5, 1960, AMA Journal warned in an editorial that self-administration of vitamins "reflects the hazards of self-medication. The tragedy is that masked organic disease may be the basic cause of symptoms that are being treated erroneously with vitamin preparations."

He Can Read, But Now Johnny Can't Write Well Enough

By JAMES DOYLE

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI)—Several years ago educators came to the conclusion that Johnny couldn't read. Changes were made to correct the situation.

Johnny is older now, and he can read. But he can't write well and generally cannot express himself well in conversation.

A new five-year study called "Project English" is going to look into the situation and make changes to correct it.

PROJECT ENGLISH began this fall at six institutions of higher learning around the country. The University of Oregon is the only one in the West engaged in the study.

The program, under direction of Dr. Albert Kitzhaber, will be carried on in two fields —the university as the headquarters for the center and three contiguous school districts in the Eugene area where students, grades 7 through 12, will work on curriculum devised at the center.

The reason Johnny has a poor general knowledge of his mother tongue, Kitzhaber believes, is mainly because methods of teaching it are out of date.

High School English is a mixture of grammar, frequently repetitious, and literature—and anything else that can be crammed into the course.

THERE IS, in short, a need at the higher education level for a solid background in English. But the source is lacking.

A basic fault, Dr. Kitzhaber says, is a lack of sequence. For that reason, molding a sequential course through the grades is a major aim of the study.

He says literature now being taught at the junior high school level is of very little literary merit.

Many educators feel there is little superior literature that is understandable to children of this age group, but Kitzhaber disagrees.

As examples of good, but simple, literature he points to Aesop's fables, La Fontaine, Biblical readings and the classic myths and legends.

"MANY STUDENTS reach college without even knowing the classic fairy tales, except as they have been strained through the mind of Walt Disney," he said.

"There is now an entire generation which thinks that one of the characters in 'Snow White' is a lovable little deaf-mute."

And what of grammar?

"Most textbooks show no awareness of the scholarly developments in the study of language since 1900," he said. He added that the material on language in these textbooks is a description of Latin, not English.

Latin, at the end of the last century, was regarded as the only pure, classical language and, as a result, English was forced into its mold.

ON THE WHOLE high school teaching in English is "not sequential, not modern, and not intellectually sound," Kitzhaber said.

He mentioned some bright spots, however—Westport, Conn., Pittsburgh, Nebraska and Portland, where the high school curriculum was revised according to his own study.

It is hoped the new project will result in a complete revision in methods of teaching English in high school. The results of the study will not be force-fed to other schools, however, but will be held up as a model for a new curriculum.

Kitzhaber emphasized the program is not college preparatory, but is broadly conceived to include all but the slowest students.

Selected groups of high school teachers spent the past summer in classrooms learning a new order in literature and language. In order to teach effectively their own language, the teachers must have a better grasp of the subject matter, he indicated.

GRADES 7 THROUGH 12 were chosen for the project study because departmentalized instruction normally begins at the grade 7 level. The freshman college level was omitted because of the necessity of limiting the study.

New textbooks will be one major result of the project.

The U.S. office of education has granted the university $250,000 to begin work. The program will eventually cost a half-million dollars. The rest is to come from the university and the Oregon public school system.

Mrs. Duane Moeller Named President Of Novato Guild

Mrs. Duane Moeller, president of the newly formed Sunny Hills Guild No. 2 of Novato presided at her first meeting Thursday.

The varied interest of the new president includes meeting new people, travel, sewing and bridge. And she says her accomplishments are "Jack of all trades, master of none."

Arlene and her husband, who is business manager of the San Jose School District, are currently Skippers of the Mariners, a young couples organization of the Presbyterian Church. They have three children, Michele (Shelly) 7; Bruce, 5 and Mary Ann, 9 months.

She particularly enjoys sewing "As it serves a dual purpose and an opportunity for need, as we have two daughters."

A former second grade teacher at Hill School, Mrs. Moeller was also hospitality chairman of Lu Sutton Parent-Teachers Assn. and program chairman of the Mariners.

"Since Sunny Hills Guild No. 2 is newly organized, no projects have been decided upon at this time. However, a committee for projects and ideas has been set up," Mrs. Moeller continued.

MRS. MOELLER

The standing committee chairmen are Mesdames John Ahler, bargain box; Charles Joseph, publicity and historian and Robert Dougherty, hours.

The newly formed group participated in the annual Grape Festival, selling Marin County artists work. Mrs. John Miklos was chairman.

By-laws were adopted at the meeting last week and officers elected to serve with Mrs. Moeller were Mesdames John Roos, vice president; James Studley, secretary and Roy McLaren.

Roman Holiday Is Theme For A Party

Theme for the wine-tasting party to be sponsored on Nov. 4 by the Star of the Sea Church in Sausalito will be "Roman Holiday"—with local overtones.

Emphasizing the increasingly world-wide ascendancy of California wines, especially those from the Napa Valley, will be a selection of red, white and rose vintages from a local winery.

With the best of French bread and Monterey's notabl Jack cheese, for clearing the palate between tastings, patrons at the Sunday afternoon affair can sample Riesling, Chablis, Sauterne, Napa Rose, Red Pinot, Cabernet Sauvignon and Chateau la Salle.

Chairman Mrs. Fred Perry Jr., and her co-chairman, Mrs. George E. Percy, are also providing musical entertainment, an art show and a floral arrangement display.

Decorations for the party are being done by Mrs. John F. Churchill and Mrs. Frank Pasquinucci, and Mrs. Earl Dunphy is handling the special awards. Other chairmen are Mesdames Joseph De Martini, hostesses; Leo Quadros and Walter J. Silva, refreshments; and John C. Alexander, publicity. The Misses Vivian and Pauline Ratto have made the posters.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Don't Fall For Old Shell Game When Playing A Hand At Bridge

The pea isn't under any of the shells; the artist has it hidden in the crook of his little finger. Don't fall for the old shell game when you're playing a bridge hand.

West opened the queen of spades and continued the suit until South ruffed the third round. Declarer correctly saw no reason to play dummy's king since he felt sure that East had the ace.

South could count on winning six trumps, two diamonds, and one club. He needed one additional trick for his contract, and a successful finesse in clubs or diamonds would give him that trick.

WHY GUESS?

"Why should I guess which finesse will work?" South said to himself. "I can try both of them."

Well pleased with his shrewdness, South drew trumps, cashed the ace of diamonds and tried a finesse with dummy's jack of diamonds. East won and got out safely with the ace of spades.

South later tried the club finesse and went down when that lost also.

BAD DAY

South shook his head dolefully. It was a bad day, and he should have stayed at home with the blankets pulled up over his head. Maybe he could get a finesse to work some other day.

AFTER RUFFING

After ruffing the third spade South should draw three rounds of trumps ending in the dummy. Then he leads the king of spades from dummy and discards a club from his hand. This gives East the trick, but East is not grateful.

East must return a diamond or a club, and either suit will give dummy a free finesse.

Vote Coakley Over Mosk; Jordan As State Secretary

California's voters have a tough decision before them in the race for attorney general; whichever man wins, the state can't lose much.

Challenging Atty. General Stanley Mosk is an able and effective jurist with an impressive record as an attorney, judge and civic leader. He is Superior Judge Tom Coakley of Mariposa County, former president of the San Francisco Bar Association, California Judicial Council, and a member of the board of governors of the State Bar Association.

From scantily populated Mariposa County, he has traveled and served on the superior bench of some 39 California counties, including Los Angeles and Marin, making him one of the widest known and best informed judicial officials in the state.

We have admired Stanley Mosk, however, particularly in his firm stand against infringements on the rights of the people in general and individuals in particular. He has in most cases battled for an informed public. He expanded the operations of the office to include anti-trust, consumer fraud and business fraud sections.

We are, however, not unmindful of the fact that crime has increased in California greatly in recent years. We don't blame all this on the attorney general, but he must shoulder some responsibility.

He also has undertaken an extracurricular activity which we find completely in conflict with operation of the state's top legal office. He accepted and retains the post of Democratic national committeeman from California. This is by nature a violently partisan job. We believe the job of attorney general should be violently non-partisan; in fact we favor making it non-partisan by law. Certainly a party position provides a definite conflict of interest.

Considering everything, therefore, we support Tom Coakley for attorney general and recommend a vote for him Nov. 6.

THE POSITION of Secretary of State in California has been held for 20 years by Frank M. Jordan, who is seeking another four year term. In that 20 years many have tried and failed to punch holes in the service he provides for Californians.

Don Rose, the Democratic challenger, has based his campaign around the fact he couldn't find Jordan when he went to Sacramento. This is rather remarkable because Jordan has been known, as was his father before him, for an "open door" policy. Any time, you can walk by his office and see him at work or go speak to him through his opened door. He is one of the most available persons in Sacramento.

So it isn't hard to pick a candidate for secretary of state. We recommend your vote for Frank M. Jordan.

Sausalito Urges Yes On Prop. 14

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your recent editorial urged a "No" vote on Proposition 14 on the Nov. 6 ballot. You correctly stated that this measure affects only San Francisco and Sausalito, but I believe that your conclusion was incorrect when you deplored any amendment that would permit more filling of Richardson Bay. This is not the effect of Proposition 14.

There are at present mapped streets lying under water off Sausalito's shoreline. The owners of lots bounded by the streets can fill these lots and improve the streets. Proposition 14 would not increase the likelihood of these lots being filled, but would enable the City of Sausalito, after appropriate state legislation, to exchange its underwater streets for other land in order to erase the existing "grid pattern" of streets. The city council, at its Oct. 16 meeting, took the first step in approving a plan to exchange some underwater streets for other land to be used for a waterfront park and recreation area.

At its Oct. 16 meeting the Sausalito City Council unanimously approved the passage of Proposition 14. Since Sausalito is the only community in Marin affected by this proposition, we urge that you support a "Yes" vote on Proposition 14.

Express Opinion Whenever I Like

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I must say I am surprised that you would print a letter which constituted nothing more than a personal attack. Mrs. Miller obviously did not understand one word of my letter . . .

Just to set the record straight, I am 100 per cent against socialized medicine. I am quite familiar with the Kerr Mills Bill which was enacted into California law early this year by the Rattigan Act. I feel that the legislation is quite adequate but unfortunately many of my fellow citizens do not.

I therefore, merely suggested a possible alternative to keep the government out of the insurance business, and leave it in the hands of private enterprise.

If Mrs. Miller objects to me expressing my opinions, well, that's too bad. Thank God, we are still living in a country where one can express their opinions. She can have her's and I'll have mine and I will continue to express them whenever and wherever I feel like it. And furthermore, I will punctuate them however I wish to!

DON'T LET GEORGE DO IT

Did you know that the phrase, "Let George do it," was coined over 450 years ago by King Louis XII of France?

The king had a prime minister named George D'Amboise, who was so able that he delegated an increasing number of vexing problems to this trusted assistant. The monarch thus left himself free to attend to other royal duties.

Down through the centuries countless persons have taken the "let George do it" attitude about their family, religious, civic and the many other obligations that God expects them to fulfill.

The tendency, for instance, to expect others to shoulder the difficult task of providing good government has led to the weakening—and even disappearance—of free institutions everywhere.

Those, however, who specialize in graft, corruption or subversion never "let George do it." They do it themselves.

INDUSTRIALIST SAYS:

Khrushchev Still Plans To Come To The U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A U. S. industrialist who spent three hours with Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev only last Wednesday said the Soviet leader declared he was still considering a trip to the United States.

William E. Knox, of New York, president of the Westinghouse Electric International Co., told newsmen at the State Department how he went to Russia on a business trip and suddenly found himself summoned to Khrushchev's office.

This meeting took place two days after President Kennedy had announced his Cuban blockade plans.

"IT WAS WEDNESDAY at 2 p.m.," he said, "when I was called in my hotel and told the chairman would be pleased to see me at 3 p.m."

Knox said he was ushered into Khrushchev's office at 3:30 p.m. and was met by a "relaxed, very calm — but tired" looking Kremlin leader.

Knox declined to give full details of his talk with Khrushchev. He spoke to newsmen after reporting the details to State Department officials in an hour-long meeting.

BUT HE DID say the Soviet leader told him he was still considering coming to the United States.

Knox told newsmen, "we discussed many things and I have reported these to my government. These are critical times and I don't believe it would be helpful to say more."

He did relate this anecdote which ended his visit with the Soviet leader:

"Khrushchev's office," Knox said, "is quite narrow. He has a desk and a long table down one side at which I think he seats the whole Politburo. Khrushchev normally sits at the head. But this time the interpreter sat at the head. I sat on his right and Khrushchev opposite me.

"Walking out the door I saw a big picture of a man with a great bushy beard."

"'Who's that?' I said."

"Why, that's Karl Marx," Khrushchev replied.

"I told him I never knew that Karl Marx was a Cuban before," Knox said.

From Coach Buck O'Neill of Hamilton College comes a delectable football story of a climatic encounter years ago between Hamilton and its archrival, Colgate, in which the Colgate eleven was making damaging and consistent gains through the center of the Hamilton line. O'Neill finally sent in a substitute, Miller, for the varsity center, Doyle—and things immediately took a decided turn for the better.

After the game, Coach O'Neill warmly praised Miller for his key role in Hamilton's last-minute victory. "Thank you for the kind words, Coach," replied Miller, "but I really don't deserve all the the credit. You see, when I went in, Doyle never came out."

A Man From Okefenokee Wants To See Beautiful Places But Not Travel

The other day we met a man from the Okefenokee Swamp and his name is Poke.

Poke is himself. A Sausalito sculptor, he is also a handy man and hauler of things in his red, converted Army weapons carrier with a Jeep top. He calls this truck Poke's Joke 2.

Poke's real name is Lyman Van Anda and he is a traveler. "When I was in kindergarten, I moved from Illinois to Georgia where they called me 'The Yank,'" he said. Later they called him Poke, short for Slowpoke. In the Army some called him Van.

VAN ANDA OWNS a pecan farm in Georgia in the Okefenokee (pronounced Okie-fin-okie) swamp which lies on the southern bit of Georgia and northern end of Florida.

"It's the land of the trembling earth," says Poke warmly. "You have islands that actually move. Things fall into the water and form islands, then cypress grow on top. About six feet underneath you have water. Clear, black water. There are snakes and bears. It's a type of jungle."

Van Anda was a lapidarist. He attended the School of Mines in Colorado and prospected on the side for rocks two years in a converted ambulance called Poke's Joke 1. Once he found a dinosaur bone 64 inches long.

THEN ONE DAY he sold his rocks and the dinosaur bone for $500 in New Orleans and used the money to go to Europe to study sculpture. He stayed three years, mostly in Paris where he studied under cubist Osip Zadkine.

The day we talked to Poke it was cold and foggy. He was wearing baggy fatigue pants, a large coat which his wife, Beth, made for him out of a blanket and, on his head, a black cap with a hole on top.

"It's called a six pence," said the sculptor, "because years ago in England workers bought them for six pence." The cap has a Robert Kirk label but, as Poke says sadly, "you can't get them any more."

"A few years ago we had what we called a 'Livest Movement going," said the hauler. "Sort of Bohemian. It's slowed away. I became an anarchist for a while. Now I'm interested in old boats and new boats."

POKE HAULS trash and furniture, does jobs such as laying linoleum, fixing fences and building houses. He works with Lindsay Cage on metals, he said. "Metals are low now. You can't sell them. Take tin, you haul a car away in two days and you get $18."

Poke is working on a torso from a 150 pound chunk of black Swedish granite which he brought home from Copenhagen. He has 50 tons of marble and is interested in doing a sculpture for Clem Miller's monument at Point Reyes.

He also plans to work on a bowsprit sculpture of Juanita Musson for her ferry boat, Charles Van Damme.

VAN ANDA OWNS property in Mill Valley, but says he wants to sell it and "visit some of the beautiful places in the world. I have been here since 1953," he said, "the longest time in any one place. I feel as if I had only been here about a year. I still feel almost a stranger.

"I'm going to build a boat and take up skin diving and go back to the rock jewelry thing. I have to travel. I have always been a traveler," he said.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

The Moment Of Truth Is At Hand When Cold War Takes Crucial Turn

WASHINGTON— Whatever the outcome of the portentous chain of events now in motion on the waters around Cuba, the most significant fact of all is that the hot cold war which the Soviet Union has been waging against the free world is entering a radically different and potentially decisive stage.

President Kennedy's decision, in face of the ominous build-up of offensive Soviet weapons in Cuba, to say to the Kremlin, "Thus far and no farther," adds a wholly new dimension to the cold war. It is not the same kind of cold war that it was before 7 p.m., Oct. 22.

THESE ARE the reasons:

1—For the first time since Stalin ringed the Iron Curtain around Eastern Europe after World War II and Khrushchev began his world-wide piece-meal aggression called "peaceful co-existence," there is a direct confrontation between the military power of the United States and the military power of the Soviet Union. This time there are no intermediaries. Heretofore, as in the unsuccessful Communist-bloc war against Greece, Moscow has used the forces of its satellites to procure its aggressions. Now it has nakedly committed its own forces in Cuba.

2—For the first time the United States has taken a stand which can in the end yield only one of three consequences — the backdown of the United States, the backdown of the Soviet Union, or war.

NOT ONCE SINCE the Kremlin acquired nuclear weapons has the Soviet Union ever relinquished an inch of territory it has siezed by force, whether in Poland or in Hungary or in East Germany or elsewhere.

But never before have Soviet forces been confronted by American forces—the crucial test is now in the making. Either the Soviet Union or the United States will have to back away. In either event the consequence will mark the turning-point in the cold war.

If Premier Khrushchev backs down, as it now seems, the out-thrusting power of the Soviet Union will not only have been arrested, it will have been reversed.

If President Kennedy backs down—and there is utterly no reason to believe he will—then the whole free world's resistance to out-thrusting power will decay and crumble.

Finally—and as well now as later—we face the crucial moment of truth as to whether the Soviet Union is prepared to accept nuclear war with all its horrendous destruction for both sides in its mad effort to achieve world domination.

FOR MORE THAN a decade the Kremlin has been trading on the universal fear of nuclear war. It has contended that if the United States resists the extension of Soviet power to West Berlin, we will be responsible for bringing on a nuclear war. It has contended that if the United States resists the build-up of Soviet power in Cuba, we will be responsible for bringing on a nuclear war.

Its contention is that there must be no line of resistance to be drawn anywhere to the expanding Soviet empire, lest the price be a nuclear holocaust. Its contention is that the extension of Soviet power is inevitable because resistance is too terrible to contemplate.

Sometime, somewhere, the moment of truth had to come. It has come in Cuba. We will soon know whether Moscow's overhanging threat of nuclear war is diplomatic blackmail or whether it is in reality reckless, unrestrained political madness.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

There Are Limitations To Value Of Changing Climate For Health

VAN DELLEN

The warm, pleasant climate of the south and southwest has a strong attraction for ailing northerners, particularly the elderly and those with arthritis and disorders of the heart, lungs, or circulation. There are limitations to the value of changing climate, especially if it involves traveling long distances.

Air travel in modern, pressurized cabins is ideal for most of those who go south for their health. Long trips by car are tiresome for the aged and for men and women with cardiovascular disorders.

The commercial air lines will take anyone who can get on or off the plane without trouble but they cannot be expected to run an ambulance service or to jeopardize the trip for others. Anxiety about air travel is easily controlled with sedatives or tranquilizers and the chance of developing air sickness is minimal on large planes.

A TRIP OF this type should not be undertaken by men and women in an advanced stage of the above mentioned diseases. They will get along better by remaining at home or in a hospital under the care of their own physician.

The majority are too ill to enjoy the benefits of a warmer climate and the strain of travel is likely to aggravate their condition. The same applies to victims of stroke with severe damage to the brain; they do better at home or in an institution.

A DIFFERENT climate also requires acclimation, especially when the contrast is marked. People who spend the winter in the south should not return north until April, when the weather is warmer. The alternative is to stop for a few days in a moderate climate on the way home.

Changing climate does not cure any disease and spending the winter in Florida, along the gulf, or in Arizona or southern California does not mean the end of medical care or throwing caution to the winds. The sun still burns and swimming in cold water is harmful when the blood pressure is high or the old ticker is impaired.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer yuestions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

HAIR PHOBIAS

Mrs. J. A. writes: What is the medical term for pulling out hair (in front of a mirror)? Is this a form of insanity?

REPLY

Trichotillomania is the habit of plucking hairs. It is called trichologia when it becomes a tic and carphologia when the individual unconsciously picks at this or that, including hair. The first is seen occasionally in the insane and the neurotic but is not necessarily a sign of insanity.

SWELLING AFTER FRACTURE

M. F. writes: I'm home after six weeks in the hospital with a broken leg and am using a walker. I notice my knee and upper leg swell after I'm up and around for a while. Is this natural?

REPLY

FUMIGATION AFTER CANCER

W. P. writes: Should an apartment where a cancer patient died be fumigated before moving in?

REPLY

No, even though viruses are the cause of some cancers. Viruses can exist only in living cells and cannot be transmitted from floors or walls.

CLOT PREVENTIVES

S. S. writes: Can anticoagulants be used as a preventive of heart attacks?

REPLY

Yes, but the risk of having blood that does not clot may be greater than having a heart attack. Let well enough alone.

The death of a senior British scientist from pneumonic plague was caused by an accidental infection in his laboratory. This is the hazard of handling virulent bacteria and the chance taken by research workers.

Those who were in contact with this man during his last few days have reason for concern because this type of plague is transmitted like an ordinary cold. Bubonic plague is conveyed by infected fleas that have fed on rodents such as rats but pneumonic plague is much more serious. To date, none of the victim's colleagues, or members of his family has acquired the disease. Neither have the physicians or nurses who cared for him during his illness.

BOTH FORMS of plague are caused by the same organism —Pasteurella pestis. The pneumonic form involves the lungs and symptoms are similar to ordinary pneumonia except in severity.

The bubonic type is much more common and is so named because buboes develop in the lymph glands in the neck, armpits, chest, and groins. The condition begins abruptly with chills, high fever, headache, vomiting, prostration, and delirium. We can do without this disease, considering the pandemics of bygone years that destroyed large segments of the population from time to time.

THE DISEASE responds to our modern antibiotics, including streptomycin, provided they are used early. The mortality rate has dropped from 70 per cent to less than 10 per cent with these drugs. I often wonder how many millions of lives would have been spared had these products been available two centuries ago.

But plague continues to be a problem in many parts of the world. There were 808 cases reported to the world health organization in 1961. These figures do not include those from the mainland of China. Contrast this with the 170,300 deaths that were reported annually from 1919 to 1928.

THERE WERE three cases of plague in this country last year but this small number is nothing to brag about. There were only 24 cases in all of Africa, including nine suspected cases. Most of our few cases come from the southwest, indicating that a focus of the disease still exists. Let's hope the situation never gets any worse.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

DRUG REACTION

S. R. writes: Could the antiringworm pills cause reactions like a sense of fullness in the head that comes and goes?

REPLY

Possibly, because reactions to any drug are variable. This aftereffect is rare with griseofulvin but now and then the user complains of heartburn, nausea, upper abdominal discomfort, hives, or headache.

MONONUCLEOSIS

Mrs. T. writes: Please send information on glandular disease in children.

REPLY

This condition, now called infectious mononucleosis, usually is mild in children. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on this disease.

EYELID SPASMS

S. S. writes: What is the cause and what is the cure of eye twitching?

REPLY

Twitching eyelids often are associated with eye fatigue, or overindulgence in tea, coffee, or tobacco. Irritated and inflamed lids may lead to twitching.

RADIOACTIVE IODINE

C. L. B. writes: Is a radioactive thyroid test done to find out if cancer is present?

REPLY

Yes, but the I 131 test also is used to determine the rate of thyroid activity.

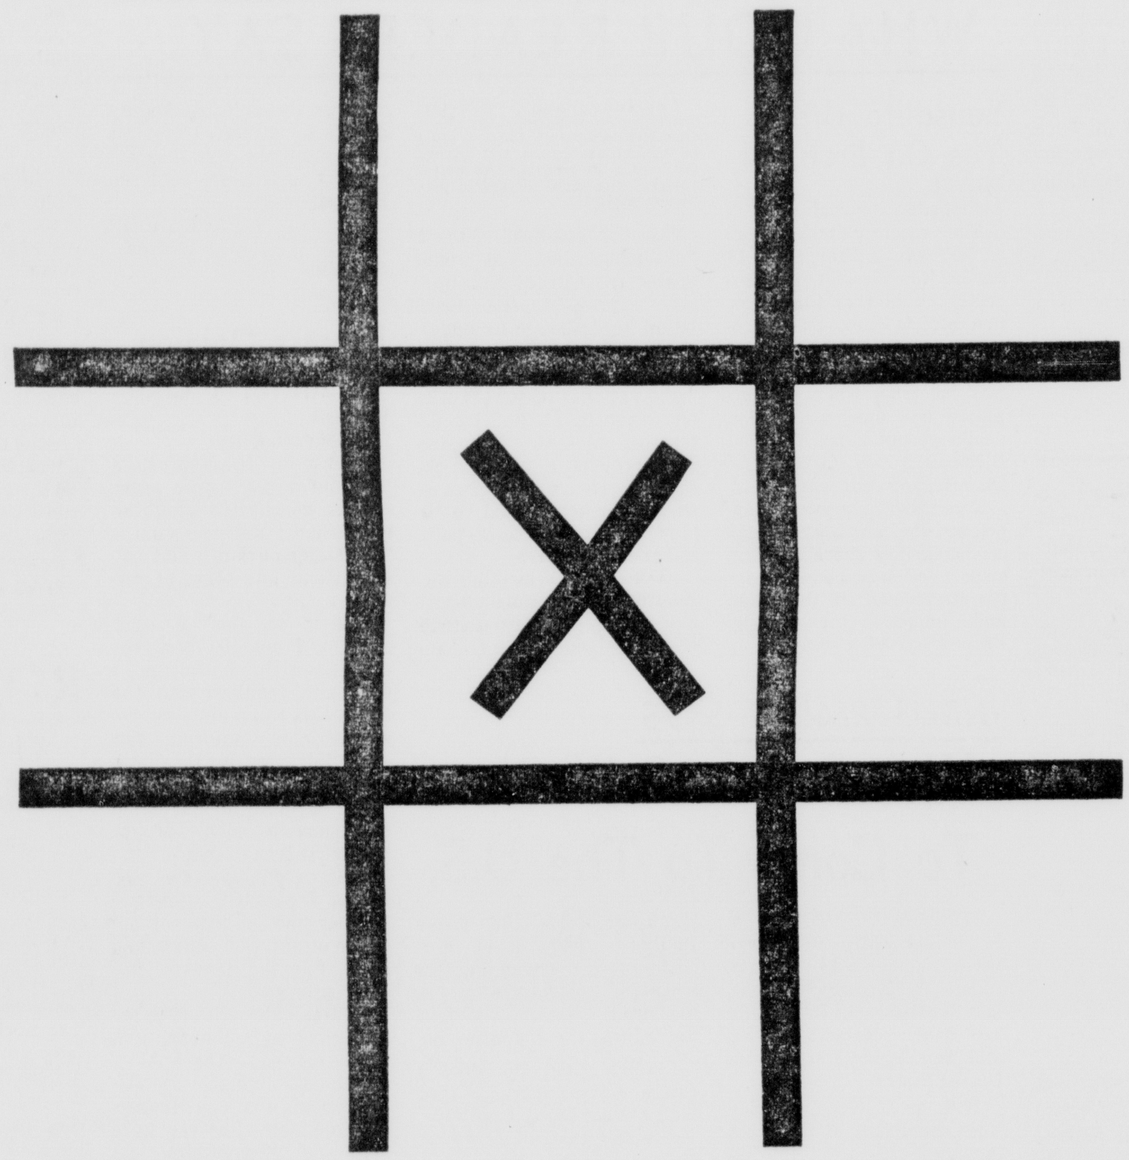
No Indian Votes

RED HOUSE, N.Y. (AP)—For the third time since 1956, the women of the Seneca Nation of Indians have been denied the right to vote in tribal affairs.

Indian men, by a vote of 120-106, voted Saturday against a proposed amendment to the nation's 114-year-old constitution providing for a vote for women.



THE FIRST MOVE in tic-tac-toe gets you started—but that's all. Skill and experience in the moves that follow decide the winner. It's the same in advertising. Your first move is to develop a strong sales story and express it in a good ad. Nice start. Next...get that ad before a large audience of ready-to-buy prospects. Skilled, experienced advertising men know they can do that best in the pages of the daily newspaper.

Four out of five adults read a daily newspaper on any given weekday, and each reader picks up and looks through his paper not just once, but an average of 2.4 times.* That means more sales messages delivered...more action per message. The next move is yours. Why not score with the daily newspaper?

Sierra Reservoir Open For Recreation Only

"This is the first recreational reservoir of its magnitude to be constructed anywhere in the United States or elsewhere in the world, as far as I can discover," said William E. Warne, director of water resources.

He was principal speaker at the groundbreaking ceremonies for the 2.92 million dollar dam on Indian Creek, a tributary of the Feather River. The site is about 6,000 feet high in the Sierra.

The earth-fill dam will be 105 feet high, 1320 feet long, and will store 21,000 acre feet of water in a lake over 900 acres. Construction is scheduled for completion in 1964.

The reservoir will provide water sports, plus water for downstream fish and wildlife.

It is the second of five reservoirs planned in the Upper Feather River Basin. The first, Frenchman Reservoir, was completed last year. No date has been set for start of work on the other three.

Novatan Is Named County Chairman For Heart Fund

Adolph L. Nieri of Novato will be chairman of the 1963 Heart Fund campaign for Marin County, the Marin County Heart Assn announced today.

Dr. Gerson Jacobs, president of the association, made the announcement as plans were being made for the committee assignments for the month-long campaign which begins Feb. 1.

Last year Nieri headed the "Heart-Days for Business" drive in Marin County.

Nieri is a vice president of the new Bank of Marin in San Rafael and has a banking career of over 20 years. He and his wife and two daughters reside at 42 Shields Lane, Novato.

Redwood High School junior Janet Virginia Cress, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Cress, 105 Laurel Grove, Kentfield, was chosen by the American Field Service selection committee as Redwood's semi-finalist to spend a school year abroad.

If AFS headquarters in New York approves her selection, Miss Cress will spend the next school year living with a family abroad and attending a European school.

Selected as semi-finalists to spend next summer in a foreign country were two juniors, Peter Holter, class president, and John A. Kaufman.

WILL AMERICA BE

OUT OF LUCK?

Industry and hard work brought America luck and leadership in business and trade, in science and living standards and in moral influence. How long can this last?

The future will tell. Leadership calls for leaders, and America will fall behind unless its colleges develop enough men and women with the special training today's problems demand.

But our colleges are in a squeeze. Some face shortages and in 10 years applicants will double. We need more and better laboratories, new facilities and, above all, many qualified teachers.

Tremendous Potential In Export Field For Small Manufacturers

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Marin County can hardly be called a manufacturing center by any stretch of the imagination, but here as elsewhere there are a number of small firms engaged in producing specialty items—and if they aren't looking for new markets and opportunities to increase sales, they should be.

Bank of America points out the tremendous potential for small manufacturers in the export field. A "Made in U.S.A." label has strong foreign appeal and there are still American firms selling textile products and cigarette lighters in Japan, chow mein in Formosa, typewriters in Europe.

Many producers feel that to export they have to get all involved in a maze of details, paper work, market studies, making contacts and getting paid. They don't realize it's not necessary to go through the whole process themselves.

For most small manufacturers with no export experience it's best to use the service of outside experts in the field. Goods can be sold directly to a U.S. export merchant who takes title and does the foreign marketing—or you can work through an export agent who finds buyers.

A bank with a strong international department can be helpful in developing contacts, credit information and collections if you set up your own export department. Other help can be secured from the U.S. Department of Commerce, Small Business Administration, world-wide trade directories.

HENRY H. WILKINS of Ross has been appointed sales manager of the northern district of Kaiser Steel Corporation's fabricating division. His office will be in the Kaiser Center, Oakland. He was previously sales manager of the Napa plant. New responsibilities cover sales in Northern California, Oregon, Washington and adjacent areas.

He joined Kaiser Steel in 1955 when it purchased the steel fabricating division of Basalt Rock Co. He had been with Basalt's Napa plant since 1941.

BRANWELL D. FANNING of Tiburon, vice president of Cartan Travel Bureau, Inc., San Francisco, announces the expansion of his company's international operations will include a South Pacific division to be headed by Jim Babcock, formerly with Matson Navigation Co. and a veteran of Pacific travel.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING manager Carl Lehman of the I-J tells me that with the increased number of Help Wanted ads being submitted, every effort is being made to identify them as bona-fide offers of employment which state or indicate the general nature of the work.

Advertisements for sales help must state the type of product or service to be sold and the basis of compensation. When based on commission, no statement of the amount that may be earned is acceptable.

Ads in their entirety are screened for creating misleading impressions even though each separate statement may be literally true.

Zoning Plea Before Planners

The Marin County Planning Commission will hear an application Nov. 5 for a change of zone from single family residential to administrative-professional for property on Reed Street near the Mill Valley city limits.

The application was submitted by I. N. and Betty Tucker.

The property abuts another parcel zoned administrative-professional at the northwesterly end, but lies between two other parcels zoned for single-family dwellings.

The application is the eighth item on the commission's agenda. The meeting will start at 9 a.m. at 1711 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

Don't Duck Second Punch Against Polio

Marin County volunteers hope to make the second punch even heavier than the first when they man 20 immunization stations Sunday for the second round of the Bay Area K.O. Polio drive.

Type II Sabin oral vaccine will be metered onto thousands of sugar cubes for the 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. clinics. Doctors sponsoring the campaign to end polio in the Bay Area hope to equal or surpass the Sept. 23 turnout for Type I vaccine, termed the greatest one-day immunization operation in medical history.

BIG TURNOUT

The turnout for the first K.O. Polio assault was 77 per cent in the six Bay Area counties.

This was in marked contrast to results in Los Angeles County, where only slightly more than 19 per cent of the population received Type I vaccine.

Nearly 8,000 volunteers will have a hand in Sunday's drive. Among these are more than 700 doctors, nurses and lay workers.

EVERYONE URGED

The sponsoring Marin Medical Society, with Dr. Eugene P. Shatkin as Marin's drive coordinator, urged everyone to attend the handiest immunization station Sunday for seconds on Sabin vaccine.

The three types of vaccine to be administered in the K.O. Polio campaign safeguard against three types of polio.

Donations of 25 cents per dose of vaccine will be requested to help defray expenses of the program.

Board Due Plan To Charge For Civic Center Brochure

Marin County supervisors will be asked tomorrow to begin charging 50 cents a copy for the civic center souvenir brochure, of which 7,500 copies have already been distributed free.

The county has paid $4,800 for the printing of 10,000 brochures, written and designed by the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation. John F. Barrows, assistant county administrator, will suggest to the board that the cost of future printings should be met by a 50-cent charge, otherwise the "general taxpayer must continue to bear the cost."

Sale of the brochures might be handled by the Marin Visitors Bureau, according to Barrows.

County Administrator Alan Bruce originally suggested a charge for the brochures, but the supervisors insisted on free distribution.

Barrows said most of the brochures were given out at the civic center dedication Oct. 13. About 2,500 have been distributed since then, "reflecting a continuing heavy demand."

Other matters at the board meeting, which begins at 9 a.m., include:

Setting a date for interviews of candidates for county veterans' service officer to replace W. P. Duhamel, who will retire Dec. 1.

Discussion of the job requirements for the proposed parks and recreation director and a "program statement" of the parks and recreation commission.

ANTI-SMOKING PROGRAM SET AT DRAKE HIGH

First program of the Marin Medical Society-American Cancer Society series on "smoking education" will be held Wednesday at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo.

Drs. Fred Coe, William Filante, Morris Katkov, Andrew Noble, Richard Wolk and Elmer Weden will be speakers. A new American Cancer Society film, "Is Smoking Worth It?" will be shown. There will be a question and answer period.

Dr. Gerald Hill, chairman of the public relations committee of the Marin Medical Society and president of the Marin branch of the American Cancer Society, said the program is available for other schools, and for service clubs and other organizations. Arrangements for it may be made by calling either the Marin Medical Society or American Cancer Society, he said.

2 Liquor Licenses Bids Disapproved

Jerome Utz, attorney for the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Department, Friday recommended suspension of the liquor license of a San Rafael Liquor store and denial of a petition for an on-sale liquor license at a San Rafael delicatessen.

Utz, at a hearing in the San Rafael Labor Temple, said a 16-year-old girl bought whisky, vodka and beer at Le Jac's Liquors, 1008 Third Street, San Rafael, over a two-month period. The store is owned by John J. and Tressie G. Taaffe.

A petition for a liquor license by John J. Jandel at the Rue de la Paix, 1611 Fourth Street, was recommended for denial on the basis that Jandel misrepresented certain facts.

The hearing officer, Ivors Dains, forwards his recommendation to the director of the ABC who makes the final ruling.

Someone Packed Off A Pachyderm

A thief broke a chain to steal a six-foot wooden elephant god carved by Sausalito artist Barney West from beside Bridgeway Boulevard Friday night, Mrs. West reported Saturday.

The carved figure, one of West's famous tikis, had been chained to a tree. About 10 a.m. today, Mrs. West found it had vanished. A broken link of the chain lay beside the road.

On Wednesday night, two of West's tikis were damaged in an attempt to steal them, the Wests told Sausalito police. The tikkis were inland from the Wests' ark on Mono Street.

West today offered $75 reward for information leading to the recovery of the elephant god.

JFK Appoints Crisis Negotiators; Marinites Called With A.F. Wing

MARIN AMONG LEADING COUNTIES IN INCOME

Marin County has the eighth highest median family income of counties in the United States and ranks first in California, according to figures from the U.S. Census Bureau.

From information gained in the 1960 census, the median income of a family in Marin was pegged at $8,110. San Mateo County follows Marin both in the national and state rankings with an average income of $8,103.

The top 10 counties in the country are Montgomery County, Md., $9,317; Los Alamos, N.M., $9,269; Arlington County, Va., $8,670; Fairfax County, Va., $8,607; Du Page County, Ill., $8,570; Nassau County, N.Y., $8,515; Johnson County, Kan., $8,161; Marin and San Mateo counties, and Westchester County, N. Y., $8,502.

80 Local Airmen In Uniform

Air Force reservists of the 349th Troop Carrier Wing from the Bay Area, including about 80 Marin County residents, were called into active duty yesterday as a result of the Cuban crisis.

An Air Force spokesman at Hamilton Air Force Base, where the 1,200 reservists were processed, said they were recalled to active duty for 12 months.

MORNING CALL

The orders originating in the Defense Department to call up the reservists, which came via the Continental Air Command Headquarters in Georgia, were received at the base at 3 a.m.

They did not specify that the troop carrier wing, whose job is to transport troops and material in C-119 "Flying Boxcars," would be shipped out.

The spokesman said, however, the wing "could be ready to go tomorrow" if the orders were issued.

NATIONAL MOVE

The Bay Area reserve unit was part of a national callup of 24 troop carrier squadrons and support units from 20 states and 14,000 reservists.

The 349th Troop Carrier Wing was called up for the Korean War. About 30 per cent of the reserve unit consists of Korean War veterans, according to the spokesman. It also contains some World War II veterans.

Air Force officials at Hamilton termed the reactivation a "no-notice recall." There was no prior notification of having to go on active duty status as there was for the Berlin crisis last year, they said.

COULD GO HOME

Most reservists were awakened with notices shortly after 3 a.m. Bay Area radio stations were alerted and a predetermined system of one reservist calling another was put into effect.

Reservists started reporting to the air base at 5 a.m. Processing of personnel forms, equipment, and medical checkups started shortly afterward and continued all day.

By 4 p.m. most of the processing had been completed and units had begun inspections and formations, with scattered reservists in civilian clothes standing in the ranks.

Among the 1,200 called up were six members of the Women's Air Force, WAFs

For almost all the reservists, the recall was unexpected, with only a few hearing radio announcements earlier in the evening that unspecified troop carrier wing units would be called to active duty.

The telephone rang in the apartment of S/Sgt. Harold M. Buck at 50 Alexander Avenue, San Rafael, at 5 a.m. with the news coming from his master sergeant, Bill Bator of 31 Corillo Drive.

Nikita Softens On Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—President John F. Kennedy set up a special three-man committee today to handle negotiations looking toward an end to the Cuban crisis.

Kennedy designated John J. McCloy, whom he previously had appointed special assistant to U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson during the period of the Cuban emergency, as chairman of the group.

FULL TIME STUDY

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger described the group as "a coordinating committee to give full time and attention to the matters involved in the conclusion of the Cuban crisis."

He said the group would report directly to the president but act under the supervision of the three officials concerned. These are Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, and Stevenson.

DUTY IN N.Y.

Salinger said the coordinating committee would function in New York.

The press secretary said it would be concerned with "implementing the letters of President John F. Kennedy and Premier Nikita Khrushchev."

In these letters, exchanged over the weekend, Soviet Premier Khrushchev pledged dismantling of Soviet bases in Cuba and a halt to the delivery of offensive weapons to the Castro regime in return for an end to the U.S. blockade and a no-invasion pledge.

Khrushchev has dispatched Deputy Foreign Minister Vassily Kuznetsov to the United Nations to work with Acting Secretary-General U Thant in dealing with the many details involved in a settlement.

Salinger said he had no information as to whether McCloy, Ball and Gilpatric would

Brown Tells Defense Plans

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown, just back from civil defense briefings in Washington, today said the state will:

1. Mark buildings capable of providing shelter for four million persons.
2. Improve a program of assigning disaster duties to various state departments.
3. Renew a request that the federal government increase the supply of wheat stockpiled in California by several million bushels.
4. Make full use of the state's Disaster Control Board, part of the governor's cabinet.

Creating Khrushchev Image

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press and radio did its best today to depict Premier Nikita Khrushchev as the man who averted a possible thermonuclear war over Cuba.

This was coupled with warning that the West should not interpret Soviet "peacefulness as a weakness."

JFK, Nikita May Be On Nobel List

OSLO (UPI)—Both President John F. Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev are believed to be on the secret list of candidates for the Nobel Peace Prize this year, informed sources said today.

No More Leaves In Soviet

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet military personnel will be granted no leaves until the U.S. arms blockade around Cuba is lifted, a Soviet military source said tonight.

Gen. Norstad To Stay On Job

PARIS (UPI)—The North Atlantic Treaty Organization announced tonight that Gen. Lauris Norstad would stay on as supreme allied commander in Europe until Jan. 1. NATO sources said he delayed his retirement by two months because of the critical world situation.

RUSS TOUR REPORT

No Salesmanship Needed In USSR

(Editor's note: This is the seventh of a series of interviews with Marinites who visited the USSR with the Marin Executive Delegation.)

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Soft goods, Mayer explains, is a trade term which excludes such hard goods as household furnishings.

"It's interesting to see people standing three and four deep at a counter with but one clerk to wait on them," said Mayer. He said he saw this at the GUM department store in Moscow, a store which does an annual volume of about $270,000,000.

"I found there was no such thing as salesmanship. There didn't have to be. People were standing in line waiting to take the goods off the shelves . . . it was one of the poorest organized stores I have ever been in in my life but it's still doing business. The store is wholly owned by the state.

"I visited other stores not quite so big," the young businessman said. "I saw a woman's cloth coat fairly well styled out of good quality wool selling for around $200. That's two month's pay.

"They use a lot of synthetic furs. A good karakal cap runs around $90. Needless to say, I know of no one on our trip who bought one.

"A good pair of nylon hose costs around $5. This compares here to our hose which sell between $1.65 and $1.95.

"They were pushing for trade with the U.S.," said Mayer. "But it is a little difficult to understand on what basis because most of their trade they derive on a barter basis.

"I was asked more than once, 'why don't you buy things from Russia?'

"I had a simple answer. I

Two Boats Sink; Fumes Of Third Fell Woman

A fishing boat sank off the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday, a second went down in six feet of water in the San Rafael Canal, and a woman passenger was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes aboard a third.

Three occupants of a 26-foot cabin cruiser were rescued by a second fishing boat after their craft swamped and went down just outside the gate.

Harry E. Flowers, 40, of 11 Southwood Avenue, Ross, and Maurice Cawffet, 53, of San Francisco, owner of the boat, were treated for minor injuries at Letterman Army Hospital. Alfred L. Kendricks, 57, of San Francisco, who was piloting the boat, suffered a gash in the left forearm when he was thrown through a cabin window.

The boat encountered high waves about 2:12 p.m. between Point Bonita and Point Diablo and was swamped.

The three aboard were picked up by the fishing boat Martha out of San Francisco.

Another 26-foot boat, owned by Robert Rejeski of San Rafael, went down in six feet of water in the San Rafael Canal yesterday afternoon when a piece of wood was knocked through the hull by the propeller.

Rejeski managed to raise the craft with two inflated life rafts and tow it to San Rafael Marine Repairs Inc. at Harbor and Canal Streets.

Barbara Prah of San Francisco became seasick yesterday aboard a boat operated by Carl Nelson of San Francisco, off Sausalito. She went below to the cabin to rest. Fifteen minutes later, Nelson related, he went below to see how she was feeling and found her unconscious, overcome by carbon monoxide from the engine.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Missing Cuba Pilot Gets Medal

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — A Distinguished Service medal has been awarded to Maj. Rudolf Anderson Jr., 35, pilot of the U.S. reconnaissance plane missing in the Cuban area.

The pilot's father, Rudolf Anderson Sr. said yesterday he was notified of his son's award by Gen. Thomas S. Power, commander of the Strategic Air Command.

Maj. Anderson already holds the Distinguished Flying Cross with two oak leaf clusters for action in Korea and the Airman's Medal.

Two Die On Foggy Highway

WOODLAND (AP)—A little sports car hit a tanker truck and trailer on the foggy Sacramento-Woodland highway yesterday morning, killing a student from India and a Sacramento school teacher.

Killed were Paul Singh Heerey, 26, a graduate student in science at the University of California at Davis, and Miss Mary Emma Kelley, 35, of Sacramento.

The Highway Patrol said their sports car, driven by Heerey, went through a stop sign, hit between the truck and trailer, and the trailer ran over it. The truck driver, Louis Martin, 36, was not hurt.

This Man, 86, Won't Go To War

NASHVILLE, Tenn (AP)—William R. Cantrell said he would tell his draft board today he has no intention of going to war and it would be a mistake to call him up.

"I'd do 'em a heap of good," he snorted after getting a draft notice in the mail. Cantrell is 86.

Train Delayed

BERLIN (UPI)—East German guards today held up the Aachen-Berlin Express train for an hour just outside the West Berlin border and made an inch-by-inch search of the train.

Passengers said the East German guards halted the train, which runs between West Germany and Berlin, at the Griebnitzsee Station. They said the guards checked and rechecked travel documents in addition to making an intensive search of the cars.

Six Killed

PASADENA (UPI) — Six persons, including an off-duty policeman and his wife, were killed and two others were injured today in a two-car collision at a busy intersection.

Police said a large sedan rammed broadside into a compact car making a left turn at Orange Boulevard and Craig Avenue. The compact car careened onto a lawn and came to a halt with the motor still running.

Minutes later the compact "came to life" as the accelerator somehow was pushed to the floor and the car made a U-turn onto the boulevard, narrowly missing two pedestrians and roaring into a tree on the opposite side of the street.

All six passengers in the compact were killed. Police said that at least two persons were thrown from the car.

Council's 2nd Week

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The Ecumenical Council's second week of debate opened today but the week will be cut short by religious holidays and preparations for an anniversary celebration for Pope John XXIII.

The topic this week is the same as last—the liturgy of the church. That is, the form of public worship including the Mass.

Council officials, apparently responding to complaints last week that the Latin-language debates are moving too slowly, asked speakers to be "brief and concise." But an official communique indicated this was more a hope than an order.

Moonlet Planned

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The United States, fresh from a puzzling "partial" success with its new Explorer XV satellite, went ahead today with plans to launch another artificial moonlet this week.

The upcoming shot, scheduled for tomorrow morning, will attempt to put a 350-pound "winking star" satellite called "Anna" into orbit to help missilemen and mapmakers accurately pinpoint any spot on earth.

Officials said the 98-pound moonlet was left spinning about 10 times too fast as it soared around earth—a problem which ruined some of the experiments.

Hoffa Trial

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — The second week of James Hoffa's conspiracy trial got under way today with government prosecutors attempting to prove charges that the labor leader shared in a one-million-dollar illegal payoff.

The controversial boss of the huge Teamsters Union is under indictment for violation of the Taft-Hartley laws.

Machine Gun Deaths

NUORO, Sardinia (UPI)—Two British citizens were found machine gunned to death late last night by shepherds in the bandit infested hill country of nearby Orgosolo, police reported today.

Police identified the victims as a man and a woman, both from Kenya. They said the identification was made from papers left in the couple's car along the road. They refused to reveal any names.

New Hebrew Month

HAIFA, Israel (UPI)—An inked inscription on a clay jar recently discovered near the Dead Sea added another month to the ancient Hebrew Calendar, Archaeologist Dr. Yohanan Aharoni said in a lecture here this weekend.

Aharoni said the month — Tsah — was one of four which are no longer used in the Hebrew calendar. He said the Bible mentions only three ancient months — Eytanin, Ziv and Bul.

Reverse Flow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. balance of payments deficit registered a three fold increase in the July-September quarter, reaching an annual rate of 2.6 billion dollars.

The sharp set-up from the April-June rate of 872 million dollars was attributed largely to a quick reversal of the large flow of capital from Canada that helped reduce the U.S. payments deficit earlier in the year.

U.S. PLANE FLIES OVER SOVIET RUSSIA

President John F. Kennedy acknowledged yesterday that an American aircraft sampling air in connection with the current Soviet nuclear tests made a "serious" navigational error.

He told Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who raised the specter of accidental war over the incident, that he would take steps to prevent a recurrence.

Khrushchev said in his message to Kennedy concerning withdrawal of missiles from Cuba that the plane violated Soviet air space over the Chukotka Peninsula, near Alaska.

Kennedy replied: "I have learned that this plane, without arms or photographic equipment, was engaged in an air sampling mission in connection with your nuclear tests. Its course was direct from Eielson Air Force Base in Alaska to the North Pole and return.

"In turning south, the pilot made a serious navigational error which carried him over Soviet territory. He immediately made an emergency call on an open radio for navigational assistance and was guided back to his home base by the most direct route.

"I regret this incident and will see to it that every precaution is taken to prevent recurrence."

Khrushchev had told Kennedy that in view of the current tensions, such incidents "could lead to a fatal step."

Kennedy said shortly after taking office that "flights of American aircraft penetrating the air space of the Soviet Union have been suspended since May, 1960. I have ordered that they not be resumed."

Khrushchev told Kennedy the U.S. flight over Russia took place on Oct. 28 and said "one asks, Mr. President, how should we regard this? What is it? A provocation?

"Your aircraft violates our frontier and that at times as anxious as those we are now experiencing, when everything has been placed in a state of fighting readiness," Khrushchev said.

De Gaulle Wins, But Narrowly

PARIS (AP) — France waited anxiously today to see if President Charles deGaulle considered his referendum victory decisive enough for him to stay on as president. The outlook was that he would and that the nation would continue in a period of bitter political strife.

The country's voters yesterday approved de Gaulle's proposed constitutional amendment providing for direct election of future presidents, an issue which de Gaulle turned into a real test of strength with the majority of the nation's politicians.

He deliberately tied his political life to a solid majority, saying he would resign if the approval was "weak, mediocre or doubtful."

De Gaulee won, but the margin was less than his followers expected, and only a minority of the French electorate approved his proposal.

Complete official returns from metropolitan France, including Corsica, were:

"Yes" — 12,810,840, 61.7 per cent of valid ballots.

"N" — 7,939,399, 38.26 per cent of valid ballots.

The "yes" votes represented only 46.3 per cent of the registered voters. Fully a fourth of the electorate abstained, by staying at home although some cast blanks or spoiled their ballots. De Gaulle's backing on previous referendums had never been less than 56 per cent of all the voters.

Contract Dispute

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The five-month dispute over a new union contract at Aerojet-General Corp, missile plant in Sacramento and Azusa took a new twist yesterday.

In Azusa, the IAM voted by a 7-1 ratio to accept it.

Overall, the vote was heavily against it since Sacramento has 6,500 members and Tzusa only 2,000.

Cameras Still Watch Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. reconnaissance planes focused their sensitive cameras on Cuba today in search of evidence that the Russians are starting to dismantle their missile bases there.

The American quarantine fleet remained on guard in the Atlantic. But no Soviet ships were reported within two or three days' steaming time of the U.S. quarantine line thrown up nearly a week ago.

There was an almost tangible easing of the tension that gripped the nation during the past week of crisis.

There was no accompanying reversal of the military preparations which had been mounting toward an indicating bombing strike or invasion of Cuba.

Informed officials said they don't expect to see any substantial reduction in those land, sea and air preparations at least until this country is convinced the missile threat from Cuba is removed.

Even after that it is almost certain that aerial surveillance will be continued over Cuba to make sure there is no sneak try at setting up ballistic missiles pointed toward the United States.

Authorities said the 14,000 Air Force Reservists who went on active duty Saturday probably will be kept in service for the time being.

The Pentagon announcement Saturday night that the Reservists were being called up to man troop-carrying planes hinted very strongly at a possible invasion.

Officials believe the significance of this pointed announcement—together with a declaration that appropriate measures will be taken to insure that U.S. reconnaissance aircraft are protected — was not lost on the Kremlin.

They said the United States was speaking to Soviet Premier Khrushchev through these announcements, and they called the studied U.S. military build-up "a most dramatic application of military force to achieve diplomatic ends."

VENEZUELA OIL FIELD WRECKED

U.S. Warns Of Sabotage Campaign

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — U.S. diplomats are alerting Latin-American governments against an expected continent-wide Castro sabotage campaign believed launched yesterday with bombings that knocked out one-sixth of Venezuela's oil production.

Authoritative sources in Washington said Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro gave the signal for general terrorist action in Latin America with the American-operated oil fields in Venezuela a prime target. Saboteurs dynamited four power stations of the Creole Petroleum Corp. at Lake Maracaibo, which holds beneath its waters one of the world's richest oil stores. The lake, roughly 75 miles wide and 130 miles long, lies about 300 miles west of Caracas.

The bombers struck shortly after midnight Saturday a few hours after President Romulo Betancourt ordered mobilzation of the armed forces to counter what he called the threat to Venezuela of "the reservoir of Soviet nuclear rockets in Cuba."

U.S. officials were reported reminding Latin Americans that while a settlement may now be in sight to dismantle the Soviet missile sites, the long-range problem of dealing with Castro in this hemisphere will remain.

Venezuela blamed the oil field bombing on "Communists." Two suspects were hauled out of the debris-strewn waters of Lake Maracaibo after the blasts destroyed transformer stations of Creole Petrolem, a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey.

A Creole spokesman said the entire Tijuana oil field in the lake was rendered inoperable. He estimated it would take about a month to get the field back to its daily production of 525,000 barrels. Other sources said it might take as long as three months.

Cuba Crisis Draws Large Number Of Worshippers To U.S. Churches

By LOUIS CASSELS
U.P. International

Prayers for peace were offered at Protestant and Roman Catholic services across the land. Many pastors appealed in their sermons for national restraint, and voiced hope that dismantling of Soviet missile bases could be achieved by negotiation rather than military action.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's letter to President John F. Kennedy, offering to dismantle the bases, was made public while millions of Americans were attending or en route to church.

In Atlanta, Ga., the Rev. Alfred Hardmman read the news bulletin from the pulpit of St. Philips Episcopal Church.

"This is indeed a day of joy, a day of rejoicing and thanks to almighty God," he said.

A spokesman for St. Mary's of the Mount Catholic Church in Pittsburgh said the number of confessions had tripled in recent days.

The Roman Catholic bishops of the United States asked their parishes to observe Sunday, the feast of Christ the king, as "a day of prayer to beseech God's blessing on our president and government."

"We urge our Catholic people to implore divine providence to grant that peace with freedom and justice be preserved," said the statement sent from Rome by the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

In New York, a capacity crowd of about 1,800 persons, 200 more than average, filled Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church. The pastor, Dr. Bryant M. Kirkland, said great "intensity of feeling" was evident in the congregation's participation in hymns and prayers.

From the pulpit of Washington National Cathedral, the Rev. Francis B. Sayre Jr. read a joint statement from seven of the nation's leading Protestant theologians, including Reinhold Niebuhr and Paul Tillich.

They commended Kennedy's actions in the Cuban crisis to date as "restrained, courageous and necessary under the circumstances involved." But they said Americans had a moral obligation to explore "every possible avenue" for peaceful solutions before resorting to military force in this or any similar future crisis.

Meredith Sees Taboo On Discussion

JACKSON (UPI) — Negro James Meredith says any talk of his admittance to the University of Mississippi apparently has been declared taboo in the state's Negro school system.

Meredith said in a telephone interview from Oxford yesterday, he had received thousands of letters from students in other states but not more than a handful from Mississippi.

"Either students in Mississippi are being pressured, or they are against my enrolment, or they are insensitive to the situation," he told United Press International. "The first reason seems the most likely."

"I haven't even received a single word from my old school, Jackson State College," Meredith added.

FIRE CAUSES BUILDING TO FALL

Baltimore firemen take cover from the intense heat of a 12-alarm blaze behind a tractor-trailer truck last night. Seconds before this picture was taken the side wall of the building in downtown Baltimore collapsed, sending flames 150 feet in the air and forcing firemen back. Exec Who Ran Out On Firm Returns

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fugitive financier Edward M. Gilbert, who fled the country after telling his board of directors he had withdrawn nearly two million dollars from his firm without authorization, returned voluntarily from his Brazilian sanctuary today.

Gilbert was met at International Airport by two U.S. marshals who took him into custody to face charges in connection with manipulators of the funds belonging to the E. L. Bruce Co., a hardwood flooring manufacturer, of which he was president.

Gilbert's lawyer, Arnold Bauman, who also met the balding, 38-year-old financier, said he planned to have his client plead innocent at his arraignment later today.

"We'll have to see what happans in court," Bauman said.

Bauman said Gilbert left New York in a "state of shock," and returned because "he wishes to do the best he can to untangle his snarled affairs."

"He wants to make restitution and to do his level best to see that nobody has been hurt by his actions," Bauman said.

Gilbert, asked how he felt about being back in the United States, said, "I'll answer that question in a few minutes," apparently referring to what happens during his arraignment.

Gilbert's return reduced to three the number of American financial "wizards" who remain in Brazil to escape prosecution for illegal dealings. Brazil has no extradition treaty with the United States.

Expanding Schools Called Reason For Higher Marin County Taxes

Rapidly expanding schools are the major reason for increases in Marin property taxes, County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel stated in a comparison of Marin taxes with taxes in other counties.

Commenting on statistics selected by the California Taxpayers' Assn., Broemmel said that while the tax per capita in Marin is lower than that of other Bay Area counties, the Marin homeowner bears a greater share of taxes because of so little commerce and industry.

During the past fiscal year, Marin's tax per capita was $148, and the county was 22nd from the county with the highest tax per capita.

San Francisco, Contra Costa, San Mateo and Santa Clara counties were all higher than Marin. The statewide average was $149.

But during the past five years, Marin's school tax levies increased 145 per cent, third highest increase in the state, with Santa Clara and Orange counties only slightly higher.

During the same five-year period, Marin's basic county tax (excluding schools, cities and special districts) increased 52 per cent.

Sausalito Board To Discuss Size Of School Classes

Sausalito School District trustees will hold a special board meeting at 8 p.m. today in the district office to discuss equalizing size of fourth grade classes in the district.

The question was discussed a week ago and a decision postponed as to whether a class should be moved from Bayside School, where three fourth grade classes are small, to Richardson Bay, where two classes are large. Counter-suggestions were made that some fourth graders be moved from Richardson Bay to Bayside or that all fourth graders be moved to Bayside.

Reed Trustees Due Tam Report Discussion

At a special meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Reed School, the Reed Union School District trustees will discuss recommendations to be made to the Augmented County Study Committee for the Tamalpais Union High School District at its meeting on Nov. 28. A committee will also be appointed to study merit pay for teachers.

Following the meeting an executive session will be held to discuss employment of personnel.

6,000 Children Plan Marin UNICEF March

More than 6,000 Marin children are expected to participate Wednesday in the annual UNICEF Trick or Treat campaign by collecting small change for the United Nations Children's Fund.

Last year the UNICEF drive netted $3,647.83 in the county to provide milk and medicine for needy children in other countries.

Nationwide about three million children gathered more than two million dollars for assistance in 107 countries.

Children collecting coins will be supervised by adults. In Sleepy Hollow, neighborhood mothers will dress as witches to accompany the youngsters.

Mrs. Dore Schwab of Winding Way, Ross, will direct this year's drive for the Marin chapter of the American Association for United Nations. Assisting are 14 area chairmen.

Besides the Hallowe'en doorbell-ringing campaign, there will be a benefit dance Saturday by the YMCA inter-club council to raise additional funds for UNICEF. Sir Francis Drake Hi-Y and Tri-Y clubs will donate all food and decorations, and the Rex Larson Combo will contribute music.

Bootblack Faces Driving Charge

A San Rafael bootblack was booked in Marin County Jail by San Rafael police yesterday on a drunk driving charge after his car pushed a 40-pound rock and damaged a porch on Rafael Drive.

Police said a car driven by Frank Smith, 66, of Vallejo, who shines shoes at a Fourth Street barber shop, damaged the front porch of George W. Presson at 15 Rafael Drive and tore up shrubbery belonging to Walter E. Zurcher at 14 Rafael Drive.

Presson told police he heard a crash at 12:11 a.m. and dashed out to see Smith trying to back away from his porch by driving forward. The rock, beside the road, was pushed 24 feet, police said.

Kuchel Sees No Politics In Crisis

The solidarity of the people of the United States and of the western hemisphere in the Cuban crisis has had "a profound effect on the peoples of the free world and of the Soviet leaders," Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel told a Mill Valley audience today.

Kuch, Republican incumbent seeking reelection, said he was "exceedingly distressed" that "anyone could accuse the president of the United States of "politics" in relation to the Cuban decision.

Kuchel was flown back to Washington in an Air Force jet a week ago to confer with the president and other leaders in the crisis.

He told about 50 people in the Mill Valley Tennis Clubhouse that the president's action was taken "because the safety of the United States was endangered."

The senator made a quick tour through Marin County this morning. He visited briefly in the county courthouse in San Rafael before attending the Mill Valley meeting. He was introduced by Robert Acott, his northern California campaign manager.

Kuchel predicted that five million dollars would be appropriated for purchase of the first portion of Point Reyes Seashore "within 30 days after the next congress convenes." He said the special appropriation measure which he introduced in the closing days of the last session died when house leaders "junked the whole appropriations bill."

Discussing other problems, Kuchel, who has served 10 years in the senate, said:

"We must face current problems as they are, like the fact that the common market actually exists."

Red China cannot be admitted to the United Nations because it is not a peace-loving country, he declared.

We can make no agreements with the Soviet Union which are not "fool-proof," he asserted, pointing to Russia's insistence right up to Saturday that it had placed no offensive weapons in Cuba.

accompany U Thant to Havana tomorrow to meet with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro and devise methods of confirming that the Soviets offensive weapons are removed.

Khrushchev's pledge was hailed in Western capitals as a stunning victory for the United States.

Informed sources said there were no deals or secret understandings involved with the Soviet leader's offer to dismantle the Cuban bases and return their rockets to the Soviet Union. The only price he asked was a guarantee, which Kennedy gave, that the United States would not invade Cuba.

'GRIM WEAPONS'

American diplomats focused on working out arrangements for U.N. inspection of the withdrawal from Cuba of the "grim weapons" which Khrushchev, under threat of forceful U.S. action, dramatically announced he would ship back to the Soviet Union.

Militarily, the U.S. Navy marked time while Soviet ships once headed for Cuba stayed from two to three days' sailing time away. The State Department announced that while the quarantine against offensive weapons shipments to Cuba continues, it expects no interceptions by the U.S. blockaders.

Washington authorities said they did not know at the moment whether the building of Soviet missile sites in Cuba—reported proceeding at a rapid pace Saturday—had stopped. They figured speedy dispatch of a U.N. team to Cuba would help check that.

Khrushchev agreed to defuse the missile bases in a letter to Kennedy made public yesterday morning in Moscow. The Soviet leader said "the interests of peace" guided his decision.

Obviously eager to match his adversary's conciliatory tone, Kennedy issued a public statement praising Khrushchev's decision as statesmanlike and as "an important and constructive contribution to peace." In a quick reply to the premier, Kennedy said Khrushchev had made possible "a step back from danger."

part of the Air Force reserve technician program. They agreed, "we were groomed for going back in. The only difference is the change from civilian to military pay."

Buck, a veteran of the Korean War, said, "If it's gotta be done, it's gotta be done." Bator agreed.

For A/2c Douglas Webber of 930 West California Avenue, Homestead Valley, it was a little different. Webber, who heard the news of the recall on the radio at 8 a.m., purchased the Shell Service Station at 77 West Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, nine months ago.

"I have no idea what will happen to the service station," he said.

A/1c William Gaffney of 601 Main Street, Sausalito, commented, "I think I can catch up on my job when I get out although I will be a couple of steps behind." Gaffney is a draftsman for a San Francisco civil engineering firm.

A/1c Lloyd Tunik of 175 Oak Drive, San Rafael, an attorney, said simply, "It's just part of our obligation."

AIRMAN ROBERT D. CARROW

Candidate Carrow Puts On His Uniform

Robert D. Carrow, Democratic candidate for State Assembly, processed the first morning report of the newly active 349th Troop Carrier Wing today as an airman second class in the wing's statistical department.

Carrow was among 1,200 Air Force reservists called to active duty yesterday at Hamilton Air Force Base.

On active duty, subject to shipping out any time, Carrow will miss scheduled campaign appearances in his effort to unseat Republican William T. Bagley on Nov. 6 as assemblyman from the Seventh District (Marin and Sonoma counties).

"I have no idea if I can get off the base for campaign speeches," the Novato attorney said today. "I am in the reserve and fulfilling my obligation.

Carrow's campaign manager, Caryl Conner, said members of Democratic organizations would speak for Carrow at scheduled campaign appearances he is unable to make. First of these will be at the Sausalito Women's Club at 8 p.m. today, where Carrow was to share the platform with Bagley.

The Democratic organization already is without a candidate for Congress, due to the plane crash death of incumbent Clem Miller on Oct. 7.

Formal Charge Is Filed Against Man For Assault

A formal charge of forcible rape was filed today against John Henry Bopp Jr., 42, of 67 Spruce Road, Fairfax, suspected of attacking an 85-year-old woman in her Kentfeild home Saturday morning.

Bopp, a sign painter, was held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $10,500 bail. He was scheduled to be arraigned in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

The victim, in near-hysteria, told investigators that a man had climbed in through a window, threatened to kill her if she screamed, and assaulted her.

Sheriff's deputies arrested Bopp, who was walking along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, a short time after the attack. Inspector Bowen Bridges and Sgt. Edward Levine said Bopp denied the attack.

OBITUARIES

Clothing Pioneer Block Dies

Charles A. Block, who for many years was president of L. and H. Block Co., pioneer San Francisco men's clothing manufacturers, died unexpectedly yesterday in his Corte Madera home, apparently of a heart attack. He was 67.

Block appeared in good health before collapsing about 10:30 a.m. A doctor, called at once, pronounced him dead.

He was a son of Harry Block and nephew of Leo Block, brothers who founded the clothing firm in San Francisco in 1863 to manfacture men's work clothes. In the 1920s, it began production of "Block-Bilt" leather jackets, which became nationally famous, and later expanded to make many types of men's sports wear.

During World War II, the firm made most of the leather flight jackets for the Navy's air arm.

In 1955, H. and L. Block Co. was sold to Day Trouser Co. of Spokane, Wash. Block then organized the firm of Charles Block and Associates in San Francisco as manufacturers' representatives in the men's clothing field. He headed that firm until his death.

He was a native of San Francisco and attended University of California.

He is survived by his widow, Bertha M., at the home at 6 Chickasaw Place, Corte Madera; a son, Richard C. Block of Oakland, manager of the Kaiser Broadcasting division of Kaiser Industries, and a daugther, Mrs. Florence Nestel of San Francisco.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Halsted and Co., San Francisco. Burial will be in Home of Peace Cemetery, Colma.

Probation Given In Check Case

Michael Dennis Maloney, 20, who took more than $2,700 in checks and cash from Lucky Store in Fairfax where he worked, drew two years probation and a suspended jail term today.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court sentenced the young father for grand theft.

Fairfax police arrested Maloney last month. Officers found about $1,100 in cash at Maloney's home, 78 Wreden Avenue, Fairfax. Checks, totaling $1,600, were found in an El Cerrito mail box.

Maloney has a six-month jail term hanging over his head if he violates probation.

Salesmanship Not Needed In Russia

didn't see anything there that would have appealed to my customers. Their soft goods, basically, weren't as good as ours nor as reasonably produced. You can't expect much trade on that basis.

"The only thing we have exported to Russia so far in any degree of quantity is jazz. Every hotel we stopped in had a dining room with an orchestra. At least 80 per cent of the music was American jazz. The only time I heard a song sung in English was in a Kiev hotel. It was 'When the Saints Go Marching In.'"

Mayer said he was pleased that everyone in the Marin group attended church services of some sort while in Russia.

"In Leningrad, a city of two and one-half million, there are about 20 'functioning' places of worship," he said. "Fourteen are Russian Orthodox. There are one Moslem mosque, one Baptist and one Catholic church, and one Jewish synagogue.

"There are approximately 200,000 Jews in Leningrad. Obviously 200,000 Jews can't worship in one synagogue. This is part and parcel of the destruction of religion in Russia.

"We also visited the atheist museum in Leningrad, dedicated and devoted to knocking of all religions. It is located in sight of a Russian Orthodox church to show the masses that religion is an opiate and nothing more."

Other impressions Mayer capsulized were:

"We were extremely cordially received; people on the street were not too inclined to talk to us; we never saw an unfriendly act the whole time we were there.

"The average worker's wage is around $100 a month but he gets an incentive bonus; vodka is from $4 to $5 a fifth.

"I don't remember a smile on any Russian's face.

"I would love to have every American make a trip to Russia to appreciate his own country more and because the more they see us and we see them, the better off the world is going to be.

DENSE FOG HAMPERS ALL TRAFFIC

Marin County's commuter automobile traffic crept along through dense fog early today while aircraft flew only on instruments.

"Instrument conditions developed at Hamilton Air Force Base at 7:18 o'cloc last night and continued past 10 a.m. today when ceiling was 200 feet and visibility one-eighth of a mile but the fog began to break up fast by 10:30 a.m. No interruption in operations resulted as all planes could operate on instruments.

The county airport north of Novato reported a "sock-in" with planes staying on the ground until the mid-morning fog breakup started.

The Commodore seaplane base had no flights scheduled and flying school patrons decided to stay away although the school reported local pattern flights possible soon after 10 a.m.

Sewage Monitor End Is Asked

A Nov. 15 session of the Bay Region Water Pollution Control Board in Oakland will consider Marin County's request that costly monitoring programs for the San Rafael Meadows and Venetia Harbor Sewer Maintenance Districts be suspended, the control board announced today.

The monitoring process now serves no useful purpose, according to the county health department, but to continue it according to requirements laid down by the control board would mean considerable cost and addition of personnel.

It is conceded that neither district is presently in position to handle sewer discharge in accordance with present control board standards and both are expected to arrange annexation to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District in accordance with board recommendations.

Alaska Becoming Important In Oil

NEW YORK (UPI)—Alaska is rapidly becoming an important oil producing state, according to Oil Facts magazine.

The first successful well was completed in September, 1957, and by 1961 the state ranked 19th among the 31 American States producing oil.

Tobacco Study Ordered By U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government has launched a study to find out how big a health threat tobacco is to the 70 to 100 million Americans who smoke.

Surgeon General Luther L. Terry, in naming the 10 medical experts to the special new advisory committee, said its first task will be to investigate the "nature and magnitude of the health hazard" of tobacco.

Five years ago, Terry's predecessor, Leroy E. Burney, said the weight of medical evidence "is increasingly pointing in one direction: that excessive smoking is one of the causitive factors in lung cancer."

Two years later, in 1959, Burney declared that the individual person's risk of lung cancer could best be reduced by the elimination of smoking.

After completing the first phase of the study, the committee or a successor panel will try to decide what, if anything, the government should do about smoking.

The second portion of the study could mean major political, economic and social problems for large segments of the American population.

In addition to the fact that between 70 and 100 million Americans now are using tobacco, there are these other aspects:

The tobacco industry has an estimated annual income of more than 7.5 billion dollars and pays about three billion dollars a year in state and federal taxes.

17 million Americans and the economies of six states could be drastically affected by any negative government decision about tobacco.

Not every expert is convinced smoking is dangerous. The Tobacco Institute recently said a warning statement by the Cancer Society "does not alter the fact that medical science does not know the cause of lung cancer."

Named to the new committee by Terry this weekend were: Louis F. Fieser, Harvard University; Dr. Emmanel Farber, University of Pittsburgh; Dr. Maurice H. Seevers, University of Michigan; Dr. Leonard M. Schuman, University of Minnesota; Dr. Charles Lemaistre, Southwestern Medical College; Dr. Jacob Furth, Francis Delafield Hospital; Dr. Walter J. Burdette, University of Utah; Dr. John B. Hickman, University of Indiana; William G. Cochran, Harvard University and Dr. Stanhope Bayne-Jones, Yale.

Redwood High School Plans Mock Election

Redwood High School students will cast their ballots for state officials and selected bond issues in a mock election during the noon hours Wednesday and Thursday.

On the same ballot will be an opinion poll.

In a recent poll of 10 per cent of the student body, Republican Richard M. Nixon was favored for governor. The poll, taken by the school newspaper, the Redwood Bark, showed 61 per cent favoring Nixon, 29 per cent for Democrat Edmund G. Brown, and 10 per cent undecided.

In the mock election, students will cast their votes for candidates for governor, attorney general, U.S. senator, U.S. congressman, state superintendent of schools, and state assemblyman.

State propositions on the ballot will be 1A, the state building bond proposal; 23, Senate reapportionment, and 24, the Francis Amendment.

The opinion poll will inquire about student attitude toward the way President John F. Kennedy has run his administration, and toward capital punishment, and fluoridation.

Budget Bureau Gets Marin Water Items

Four items of Marin County interest appeared in the water resources development program for the fiscal year 1963-64 just presented to the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with instructions of the late Rep. Clem Miller.

Before Miller's death Oct. 7 he prepared a six million dollar federal investment plan for flood control, water supply, navigation and recreation development in the seven counties of the First Congressional District.

His recommendations were to be presented by his staff to the Budget Bureau after presidential signature of this year's Public Works Appropriation Bill which occurred last Thursday. It included three Marin items two of which are to be carried farther if the new recommendations are followed.

A $15,000 item would apply to the Richardson Bay Basin, completing flood control survey of Coyote Creek and Arroyo Corte Madera del Presidio near Mill Valley. This year's bill had a $10,000 item to begin the flood control survey.

Corte Madera Creek would be subject to of $150,000 appropriations to begin the actual design work on the newly authorized 5.5 - million-dollar flood control project.

Important to the future of North Marin's water supply, the Dry Creek-Warm Springs Dam in Sonoma County would be subject of a $350,000 appropriation to advance the design of the newly authorized 4.5-million - dollar reservoir project. This year $100,000 went to start design of the Dry Creek Dam.

Cooperative Corner For This Campaigner

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP) — In Wyoming, one of the most effective ways to campaign for political office is to walk up and down Main Street of small communities and shake hands with voters.

BIG BANNER IS GIVEN A 'REPRIEVE'

An illegal banner advertising the Corte Madera Firemen's Ball was granted a "reprieve" today until next week.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst said he thought an order to remove the 15-foot banner across Tamalpais Drive should be taken up by the town council at its meeting next Monday night. Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow, who had ordered that it be taken down today, agreed.

Next Monday is Nov. 5. The Firemen's Ball is on Nov. 10.

Zoning Of Parcel On Plans Agenda

Public hearing will be held by the Marin County Planning Commission next Monday morning on a petition by I. N. and Betty Tucker for rezoning a property on Reed Street, just south of the Mill Valley City limits, to administrative-professional.

The property is near Miller Avenue and abuts a parcel facing on Evergreen Avenue which is already administrative-professional. The present zoning is one-family residential.

This will be the eighth item on an agenda starting at 9 a.m. at 1711 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

Ex-Convict Arraigned On Bad Check Charge

Ex-convict Edmund James Whalen, 55, formerly of San Rafael was arraigned Friday in Santa Rosa Municipal Court on a grand theft charge for allegedly cashing an unauthorized $2,600 check on the apple growers' union of which he was manager.

Whalen, who already was on parole from similar offenses, was returned to Santa Rosa on Thursday from Hawthorne, Nev., where he was apprehended. Sheriff's deputies in Santa Rosa said Whalen disappeared over a week ago, made a trip to Southern California, and bought a car in Bishop.

Whalen is charged with cashing a check on the Sebastopol Growers Union, of which he had been fresh fruit department manager for two years since his parole from prison.

The arraignment of Whalen was continued to allow him time to confer with the public defender of Sonoma County. Whalen told the court he had no funds with which to employ counsel. Meanwhile he was in jail with bail set at $10,500.

Gets Recognition After Retirement

TORONTO, Canada (UPI)—A Canadian firm has given a former employee a $2,000 suggestion award five years after his retirement.

The award was presented recently to 70-year-old Van H. Smith by Cyanamid of Canada Limited, a subsidiary of American Cyanamid Company.

Smith's suggestion was that ammonium nitrate prills be used instead of conventional explosives at the company's limestone quarry at Beachville, Ontario. Several years' experimentation were necessary to prove out the idea and put it into use at the quarry.

Tam Trustees To Hear Protests Against Steadman Talk At School

Tamalpais High School District trustees will hear a letter at next Monday's board meeting from 18 parents who objected to discussions of pacifist movements by nuclear test protestant Dr. Monte G. Steadman Jr. in Redwood High School classrooms.

The letter states the Corte Madera doctor, who spoke to social studies classes Oct. 10, "came into the school to propagandize." Signers of the letters also complained that Steadman, who sailed Everyman II in protest of nuclear bomb testing, distributed pamphlets and sold "peace buttons" to students.

Redwood High Principal Donald Kreps said today there was "nothing wrong" with Steadman's presence in the school.

"He did not propagandize," said Kreps, "and I feel that his being invited to discuss current events was an example of good teaching."

Kreps said each social studies class at the school spends one day a week on current events, and students of Robert Wylie's classes "expressed an interest" in non-violence in Mississippi, ban-the-bomb movements, and peace marches. One student suggested Steadman, a Corte Madera resident, might speak to the classes.

"He spoke to three of Mr. Wylie's classes," Kreps said. "He discussed non-violence from Gandhi to Martin Luther King. He didn't talk specifically about the Everyman. It was very informative, and the students asked many questions.

"He didn't pass out any literature and did not sell buttons. I understand one student asked him after class for some Everyman buttons, which he gave her. The school would not condone his selling anything. But students around here are wearing all sorts of buttons, including Nixon and Brown buttons."

(Steadman said students later sold about 20 buttons between classes. He said they were all gone within a half hour.)

The letter was signed by Robert M. Eschen Jr. of 155 Corte Elena, Greenbrae; Mrs. B. G. Kessler, 2 Birch Avenue, Corte Madera; and N. B. Stevenson, 18 Tamal Vista Lane, Kentfield. Attached were 15 names of other resident of Corte Madera, Larkspur, Greenbrae and Kentfield who said they "concurred" with the letter.

Signatures included names of husbands and wives and actually represented about 11 different families.

Marin County Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis said six parents called him last week to protest Steadman's talks at Redwood but he referred the calls to the Tamalpais High School District office. He said parents invited him to attend a protest meeting, but he declined.

Wrong Car Reported Hitting Another

A car driven by F. A. Blankenship, 38, of 137 Hillside Drive, Fairfax, was struck in the rear by a car driven by Joseph A. Moyle, 48, of 24 Hammondale Court, San Rafael, in a Friday morning accident on Center Boulevard, according to San nAselmo police.

The Independent-Journal incorrectly reported Friday that Blankenship's car struck Moyle's. Both were traveling east on Center Boulevard near Saunders Avenue, San Anselmo.

Bus Service Is Running Smoothly

San Rafael's new bus service was running smoothly this morning in its first day of operation on a paid fare basis, said Robert L. Peterson of Marin Transit Authority.

The buses began running at 7 a.m. on hourly schedules over four routes, and Peterson said another route will be added when the new county civic center opens.

Operating on a 60-day trial basis under authority from the City of San Rafael, the line is running four buses with a fifth one standing by as a spare.

Peterson said complete schedules will be published this week and made available on all buses.

Passengers may ride on any run for 30 cents cash or may buy eight tickets for $2, reducing the cost to 25 cents per ride. The company plans to inaugurate a 20-cent student fare shortly.

Petersen said a passenger may get on a bus at Fourth and Court streets and ride to any stop in the system within 40 minutes.

Prize Gelding Hit By Car, Has To Be Destroyed

An 8-year-old gelding which has won many Marin contests especially in barrel racing and pole bending, was hit by a car in Los Ranchitos yesterday evening and had to be shot.

Deputy Sheriff R. H. Tschirgi said the horse's right leg was broken. On the advice of a veterinarian, the horse was put out of its misery.

Garety Asks For Murder Verdict

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety today asked a jury of nine women and three men to bring in a first-degree murder verdict against Claude Hilton Bradley, 22, accused of strangling a San Rafael mother last June 3.

The district attorney charged that Bradley strangled Mrs. Carole Leona Frederick during an attempt to commit rape. Death which occurs during the commission of a felony is murder in the first degree.

The prosecution called San Rafael psychiatrist Dr. John Burke as final witness this morning. Dr. Burke, who examined Bradley at the time of the arrest, said he found no mental abnormality that would have prevented Bradley from being able to form an intent. The doctor found Bradley unstable but not psychotic.

Then, the district attorney opened his final arguments. He was to be followed this afternoon by defense attorney Berwyn A. Rice's final argument. Garety then will have the closing argument.

Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. indicated the case should go to the jury for deliberations tomorrow morning.

Statement of Policy

Regarding Political Advertising

The Independent-Journal does not aggressively solicit or render copy writing service for political advertisements that are argumentative in content. Political advertisements are construed to be all assertions subject to public controversy, whether or not a public election is involved

Any political advertisement that is not clearly the personal appeal of the elective candidate or candidates involved must show the name of the sponsoring group together with the name or names of one or more persons officiating for such group.

Political advertisements must be submitted in complete and explicit form, ready for the printers, and clearly marked as to size and date of appearance. All political advertisements are payable in advance. Charges are figured at the regular rate.

Advertising deadlines are 4 p.m., two days preceding publication. As example: Tuesday advertisements must be in Friday at 4 p.m.; Monday advertisements must be in the preceding Friday morning. Any intervening holiday advances the deadline by a day.

If a proof is desired, advertisement must be submitted substantially in advance. Corrections, if any, must be ordered by 4 p.m., two working days preceding publication. Any changes from original copy will be charged for on basis of printing work involved.

On the last publication day before an election no political advertisement other than a simple statement of advocacy will be printed. As example: "Vote yes on proposition three," or "Elect John Jones," together with facts as to nature and time of election and, if desired, candidate's party affiliation or occupational identity.

Nearing a public election, no advertisement introducing a new controversial subject will be accepted to run later than the fourth publication day preceding the election. If any new statement or issue should be introduced on the fourth publication day preceding the election, attacking the opposing candidate or issue involved, the newspaper may, at its discretion, make allowance under this rule for the opposing side to answer.

Necessity for the newspaper's disinterested handling of political advertisements is readily apparent. These terms and conditions are adhered to in spirit of fairness to all.

Rams Save Waterfield's Job With Upset Victory

Bass Stars In Triumph Over 49ers

Coach Bob Waterfield of the Los Angeles Rams heaved a sign of relief today and finally agreed that life isn't so bad, after all.

Waterfield watched his boys knock over the San Francisco 49ers yesterday, 28-14, and the word is out that the effort probably saved the coach's job for him.

It was the first Ram victory this season. The club had lost six in a row in the National Football League, in addition to its last three exhibition games—a record of nine straight defeats.

Additionally, the team had lost 15 straight games on the road, going back to last season.

The difference yesterday was the defense — plus another great effort by halfback Dick Bass.

"Bass is a great halfback," said Waterfield, with pleasure. "I've always said he was. And he has been great in every game this year, even while we were losing."

Bass gained 95 yards from scrimmage, plus another 22 from the lone pass he threw. And he was voted the game ball after the battle.

But with all his fine work, if it hadn't been for the leakproof defense the game could have been lost. Led by linebackers Mike Henry, Bill Jobko and Jack Pardee, the defense stopped the 49ers time and again when they were down in Ram territory and needing only a foot or two for a first down.

PASS BACKFIRES

And a defensive plus can be added for Carver Shannon of the Ram secondary who picked off another of Brodie's tosses late in the game when San Francisco was threatening to tie up the score.

The Rams were supposed to be crippled, and tackle Frank Varrichione and center Art Hunter never did get into the game. But the others boys did just fine.

QUICK SCORES

The Rams struck for three touchdowns in the first 21 minutes of play — and then sat back and played it safe. They got one on that Crow runback; another on a 62-yard march in nine plays; and still another when they went 74 yards in just three plays. The big counters in this were a 34-yard run by Bass and a 36-yard touchdown pass from Ebke Bratowski to end Duane Allen.

The other touchdown came in the closing seconds of the game and was more-or-less of a gift as San Francisco gave up the ball on fourth down in its own territory.

51,033 FANS

After the lightning strike for the first three touchdowns, San Francisco started to rethe half on a 14-yard pass from cover to the chant of 51,033 fans in Kezar Stadium. The 49ers got a counter just before Brodie to Jim Johnson. But that was the end as the defense bottled up all further efforts.

The loss was the fourth against three wins for San Francisco and put them down with the Rams, Minnesota and Baltimore as being out of the running for the Western Division crown.

Los Angeles plays Detroit next, while the 49ers come up against Baltimore. Both games are on the west coast.

49ER TOUCHDOWN— San Francisco's end Clyde Conner pulled in this pass from quarterback John Brodie in the second quarter for a 49er touchdown. It was not enough, however, as the Rams dropped the 49ers for the first L.A. victory this year in the National Football League.

49ers Deserve Boos

SIDELINES

By ED RANDOL

"My greatest team," Coach Red Hickey announced to the world earlier this year. Add that deathless quotation to the sports world's list of famous last words. Let's face it, those words will haunt the 49er headman for years, wherever he is coaching.

In losing to the previously winless Los Angeles Rams, 28 to 14, at Kezar yesterday, the San Franciscans sank to a new low in disorganized performance.

They lost not only the game but the vocal support of several thousand "loyal" fans. Again, the boos were not a pretty thing to hear.

It is easy to understand that the Niners were down after losing to the Green Bay Packers last week. The first half of the Rams game looked like what would have been the third half of the Green Bay game. It was that bad. A brief period of regrouping brought the 49ers within grasp of a tie before the bottom fell out and the Rams wrapped it up with another score.

FOR THREE weeks the 49ers have been living off an improbable ground game with passes in the background. And, as usual, the defense caught up. Against the weakest defense in the league, J. D. Smith and Bobby Gaiters went nowhere.

Most of the yards gained on the ground were made by John Brodie himself.

By the time Coach Hickey switched over to the passing game, it was too late. Brodie's arm was obviously rusty, and his receivers ran patterns that broke the Rams loose for interceptions.

This, in spite of Hickey's week-long plan to pass the Rams silly. The practice field is not the battlefield, and in this league you don't win by just showing up for the game. Ram backs ran through tacklers as if they were still feeling the thrusts of Jim Taylor, and the 49er defensive backfield was beaten time after time by Ram ends and flankers. It could have been worse.

MORE UPSETS occur in football than in any other sport, and the answer is usually psychological. The Los Angeles papers have unmerifully crucified the Rams during the past two weeks, and the barbs apparently reached their marks. Catching the 49ers as flat as last week's beer, however, was purely coincidental.

NOW IT'S the turn of Hickey and his men to take their biggest dose of tongue lashing. I feel that they have earned it. The lack of rapport between the players and the coach is an open secret, and is a situation that can never be tolerated for long. But these men are pros who are paid to put on a good show or suffer the blasts of the critics.

The rule of "caveat emptor," let the buyer beware, does not apply to pro football, and the San Francisco fans will be the first to let the 49ers know that they aren't buying.

Kid Shows Sailors A Lesson

By ALFRED MATSON

A 16-year-old sailor from Fresno gave a two-day seminar in the fine points of racing to his 25 senior opponents in the Sausalito Yacht Club's annual Mercury Invitational Race series.

This knowlegeable lad is Pat Bradley and he sailed off with two firsts and a fourth to gain possession of the trophy by a comfortable margin. Jim Enzenperger, the host club's top Mercury sailor took second place honors and the national champion, Doug Baird, up from Carmel, had to settle for third position with Dink Crawford, another Sausalito Stalwart, coming in fourth.

As Jim Enzenperger commented on conclusion of the regatta, "That youngster is a natural, he is going to be hard to beat. I'll have to give much of the credit to the sailmaker, Allen Mitchell; Bradley has as fine a suit of sails as I've ever seen."

The races on both Saturday and Sunday were run off under almost ideal conditions, an 8-10 mile breeze prevailed on both days and the fog had dissipated before the starts.

SMALL TURNOUT

Due undoubtedly to the war tensions and brevity of advance notice, the number of the participants in the Corinthians' initial midwinter regatta was somewhat smaller than past opening races. The wind at the start was sufficiently brisk to send the fore and afters winging along at a fast pace and for some of the smaller classes the fun was over within an hour.

The course for all was around Angel Island, once for the classes mentioned and twice for the larger craft. With a failing wind and adverse tide, some of the twice-rounders had quite a struggle in making it across the finish line.

The winners: Cruising Club, Turtle; Bird Class, Robin; Folkboat, Filur; Triton, Sarameis; Bear, Cub; Electra, Sonatine; T. I., Manana; J. C., Aloha; Fleur Bleue, Tackless; Maya, Ichi-Ban; Hurricane, Hanaloa; Knarr, Blue Peter; IC, Iorana; Div. 14, Vixen; Div. 15, Navis; Div. 9, Rendezvous.

RAM WALL — With only inches to go for a touchdown, 49er's J. D. Smith (24) couldn't find an opening in the L.A. Ram front wall as he tried to go over the mass of humanity but failed. The 49er defeat gave the San Francisco team a three-win, four loss record this year in the NFL.

Lema Finally Scores First Official Win

COSTA MESA (UPI)—The victory Tony Lema thought would never come his way materialized for the ex-Marine yesterday when he captured a sudden death playoff from Bob Rosburg to win the $22,500 Orange County Open.

Lema and Rosburg tied for first at the end of 72 holes with scores of 267 and it took three holes for the San Leandro, Calif., golfer to win with a birdie putt on the par three hole from 11 feet. The loss was heartbreaking to Rosburg whose putt went into the cup and bounced out.

"I've been on the pro golf tour for just about five years and I still was trying for my first official tournament win," Lema said today as he relaxed happily after the victory.

Lema had been the hottest golfer on the fall western swing, earning almost $20,000 in eight weeks during which he captured the Sahara Invitational which does not rank as an official PGA tournament. He was second in the Seattle and Bakersfield Opens and finished two strokes back of the winner in the Ontario Open.

"But I just couldn't get in that official win, which means so much to a player on the tour," he said, "and I had to fight an uphill battle all the way yesterday to finish in a tie and then win on the third extra hole."

The win gave Lema a total of 110.67 points and the lead on the fall tour for one of two starting spots in the Master's Tournament next year; it put him ninth on the Ryder Cup team standings and 18th on the official money list with earnings of $26,232. The Orange County win was worth $2,800 to Lema with Rosburg forced to settle for $900 less, the cost of missing the vital putt.

Lema went into the final round with a two stroke lead at 198 but two bogeys on the front nine proved costly as he shot a 69 while Rosburg had a 67 that was enough to put him in a tie for first and the playoff.

Builders Slug Their Way To 10-7 Victory

The Billings-Hutchison Builders won their third game in a row in the Alameda Winter League yesterday by outslugging the Alameda Sporting Goods team 10-7.

Ron Cole hit a tremendous 425-foot home run and a single, Ron Blum hit a single and a double, Ernie Demattei had two singles and three RBI's and Don Lauters hit two singles to head the Builder slugging attack.

The pitching was split between starter Bob DeRosa and reliefer Buzz Wensloff. DeRosa hurled the first seven innings, striking out six and walking two.

Terra Linda On Way To Warner Title

With only one more week remaining in the Marin Pop Warner Football League schedule, the Terra Linda Junior Trojans seem well on their way to a championship.

The Terra Linda junior gridders dropped the Novato Junior Hornets 13-6 yesterday in Novato. Pat Carney scored both Trojan TDs, the first on a 25-yard pass from Steve Congdon and the second on a 15-yard run.

In other Pop Warner action, the San Rafael Junior Bulldogs downed the Redwood Junior Giants in a thriller, 14-7, and the Mill Valley Junior Indians shutout the San Anselmo Junior Pirates 18-0.

For San Rafael, Bill Meredith scored both touchdowns, one on a 10-yard end sweep and the other on a spectacular run after receiving a pass from Bill Joost. The big pass play broke a 7-7 deadlock in the last minute of the game.

Redwood's TD was scored by Harvey Hand who scored from 10 yards out.

Drake Edges Marin Catholic Gridders In Thriller, 18-13

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Mike, who stands 5-6 and weighs 135 pounds, was a big man in Saturday night's game against Marin Catholic which the Pirates won, 18-13. And he touched the ball only twice.

One of the two times was the kickoff following a Marin Catholic touchdown which put the Wildcats out in front 13-12 with only 1:15 left in the game. He first touched the ball when he hauled in the kickoff on his own 28-yard line and he didn't let it go until he had sprinted 72 yards to the Wildcat end zone for the winning touchdown.

SCORELESS FIRST HALF

The crowd of 2,700 had been much quieter during the first half of the battle in College of Marin stadium as the Pirates and Wildcats traded the ball back and forth with neither team scoring.

Drake was the first to hit the scoreboard on a big bomb from quarterback Hamish Tyler in the third quarter. The Drake quarterback flipped a long pass to halfback Tom Tanzi who pulled it in and pranced into the end zone completing a 52-yard play. The try for point failed as the Wildcat defense stopped fullback Tom Kobe from hitting the goal line.

Minutes later in the same period, the Pirates started a drive of nine plays, finishing on a 12-yard aerial from Tyler to end Bruce Thompson in the Marin Catholic end zone for the tally. The try for point failed, as Kemp tried a run and was knocked back.

66-YARD TD

Marin Catholic came back with a touchdown of its own in that same third quarter. Chuck Hardeman took a handoff and started around right end and was able to turn the corner, found daylight and rambled 66 yards for the TD. Ed Ghiringhelli threw a key block on the Pirate 15-yard line knocking out the last Drake man who had a shot at the fleet Hardeman.

In the fourth stanza, Marin Catholic demonstrated perfect ball control after an intercepted pass gave the Wildcats possession on their own 41. The Wildcats drove for 16 plays and five first downs to earn the next TD.

Lourdeaux got the call from the three and hit over right tackle for the touchdown, putting the Wildcats in front for the first time in the game, 13-12. The try for point failed but with only a minute and a few seconds remaining in the game, it looked like Marin Catholic had put the game away.

WILDCATS THREATEN

But then came Kemp's dazzling 72-yard kickoff return!

The Wildcats tried desperately for another touchdown and got as far as the Drake 13 with only seconds left, but quarterback Lad Wilsey tried a pass which was intercepted by Drake's Mike Crabtree, ending the threat.

Marin Catholic scored a touchdown in the second quarter only to have it called back because one of the Wildcat gridders didn't get off the field fast enough when he was replaced, leaving 12 men on the field. It was Lourdeaux around right end for 16 yards and an apparent TD, but the seldom-seen penalty erased what would have been the winning touchdown.

Cullenward Wins Lefty Golf Title

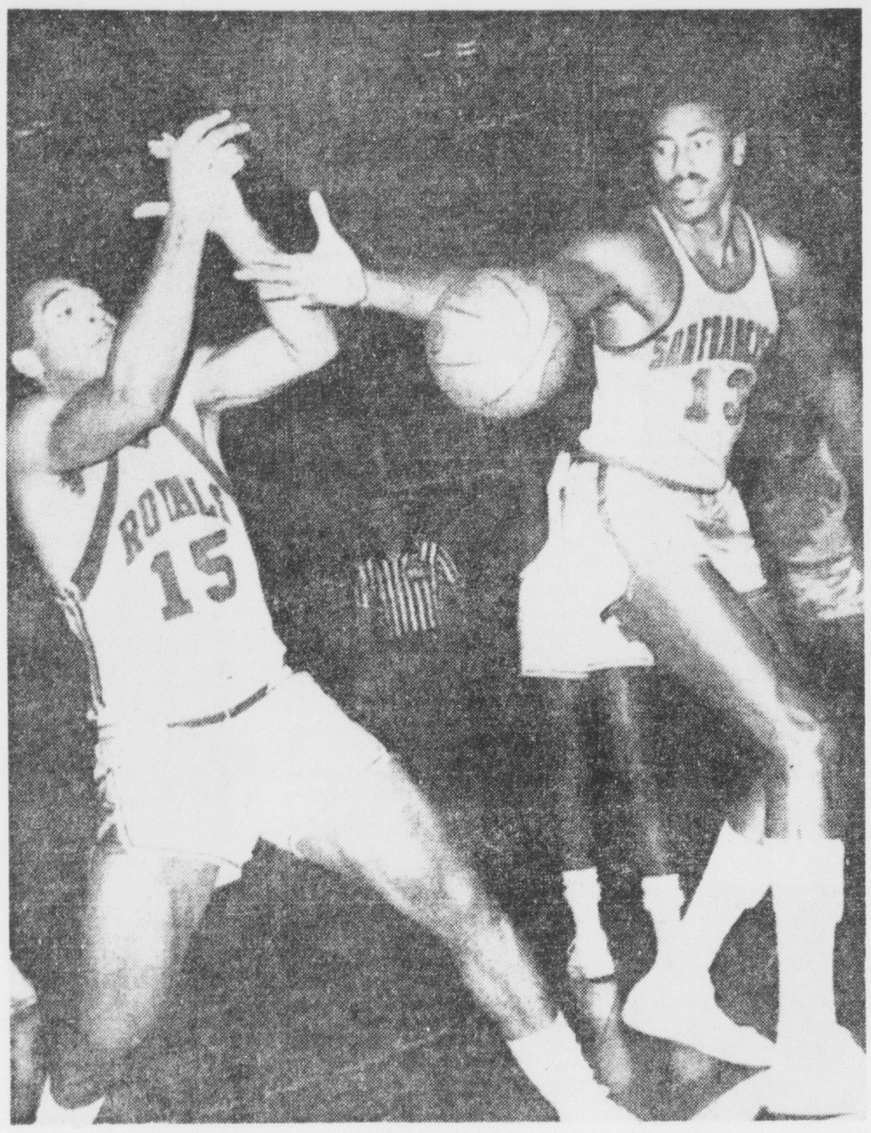
Second in the two-day event last weekend was 1959 champion Tom Pinckley of Visalia, who scored a 75-72—147. Alex Eichmann of San Francisco was third with a 78-74—152.

Pinckley also won the senior title. Bob Walker of Menlo Park won the handicap title in a sudden death playoff from Hal Hammerickson of El Cerrito. Both had a net 135 for the two days.



'WELL, SOMEONE TAKE IT'—Cincinnati's Wayne Embry and San Francisco's Wilt Chamberlain can't seem to get together on a loose ball in third quarter of an NBA game last night. Chamberlain scored 53 points, but the Royals won, 131-130, in the third straight overtime game the Warriors have played this season. (AP Wirephoto)

Cincinnati Edges S.F. 131-130

CINCINNATI (AP) — Shooting free throws is a fundamental part of basketball, but San Francisco Warriors superstar Wilt Chamberlain always has had trouble at the foul line.

The 7-foot 1-inch center scored 53 points at Cincinnati last night — but it was his inability to dunk two free throws in three tries that sent the Warriors down to a 131-130 overtime loss to the Royals.

Behind 56-49 at halftime, the San Franciscans pulled even in the last half, and Chamberlain sent the team into its third straight overtime contest by making a field goal with 17 seconds left.

But Bub Reed fouled Chamberlain — giving the Stilt three tries to make two points. He hit the first, but missed the next two and that was enough to give the Royals the win and hand San Francisco its first loss of the year after three wins.

When the Warriors return to San Francisco tomorrow to face New York, they will be one-half game behind St. Louis (4-1) in second place in the National Basketball Assn's. Western Division.

Masked Goalie Paces Red Wings

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Goalie Terry Sawchuk's decision to wear a mask this season looms as one of the key factors in the success of the Detroit Red Wings during the early weeks of National Hockey League play.

The veteran net-minder has been virtually impregnable as the unbeaten Wings have won five and tied two in their first seven starts. League-leading Detroit blanked the Stanley Cup champion Toronto Maple Leafs 2-0 Sunday night as Sawchuk recorded the 10th shutout of his career.

In the only other game, the Chicago Black Hawks turned back the New York Rangers 5-3 and moved into second place.

49ERS LOST

Tittle Is Big Return On N.Y. Investment

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — All us old guys will stand today and give a rah-rah for "yah-yah."

That would be nobody else but Y. A. Tittle, the old Bald Eagle of the New York Giants. And at 35 the Archie Moore of the pro gridiron certainly has it coming after the show he put on to stop those rampaging Washington Redskins.

All he did in that 49-34 Giant victory was tie the National League record of seven touchdown passes in one game and complete 27 of 39 tosses for an eye-popping 505 yards.

Not that this was unexpected, if you've been a long-time observer of Tittle spectaculars. Because this is his 15th year as a pro grid pitcher and no later than last season was picked by his fellow National League players as the circuit's most valuable player.

Yet it's another return on the "old man's" investment of unflinching eye and unfailing arm in the rigors of one of the roughest means of making a living that you can figure out when you get deep into the supposedly tiring 30's.

Y.A. has to remember, too, the reception he received when he arrived with the Giants last year. They still had Charley Conerly, their seemingly ageless quarterback, with Less Grosscup waiting in the wings. So when Tittle joined the Giants in Los Angeles there was no gaudy welcome mat in the hotel lobby.

ALMOST QUIT

In defense of the Giants, it must be explained that Yelberton Abraham sported a pate which was being polished by age. And he almost had quit the game in favor of his San Francisco insurance business when the 49ers, needing a running-type quarterback as they readied a new offense, bartered him away.

That first night he stood around hoping that some of the Giants would invite him along to dinner. Nobody did. So Y. A. eventually found where some of them were eating and invited himself apologetically to join them.

This was in August. Then, although he was injured in the first game he played as a Giant and was out almost a month, he battled back, replaced Conerly and led the Giants to the National League's Eastern Division title and the playoff, if disastrous, against the Green Bay Packers.

Thus, last December, his mates made up for that original cool reception by throwing him a dinner in his honor.

Now, in his latest feat of derring do, he has powered them to victory over the previously undefeated Redskins.

It isn't exactly unexpected. Y. A. has come a long way for a fellow with bronchial asthma whose chief ambition was to be a baseball pitcher until he discovered he couldn't throw a curve. He was the spark of the Baltimore Colts for three years prior to joining the San Francisco 49ers, and before turning pro was a whip-armed wizard at L.S.U.

HOW EMBARRASSING

If you forget how long ago that was, imagine that while at L.S.U. the coiled-steel Texan competed against Conerly when Chuckin' Charley was at Mississippi, and Conerly retired this season at 40. A game against Conerly actually provided one of Y.A.'s most embarrassing moments.

Tittle intercepted one of Conerly's passes and, with L.S.U. trailing 20-18 in the final moments, seemed off for the winning touchdown. A tackler made a dive and stripped Y.A. of his belt.

"The next thing I knew my pants were down around my ankles, right there in front of 40,000 fans and my financee," he reddens at the memory. "Had to stop and hitch up my britches and they stopped me."

There have been many times they haven't been able to stop him since that day. Like yesterday against the Redskins.

By MAURICE WEINGER

Novato's well balanced squad took advantage of Terra Linda's mistakes to roll to a 26-6 win Saturday on the losers field.

The victors had just too much meat in the forward wall to lose, but Terra Linda, nevertheless, played a fine game of the passing arm of Dick Schultze, who threw for 139 yards on 13 completions, and out-first downed Novato 11 to eight.

The Hornets, last year's Marin County Athletic League champs, stayed on the ground most of the time to grind out 185 yards, but when Terra Linda's defensive halfbacks weren't looking, threw the big bomb that scored one touchdown and set up two others.

Halfback Tom Miller and Rich Thomas were the big horses for Novato, who along with quarterback Roy Otis did most of the damage.

Novato's first series of plays ended in the end zone after an 81 yard drive on 12 plays. Thomas and Miller carried every other time to the Trojan 43 where Otis sent Dave Ralph down and out on the right side for a 26 yard catch to the 21 yard line.

Miller then went into the line three straight times to add another first down on the five where Thomas added four and Otis the last yard for the score.

Terra Linda came fighting right back on the kick-off from their own 31 yard line. Using Jack Edwards — a big hitting fullback up the middle and Schultze's arm as the slugger for quick first downs the Trojans started a torrid march.

Edwards and Schultze combined to move the ball to Novato's 45 where the latter then struck on two straight passes to Ed Connell and Dave Dohn for a first down on the 22. Edwards gained 11 straight yards and Schultze rolled out to the left for six and a first down on the five.

The Hornets came right back to go ahead for keeps on the arm of Otis. A big break for Novato came on the return kick-off by Larry Bitts, who grabbed Edwards' kick on the 20 and raced 32 yards to Terra Linda's 48. Otis kept for four and Thomas added two where a big third down play resulted in Otis' pass to Ralph for 8 and a first down on the 34.

Thomas again drove for three, but to end matters quickly, Otis sent Ralph straight down field, and Novato was ahead by six on the 31-yard pass play.

Novato broke the game wide open in the fourth quarter on two lightening plays. Schultze fumbled on his 42 where Kris Kristophers recovered. After an eight yard run, Otis again went to the air and found Nick Willard alone on the 10 yard line. Big Tom Miller raced around his right end to quickly score the third touchdown.

The final score came on a superb defensive effort by Willard. Novato's reserve quarterback Tom Miller tried a long pass, but defensive halfback Bob Taylor intercepted on the Trojans 13. Schultze tried for a long gain and had Connell almost open on the 35, but Willard came out of nowhere and stole the ball out of Connell's hand to race untouched with 45 seconds left in the game.

Unranked Fighter To Get Chance At Title

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cus D'Amato, who proved he was a genius as a manager by twice guiding Floyd Patterson to the heavyweight championship, hopes to strike it rich again with middleweight Jose Torres.

Torres, an unbeaten, unranked-end and untested 160-pounder from New York via Puerto Rico, gets a crack at a piece of the world middleweight crown Friday night when he takes on defender Paul Pender of Brookline, Mass., in the Boston Garden.

The 15-rounder won't be telecast or broadcast. Pender has been guaranteed a $100,000 purse. D'Amato is putting up the money so that his 26-year-old protege will get the shot. Pender is recognized as king of the middleweights by New York, Massachusetts and Europe but New York has refused to recognize the fight as a title affair because Torres is not ranked. Nigeria's Dick Tiger won the World Boxing Association's recognition by soundly beating defender Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, at San Francisco last Tuesday.

Although he is not ranked among the 160-pound set's top 10, Torres, has been made an even-money bet against the clever Pender, 31. A beaten finalist in the 1956 Olympics, Torres has won 25 of 26 pro fights. In the other he drew with the late Benny "Kid" Paret three years ago in Puerto Rico. His record is filled with victories over mediocre opposition.

Pender has a 40-6-2 record. His last six fights all have been for the title. He first captured it by outpointing Sugar Ray Robinson at Boston, Jan. 22, 1960. Then he whipped Sugar Ray again, outpointed Carmen Basilio in 15, stopped Lindon's Terry Downes in seven, lost the title by retiring after nine to Downes in London and regained it by outpointing Downes in Boston last April 7.

Seals Hockey Team To Play Vancouver

VANCOUVER (AP) — Rejuvenated by a successful swing on the Canadian prairie, the San Francisco Seals move into Vancouver tomorrow to face the Canucks, leaders of the Western Hockey League's Northern Division.

The Seals are tied with the Los Angeles Blades and Portland for the Southern Division lead, each team having eight points. The Blades and Portland however, are 4-4-0, while the San Franciscans are 4-6-0.

Still, coach Bud Poile has reason to be pleased at the Seals' recent showing. The team has won three of its last four games after a miserable start, and is scoring well.

Saturday, Edmonton scored three times in the third period to pull out a 5-3 victory from the Seals.

Seven (7) TD Passes By Tittle; Green Bay Wins Again

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Y.A. Tittle of the New York Giants shares a record pedestal with Sid Luckman today, the Washington Redskins have been jarred back to the harsh realities of life in the National Football League and the Green Bay Packers remain in a class by themselves.

Tittle, 35-year-old "bald eagle" who appears to improve with each season, tied the league record of seven touchdown passes yesterday and became the second N.F.L. player ever to throw for more than 500 yards in one game as the Giants handed the Redskins their first defeat, 49-34.

The champion Packers, meanwhile, scored their seventh straight victory by beating the Baltimore Colts, 17-6, and unless some team stops them soon, they'll go through the first undefeated N.F.L. season in 20 years.

The Detroit Lions emerged the lone serious challenger to the Packers in the Western Division when they defeated the Chicago Bears, 11-3, in a game devoid of a single touchdown.

There were two big Sunday upsets, the Los Angeles Rams scoring their first victory of the season by beating the San Francisco 49ers, 28-14, and the St. Louis Cardinals putting a damper on the Dallas Cowboys' contending hopes with a 28-24 setback.

In other games, the Cleveland Browns clobbered the Pittsburgh Steelers, 41-14, and the Minnesota Vikings made it two in a row with a 31-21 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles.

"YAT" completed 27 of 39 passes for a total of 505 yards in a remarkable demonstration of aerial artistry that enabled him to tie the seven-touchdown record set by Luckman with the Bears in 1943 and matched by Adrian Burk of the Philadelphia Eagles in 1954.

The only N.F.L. player who ever passed for greater yardage was Norm Van Brocklin, who gained 554 yards for the Los Angeles Rams in a game in 1951.

Joe Walton caught three of Tittle's TD tosses, Joe Morrison grabbed two and Del Shofner and Frank Gifford one each before a crowd of 62,844 at Yankee Stadium. Shofner was tittle's most efficient target, however, catching 11 passes that gained 269 yards.

The Skins, who retained first place in the Eastern Division despite the defeat, scored the first touchdown of the game and twice pulled to within one point of the Giants, at 14-13 and 21-20.

Norm Snead, who threw four scoring passes, hit Bobby Mitchell with a 44-yard TD strike early in the game. He later passed 24 yards to Fred Dugan and immediately after the second-half kickoff he teamed up with Mitchell again for an 80-yard bomb that cut New York's lead to 21-20.

Tittle, however, completed the first nine passes he threw in the second half to set off a 21-point third-period barrage that pulled the Giants away. During that streak, he caught Shofner with a 32-yard scoring pass and Walton with a 26-yarder.

And after finally missing with a pass, he lofted a beautiful too into Gifford's arms for a 63-yard TD play.

As for the Packers . . .

They struggled at close quarters with the Colts for three periods of a rough game before Jim Taylor's 36-yard touchdown run gave them easier breathing.

With the score tied at 3-3 in the second period, quarterback Bart Starr put Green Bay ahead by firing a 25-yard TD pass to Ron Kramer. Dick Bielski narrowed the Packers' lead to 10-6 in the third period with his second 34-yard field goal of the game before a crowd of 57,966 at Baltimore.

Tempers snapped a few times during the game and the Colts were penalized 89 yards and the Packers 74.

At Detroit, a crowd of 53,342 watched Wayne Walker kick field goals of 17, 43 and 38 yards for the Lions. Detroit's only other score came when tackle Alex Karras tackled Bears quarterback Billy Wade behind the goal line for a safety in the third period. Chicago gained only 60 yards on the ground and 15 through the air.

ONE OF SEVEN — New York Giant quarterback Y. A. Tittle (former San Francisco 49er quarterback) is rushed by Washington Redskins' end Andy Stynchula (71) but is able to complete a touchdown pass to Giant back Joe Morrison in the first period of the game at Yankee Stadium yesterday. It was one of seven touchdown passes tossed by Tittle. Other players are tackle Joe Rutkens (72) of Redskins, center Ray Wietecha (55) and Roosevelt Brown (79) of the Giants. (AP Wirephoto)

Shock Waves On Gridirons

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Shock waves emanated from the West Coast football empire today following a pair of crashing upsets that left the experts groping for tranquilizers.

The first jolt was registered at Los Angeles on Saturday afternoon where Stanford's Indians hung a 17-7 defeat on a UCLA team that had gone into the game a nine-point favorite.

Then the "feeble" Tigers of the University of the Pacific, who were not supposed to have any business being on the same field with Washington State, dazed the Cougars 31-21 in a night game. The one point reversal knocked Coach Jim Sutherland's club out of the undefeated ranks and came after UOP had been blasted by Oregon State, 40-6, the previous week.

So how do you figure?

Even Washington, which meets Southern California next Saturday in a game that could decide the coast's Rose Bowl delegate, had to settle for a 21-21 tie with Oregon.

In other key games, the undefeated Trojans handed Illinois its 15th straight loss, 28-16; California found a great new quarterback in Craig Morton but lost to Penn State, 23-21; Oregon State knocked West Virginia from the unbeaten ranks, 51-22 and New Mexico vanquished victory-starved San Jose State, 25-13.

FIVE INTERCEPTIONS

Stanford intercepted five UCLA passes in a game marked by a total of six lost fumbles.

With his team clinging to a 10-7 lead in the fourth period, quarterback Steve Thurlow marched the Indians 89 yards for their clinching touchdown which John Paye scored on a one-yard shot. Frank Patituci of the tribe earlier raced 82 yards for a score after grabbing a Bruin bobble in mid-air and UCLA's Carl Jones went 81 yards to tally when the Indians committed a similar error.

The University of the Pacific steamed off to a 13-0 lead over Washington State which rallied for two touchdowns before the half ended. Then neither side could score after intermission.

A 15-yard run by Greg Stikes with a messed up field goal attempt by teammate Roger Francis gave UOP its first touchdown. The Tigers scored again on Aaron Youngblood's 80-yard run and Bob Scardini kicked the placement that meant the winning edge. Washington State rallied on a TD pass from Dave Mathieson to Hugh Campbell and George Reed's 27-yard scoring gallop. But the alert Tiger defense smothered both Cougar attempts at two-point conversions.

OREGON RALLY

Oregon seemed just about beaten by Washington in the closing stages of its game with Washington but quarterback Bob Berry turned Larry Hall loose for an 18-yard touchdown run and then insured the 21-21 tie with a pass to Dick Imwalle for the vital two points.

The fifth-ranked Trojans exploded twice against Illinois for scoring plays that exceeded 70 yards. A 72-yard pass from Pete Beathard to Hal Bedsole accounted for one while Willie Brown raced 73 yards to score another.

Craig Morton, CAL's sophomore quarterback who never had played varsity ball in his life, accounted for 274 yards passing and 11 yards rushing while the Bears made rugged Penn State battle for its 23-21 win.

Morton, who underwent surgery last month for torn ligaments, entered the game in the second quarter and passed for three touchdowns during the afternoon in a vain cause.

Hosses Move To Meadows This Week

ALBANY (AP) — Thoroughbreds, owners, trainers and jockeys will move from Golden Gate Fields to Bay Meadows this week.

Golden Gate Fields closes its 44-day meeting tomorrow and the entire melange moves across the bay and down the San Francisco Peninsula to the San Mateo track for 42-days of racing.

There will be 10 stake events in the seven-week season, topped by the 30th running of the $20,000 added Bay Meadows Handicap on closing day.

Typhoon 2nd was given top weight of 120 pounds for the $10,000-added San Francisco Mile, to be run on Golden Gate's getaway day Tuesday. The 4-year-old Irish-bred spots 11 rivals from 4 to 15 pounds.

Dean Hall is the leading Golden Gate jockey going into the last two days of racing. He's ridden 43 winners and 36 placers. Of his 209 mounts, 106 have run in the money. Hall's mounts have earned $96,905 during the meeting.

Foyt Sets Mark For Golden State 100-Mile Auto Race

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A. J. Foyt set a track record and won $5,720 first place money in the Golden State Hundred, a 100-mile National Auto Club race, at the State Fair Grounds yesterday.

His time was 1:02:59.14. The old mark was 1:05:57.58 by Rodger Ward in 1957.

Don Branson of Champaign, Ill., got $3,109 for second, and Elmer George of Speedway, Ind., $1,976 for third.

A crowd of about 12,000 paid $42,760 to see what may be the last auto race on the fair's dirt track. Horsemen have complained auto racing is ruining the surface.

The race was the 12th of 13 scheduled this year. The final event is scheduled for Phoenix next month.

Ward, who has sewed up first place for the year, was injured recently and watched yesterday's race. Foyt, of Houston, Tex., is second and Branson third in the standings.

Jim Hurtubise of Lennox, Calif., led for five laps when Foyt took over and was never headed. Hurtubise finished fourth.

Rookie Jim McElreath was running second on the 62nd lap, but had to drop out because of mechanical trouble, as did half the field of 18 qualifiers.

Other finishers were Parnelli Jones, Torrance, Calif., fifth; Troy Ruttman, Dearborn, Mich., sixth; Johnny Rutherford, Fort Worth, Tex., seventh; Lloyd Ruby, Houston, Tex., eighth, and Chuck Booth, Sacramento, ninth.

Mexico Advances In Davis Tourney

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico's Davis Cup Whiz Kids, flushed with victory, brushed aside thoughts of their next opponent, India, and looked ahead today to the challenge round against Australia.

"India should be no problem," said team Capt. Pancho Contreras after Mexico edged Sweden three matches to two yesterday in the inter-zone semi-final.

The Mexico-India clash in the interzone finals is scheduled for New Delhi in December. The Mexicans rank a prohibitive favorite to gain the challenge round.

Osuna, who attends the University of Southern California, nailed it down with his 3-6, 6-4, 6-3, 1-6, 6-3 triumph over Sweden's lanky Jan-Erik Lundquist in the final singles match.

In fact, the cat-quick Osuna had a hand in all of Mexico's winning matches. He defeated Ulf Schmidt in one of the opening singles and teamed with Palafox to hand the Swedes their first loss this year in doubles competition.

Mexican officials are expected to stick with Osuna and Palafox against India, and probably against Australia, should they advance that far. They're the pair that brought Mexico past the United States for the first time in history, then handled Yugoslavia easily to gain the semi-finals against Sweden.

U.S. Arms Assured At India Request

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India turned to the United States today for weapons to fight the Communist Chinese and was assured they would be sent soon.

Prime Minister Nehru asked U.S. Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith for the weapons and an American Embassy spokesman said Galbraith indicated they are coming.

Almost simultaneously an Indian spokesman announced the loss of Demchok, the farthest thrust the Chinese have made southward at the western end of the fighting front.

The spokesman estimated between 2,000 and 2,500 Indian soldiers are dead or missing since the Chinese launched their offensive Oct. 20 and added the Chinese are believed to have suffered much heavier casualties.

Reinforcements were being rushed to Se Pass to try to head off at least one 10,000-man Chinese division moving from the key northeast border town of Towang, lost last week.

Despite setbacks such as the loss of Demchok India refused offers of mediation of the undeclared war with China.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman said "no self-respecting country, and certainly not India with her love of freedom, can submit to Chinese aggression, whatever may be the consequences, nor can India allow China's occupation of Indian territory to be used as a bargaining counter for dictating to India a settlement of differences regarding the boundary on China's terms."

American infantry weapons for the Indian defenders in the Himalayas may begin arriving by air by the end of this week, it was understood.

The terms on which the weapons will be supplied were left open, a U.S. Embassy spokesman said. In the past India has insisted on paying for weapons but now there is no cash and a desperate need for arms.

A small shipment of British weapons has already arrived. France and Canada have also been asked to supply arms. The feeling here is that only the United States can provide the amount of weapons needed.

Galbraith delivered to Nehru a letter from President John F. Kennedy expressing sympathy for India in its present emergency and "something more tangible," the spokesman said. In response Nehru made the first direct request for American arms.

Wheel Of New Car Rolls Off, Driver Injured

Dallien M. Vines was treated for injuries suffered when the car, driven by Leslie A. Brockhouse, 19, also of West Englewood, N. J., overturned just south of Rodeo Avenue at 10:30 a.m.

Miss Brockhouse said she had just purchased the 1960 model foreign car a few days ago. According to the California Highway Patrol, a defective nut on the wheel worked loose.

William D. Fleet, 19, of the 78th Air Police Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base, was in satisfactory condition today at the base hospital after he changed lanes too fast on Highway 101 north of Atherton Avenue and overturned at 7:50 a.m. yesterday.

Forester Plays Trick Or Trees

Karpick said some residents have painted cutting marks on trees in front of their homes, indicating to forestry crews that the tree is doomed.

CALIFORNIA CANDIDATES

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A new political storm is swirling over the propriety of Richard M. Nixon's decision to speak out on the Cuban crisis while running for governor of California.

The former vice president's Democratic opponent, Gov. Edmund G. Brown, said Nixon's statewide television speech "marked a new turn in his spurious and reckless campaign."

Nixon's reply: "I didn't discuss it (Cuba) as a candidate. I discussed it as an American citizen. The people are concerned whether we are taking too great a risk and it is very important for officials with knowledge to talk about it.

"It is not enough to say you must support whatever the national policy is. The people need to know why."

In his 30-minute speech Saturday night, Nixon said the missile bases in Cuba were more dangerous to the United States than those in the Soviet Union because "Castro is a hot-blooded maniac compared to Khrushchev."

He characterized the Cuban leader as an impulsive man who conceivably might get control of the Soviet missiles and risk triggering a global holocaust.

Governor Brown, who returned to Sacramento after attending a Civil Defense conference in Washington, said yesterday:

"The best description of the address was made by the station announcer who identified it as a paid political broadcast . . ."

He said Nixon's motives were obvious and that the Republican's campaign for governor is "bankrupt and going downhill." Brown added:

"Because Mr. Nixon was president Kennedy's opponent in 1960, and because he has been his severest critic ever since then, it was well that he declared his support of the current course of action with respect to Cuba.

"But it would be reckless in the extreme to go beyond a simple expression of support, to talk about future actions and future policy without consultation with our national leaders."

Brown said he and other governors who talked with Kennedy were better briefed on Cuba than Nixon.

"Yet neither I, nor governor Rockefeller nor the governors of any of the other states who attended those briefings would presume to do what Mr. Nixon did Saturday night."

Nixon press secretary Herbert G. Klein said Californians have flooded GOP campaign offices with praise of Nixon's "statesmanlike appraisal of the crisis and his constructive suggestions on how California and the nation should meet the problem."

"While Mr. Brown was off seeking to become a 24-hour expert on Cuba and civilian defense," Klein said, "Mr. Nixon determined that California needed a calm appraisal of the situation which had led to panic, food stampedes and confusion. He supplied this in his television address which made no mention of Mr. Brown or the campaign."

State Sen. John F. McCarthy of San Rafael, chairman of the California GOP "truth squad," termed Brown "a self-appointed guardian of who has the right to practice freedom of speech and who does not."

The Sacramento Union, a morning newspaper, endorsed Nixon for governor. It said Brown has given "a reasonably good administration" but that Nixon "brings a richness of experience plus personal ability and unusual devotion to public welfare."

Pioneer Aviator In Glider Landing

After his ride, Edward C. Richard of Elmira reported "it was a little bumpy but I enjoyed it." He said he expected to take another ride soon. He has been up in a sailplane three or four times.

Richard described himself as a protege of the famed late Glenn H. Curtiss of Hammondsport, N.Y., and said he flew with the French in World War I and joined Charles A. Lindbergh for the first U.S. Air Mail Service in the 1920s.

IMAGINATIVE PLAN for a teen-ager's room was done by interior designer Joseph Almansion showing appreciation for the needs and vagaries of youngsters not quite adults. Conventional closet space has been compartmentalized to solve storage problems. Instead of doors, fabric covered panels have been installed in three units vertically to be opened separately or in combination. Fabric inserts can be removed to change color scheme. Same fabric is used for bedspread in shades of yellow and gold. Fabric window shades are olive, French blue and mauve-gray, striped.

Fabric Versatility In Design

Seven young interior designers, none of them older than 32, are responsible for a collection of new ideas on ways to use decorative fabrics in the home.

Furthermore, this creative group, 1962 winners of The Interior Design Competition for Young Professionals, has come up with ideas that can give a fresh look to many areas that have proved difficult to handle, and offer the answer to specific decorating problems.

Excellent use of the lush opulence of damasks and textured satins woven with contemparary fibers is shown in the award-winning interior designed by 27-year-old Arto O. Szabo, of New York, regional winner from the North Atlantic area.

Two large storage areas on either side of a set of bookshelves in his handsome "Room for a Bachelor" shown above left) are covered with panels of textured matelasse in royal blue with an overbloom of mustard-beige within decorative moldings pointed a deep mustard color. The same fabric is used to cover a window wall, and to trim a pair of Roman shades, made from a nappy, homespun fabric in natural color.

Walls of the room are painted in an intense, muted blue which matches the background of the matelasses, a blend of rayon, acetate, cotton and nylon. This idea of applying a decorative fabric for just such an ornamental effect is one which many homemakers could carry out for themselves. Furthermore, it gives the right look to a room furnished in traditional style.

Inaugurated with the aim of uncovering original and imaginative applications of home furnishings fabrics, while at the same time discovering and encouraging fresh new talent in the field of interior design, the second annual interior design competition fulfilled both objectives, while also showing awareness of these young designers to the needs of the average homemaker.

Joseph Almasian tackles the case of a bedroom (shown above right) occupied by two imaginary teen-agers and solves their very real storage problem delightfully with space-saving fabric-covered panels, each divided into three sections, which replace conventional closet doors. These can be opened separately or in combination one with another, giving maximum accessibility and maintaining an uncluttered look.

He has used a handsomely textured fabric in a rich golden hue for the panels. Being removable they can be replaced at comparatively little cost with new fabric when another color plan is demanded by the youngsters.

This designer loves fabric shades, and has used a striped damask in olive with muted French blue and gray for roller shades above a counter which runs along the window wall doing double duty as desk and shelf in this interesting room.

By EUNICE FARMER

"If my dress is not long-waisted enough in the back and I have to add to the bodice back, how can I make the side seams come out even?"—Mrs. A.B.

Dear Mrs. A.B.:

If you need extra length in back and not in front, the underarm darts in the bodice front should be changed. Make them about half the width (depending on the amount of length you are adding to the back). Change the dart so that the side seams will come out even.

The leaflet I referred to a few weeks ago about clever Christmas ideas was to have been made up from the suggestions you sent to me. It's getting pretty late now, but if we hurry, we might still have time. We need any new ideas for unusual gifts, for little tots, teen-agers, and big folks, that we can make in time for this year. If you drop everything to send them to me today, I'll drop everything to make up a leaflet and then I'll let you know when you can send for it.

"The last dress I made for my daughter had large unpressed pleats in the skirt. After I had the pleats basted in place, I noticed that they were turning the opposite way from the picture on the pattern. I still don't know what I did wrong. Does it really matter which way they lie?" — Mrs. B.P.T.

Dear Mrs. B.P.T.:

I think the clue to your error was in the method of marking the unpressed pleats. I imagine you marked them on the wrong side of the fabric with chalk or a tracing wheel.

Since unpresed pleats must be folded into position from the RIGHT side of the fabric, you must tailor-tack your pattern marks because you can't use colored chalk on the right side of the fabric.

After the pleat marks have been tailor tacked, keep your paper pattern right above your garment and you can see the direction each pleat is to be folded.

If often makes a great difference in the appearance of a garment and should be made the way the pattern was designed.

"If you have a slide fastener that won't stay closed, sew a small hook on the waistband directly above the metal tab on the fastener. The slot in the tab may now be caught on the hook so it won't slip open."

For this suggestion which will so easily soothe many frayed nerves, Mrs. Betty Bacik, Detroit, Mich., is being sent the weekly tailortrix pressing board award.

Mrs. L.B. says: Alterations I made on an old, but expensive black coat turned out beautifully. The pockets, cuffs, and buttonholes were worn, so I covered those spots with a pretty black braid, also shortened the coat to the new length. Results: an up-to-date coat with very little effort and expense.

"If I can't get buttonhole-twist to match my skirts, can I use anything else for the hand-picking and putting the side fastener in by hand?"—Mrs. H.E.

Dear Mrs. H.E.:

Yes, you can get a matching embroidery floss or use a double mercerized thread. If you are using two strands of thread, be sure you un-twist the thread with each stitch to avoid tangling and knotting. Running your thread through beeswax will strengthen the thread and keep it from fraying and knotting.

PILLS, PILLS, PILLS . . .

Can Your Family Take Too Many Vitamins?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Pills, pills, pills — Americans gulp them by the millions in their quest for vitamins. Are vita? min pills necessary? Can we take too many? Why is there such a fluctuation in their cost? How did the Vitamin Age begin? The controversial subject of vitamins is explored in the following three dispatches by Barney Seibert, United Press International correspondent.)

By BARNEY SEIBERT

Chicago (UPI) — A vitamin pill is something you can take or leave alone, according to whose advice you're getting.

As the weather turns colder and sniffles spread across the land, more and more Americans are fortifying themselves with the alphabetized concoctions out of box and bottle.

Vitamin pills have become a multi-million dollar business and those who manufacture and sell them say this is good because many of us don't eat what we should. Such people need extra vitamins, they say.

But, as with most subjects, there is another side. The American Medical Assn. thinks Americans have been so sold on vitamins that they regard them as a food substitute synonymous with good nutrition.

THE MANUFACTURERS believe the AMA opposition to vitamin supplements stems from the physician's traditional suspicion of self-medication.

They feel that officials of the U. S. Agriculture Dept. also have inspired many of the attacks on vitamin pills because the department hopes to persuade the public to eat more food, helping to solve the farm surplus problem and raise agricultural prices.

The AMA says vitamins are necessary for good health, but most people get all they need from the foods they eat.

Dr. William B. Bean, of the University of Iowa College of Medicine, fed vitamin pills to one group of soldiers and gave another group similar pills without vitamins. "There was no difference in performances, fitness or health," he said.

THE ONLY DIFFERENCE he found in the two groups of soldiers was that the segment receiving vitamin pills had large amounts of vitamins in their body wastes.

Nearly three years ago the AMA said vitamin pills are unnecessary for the normal person eating an average diet.

Two years ago the AMA warned that vitamins actually may be harmful to some people.

Dr. William N. Pearson, Vanderbilt University nutrionist, in a paper delivered Nov. 30, 1960, at a symposium on clinical nutrition in Washington, D. C. said:

CLEMENT A. SMITH, a pediatrician of the Harvard Medical School, said, "They have been deceived by skillfully misleading advertisements into believing vitamin pills will take care of the family's nutrition. Children don't gain pep by taking vitamin pills . . . no vitamin, either in food or pill form, is a tonic or stimulant . . ."

Pearson said physicians must share in the blame. "Few practicing physicians have not prescribed a regimen of vitamin supplementation for . . . (patients) who have that tired feeling or a nonspecific ache or pain."

DRS. FELIX MILGROM and Ernest Witebsky, of the University of Buffalo School of Medicine, writing in the Aug. 25 Journal of the AMA, blamed the "army of nurses, dietitians, nutrition counselors" who "fight the dragon of malutrition who is busy in other countries and ignores the United States."

In the May 20, 1960, AMA Journal, Dr. A. B. Curry Ellison, of Charleston, W. Va., reported that folic acid in multivitamin pills delayed the diagnosis of pernicious anemia.

HE RECOMMENDED that "folic acid be removed from all multivitamin and iron preparations." Ellison said the substance was being added to many vitamin preparations "without adequate therapeutic evidence of need." (Folic acid is one of the vitamins of the B complex).

In an editorial Aug. 19, 1960, the AMA Journal reported that an overdose of viatmin A may lead to "loss of appetite, irritability, skin eruptions, or enlargement of the liver." Too much vitamin D may cause "gastrointestinal symptoms," it said.

THE NOV. 5, 1960, AMA Journal warned in an editorial that self-administration of vitamins "reflects the hazards of self-medication. The tragedy is that masked organic disease may be the basic cause of symptoms that are being treated erroneously with vitamin preparations."

He Can Read, But Now Johnny Can't Write Well Enough

By JAMES DOYLE

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI)—Several years ago educators came to the conclusion that Johnny couldn't read. Changes were made to correct the situation.

Johnny is older now, and he can read. But he can't write well and generally cannot express himself well in conversation.

A new five-year study called "Project English" is going to look into the situation and make changes to correct it.

PROJECT ENGLISH began this fall at six institutions of higher learning around the country. The University of Oregon is the only one in the West engaged in the study.

The program, under direction of Dr. Albert Kitzhaber, will be carried on in two fields —the university as the headquarters for the center and three contiguous school districts in the Eugene area where students, grades 7 through 12, will work on curriculum devised at the center.

The reason Johnny has a poor general knowledge of his mother tongue, Kitzhaber believes, is mainly because methods of teaching it are out of date.

High School English is a mixture of grammar, frequently repetitious, and literature—and anything else that can be crammed into the course.

THERE IS, in short, a need at the higher education level for a solid background in English. But the source is lacking.

A basic fault, Dr. Kitzhaber says, is a lack of sequence. For that reason, molding a sequential course through the grades is a major aim of the study.

He says literature now being taught at the junior high school level is of very little literary merit.

Many educators feel there is little superior literature that is understandable to children of this age group, but Kitzhaber disagrees.

As examples of good, but simple, literature he points to Aesop's fables, La Fontaine, Biblical readings and the classic myths and legends.

"MANY STUDENTS reach college without even knowing the classic fairy tales, except as they have been strained through the mind of Walt Disney," he said.

"There is now an entire generation which thinks that one of the characters in 'Snow White' is a lovable little deafmute."

And what of grammar?

"Most textbooks show no awareness of the scholarly developments in the study of language since 1900," he said. He added that the material on language in these textbooks is a description of Latin, not English.

Latin, at the end of the last century, was regarded as the only pure, classical language and, as a result, English was forced into its mold.

ON THE WHOLE high school teaching in English is "not sequential, not modern, and not intellectually sound," Kitzhaber said.

He mentioned some bright spots, however—Westport, Conn., Pittsburgh, Nebraska and Portland, where the high school curriculum was revised according to his own study.

It is hoped the new project will result in a complete revision in methods of teaching English in high school. The results of the study will not be force-fed to other schools, however, but will be held up as a model for a new curriculum.

Kitzhaber emphasized the program is not college preparatory, but is broadly conceived to include all but the slowest students.

Selected groups of high school teachers spent the past summer in classrooms learning a new order in literature and language. In order to teach effectively their own language, the teachers must have a better grasp of the subject matter, he indicated.

GRADES 7 THROUGH 12 were chosen for the project study because departmentalized instruction normally begins at the grade 7 level. The freshman college level was omitted because of the necessity of limiting the study.

New textbooks will be one major result of the project.

The U.S. office of education has granted the university $250,000 to begin work. The program will eventually cost a half-million dollars. The rest is to come from the university and the Oregon public school system.

Mrs. Duane Moeller Named President Of Novato Guild

The varied interest of the new president includes meeting new people, travel, sewing and bridge. And she says her accomplishments are "Jack of all trades, master of none."

Arlene and her husband, who is business manager of the San Jose School District, are currently Skippers of the Mariners, a young couples organization of the Presbyterian Church. They have three children, Michele (Shelly) 7; Bruce, 5 and Mary Ann, 9 months.

She particularly enjoys sewing "As it serves a dual purpose and an opportunity for need, as we have two daughters."

A former second grade teacher at Hill School, Mrs. Moeller was also hospitality chairman of Lu Sutton Parent-Teachers Assn. and program chairman of the Mariners.

"Since Sunny Hills Guild No. 2 is newly organized, no projects have been decided upon at this time. However, a committee for projects and ideas has been set up," Mrs. Moeller continued.

The standing committee chairmen are Mesdames John Ahler, bargain box; Charles Joseph, publicity and historian and Robert Dougherty, hours.

The newly formed group participated in the annual Grape Festival, selling Marin County artists work. Mrs. John Miklos was chairman.

By-laws were adopted at the meeting last week and officers elected to serve with Mrs. Moeller were Mesdames John Roos, vice president; James Studley, secretary and Roy McLaren.

Roman Holiday Is Theme For A Party

Theme for the wine-tasting party to be sponsored on Nov. 4 by the Star of the Sea Church in Sausalito will be "Roman Holiday"—with local overtones.

Emphasizing the increasingly world-wide ascendancy of California wines, especially those from the Napa Valley, will be a selection of red, white and rose vintages from a local winery.

With the best of French bread and Monterey's notabl Jack cheese, for clearing the palate between tastings, patrons at the Sunday afternoon affair can sample Riesling, Chablis, Sauterne, Napa Rose, Red Pinot, Cabernet Sauvignon and Chateau la Salle.

Chairman Mrs. Fred Perry Jr., and her co-chairman, Mrs. George E. Percy, are also providing musical entertainment, an art show and a floral arrangement display.

Decorations for the party are being done by Mrs. John F. Churchill and Mrs. Frank Pasquinucci, and Mrs. Earl Dunphy is handling the special awards. Other chairmen are Mesdames Joseph De Martini, hostesses; Leo Quadros and Walter J. Silva, refreshments; and John C. Alexander, publicity. The Misses Vivian and Pauline Ratto have made the posters.

Taking reservations are Mesdames Alan H. Scurfield, Frank Kelly, Manuel Pasquinucci and John Pieraccini.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Don't Fall For Old Shell Game When Playing A Hand At Bridge

The pea isn't under any of the shells; the artist has it hidden in the crook of his little finger. Don't fall for the old shell game when you're playing a bridge hand.

West opened the queen of spades and continued the suit until South ruffed the third round. Declarer correctly saw no reason to play dummy's king since he felt sure that East had the ace.

South could count on winning six trumps, two diamonds, and one club. He needed one additional trick for his contract, and a successful finesse in clubs or diamonds would give him that trick.

WHY GUESS?

"Why should I guess which finesse will work?" South said to himself. "I can try both of them."

Well pleased with his shrewdness, South drew trumps, cashed the ace of diamonds and tried a finesse with dummy's jack of diamonds. East won and got out safely with the ace of spades.

South later tried the club finesse and went down when that lost also.

BAD DAY

South shook his head dolefully. It was a bad day, and he should have stayed at home with the blankets pulled up over his head. Maybe he could get a finesse to work some other day.

AFTER RUFFING

After ruffing the third spade South should draw three rounds of trumps ending in the dummy. Then he leads the king of spades from dummy and discards a club from his hand. This gives East the trick, but East is not grateful.

East must return a diamond or a club, and either suit will give dummy a free finesse.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Oct. 29 the 302nd day of 1962 with 63 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury and Mars.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1740, the English writer and famous biographer of Samuel Johnson, James Boswell, was born.

In 1923, Turkey became a republic, and its first president, the nationalist leader Mustafa Kemal, announced he would be known as Kemal Ataturk.

A though for today: Mark Twain said: "One of the most striking differences between a cat and a lie is that a cat has only nine lives."

Vote Coakley Over Mosk; Jordan As State Secretary

California's voters have a tough decision before them in the race for attorney general; whichever man wins, the state can't lose much.

Challenging Atty. General Stanley Mosk is an able and effective jurist with an impressive record as an attorney, judge and civic leader. He is Superior Judge Tom Coakley of Mariposa County, former president of the San Francisco Bar Association, California Judicial Council, and a member of the board of governors of the State Bar Association.

From scantily populated Mariposa County, he has traveled and served on the superior bench of some 39 California counties, including Los Angeles and Marin, making him one of the widest known and best informed judicial officials in the state.

We have admired Stanley Mosk, however, particularly in his firm stand against infringements on the rights of the people in general and individuals in particular. He has in most cases battled for an informed public. He expanded the operations of the office to include anti-trust, consumer fraud and business fraud sections.

We are, however, not unmindful of the fact that crime has increased in California greatly in recent years. We don't blame all this on the attorney general, but he must shoulder some responsibility.

He also has undertaken an extracurricular activity which we find completely in conflict with operation of the state's top legal office. He accepted and retains the post of Democratic national committeeman from California. This is by nature a violently partisan job. We believe the job of attorney general should be violently non-partisan; in fact we favor making it non-partisan by law. Certainly a party position provides a definite conflict of interest.

Considering everything, therefore, we support Tom Coakley for attorney general and recommend a vote for him Nov. 6.

THE POSITION of Secretary of State in California has been held for 20 years by Frank M. Jordan, who is seeking another four year term. In that 20 years many have tried and failed to punch holes in the service he provides for Californians.

Don Rose, the Democratic challenger, has based his campaign around the fact he couldn't find Jordan when he went to Sacramento. This is rather remarkable because Jordan has been known, as was his father before him, for an "open door" policy. Any time, you can walk by his office and see him at work or go speak to him through his opened door. He is one of the most available persons in Sacramento.

So it isn't hard to pick a candidate for secretary of state. We recommend your vote for Frank M. Jordan.

A Man From Okefenokee Wants To See Beautiful Places But Not Travel

The other day we met a man from the Okefenokee Swamp and his name is Poke.

Poke is himself. A Sausalito sculptor, he is also a handy man and hauler of things in his red, converted Army weapons carrier with a Jeep top. He calls this truck Poke's Joke 2.

Poke's real name is Lyman Van Anda and he is a traveler. "When I was in kindergarten, I moved from Illinois to Georgia where they called me 'The Yank,'" he said. Later they called him Poke, short for Slowpoke. In the Army some called him Van.

VAN ANDA OWNS a pecan farm in Georgia in the Okefenokee (pronounced Okie-fin-okie) swamp which lies on the southern bit of Georgia and northern end of Florida.

"It's the land of the trembling earth," says Poke warmly. "You have islands that actually move. Things fall into the water and form islands, then cypress grow on top. About six feet underneath you have water. Clear, black water. There are snakes and bears. It's a type of jungle."

Van Anda was a lapidarist. He attended the School of Mines in Colorado and prospected on the side for rocks two years in a converted ambulance called Poke's Joke 1. Once he found a dinosaur bone 64 inches long.

THEN ONE DAY he sold his rocks and the dinosaur bone for $500 in New Orleans and used the money to go to Europe to study sculpture. He stayed three years, mostly in Paris where he studied under cubist Osip Zadkine.

The day we talked to Poke it was cold and foggy. He was wearing baggy fatigue pants, a large coat which his wife, Beth, made for him out of a blanket and, on his head, a black cap with a hole on top.

"It's called a six pence," said the sculptor, "because years ago in England workers bought them for six pence." The cap has a Robert Kirk label but, as Poke says sadly, "you can't get them any more."

"A few years ago we had what we called a 'Livest Movement going," said the hauler. "Sort of Bohemian. It's slowed away. I became an anarchist for a while. Now I'm interested in old boats and new boats."

POKE HAULS trash and furniture, does jobs such as laying linoleum, fixing fences and building houses. He works with Lindsay Cage on metals, he said. "Metals are low now. You can't sell them. Take tin, you haul a car away in two days and you get $18."

Poke is working on a torso from a 150 pound chunk of black Swedish granite which he brought home from Copenhagen. He has 50 tons of marble and is interested in doing a sculpture for Clem Miller's monument at Point Reyes.

He also plans to work on a bowsprit sculpture of Juanita Musson for her ferry boat, Charles Van Damme.

VAN ANDA OWNS property in Mill Valley, but says he wants to sell it and "visit some of the beautiful places in the world. I have been here since 1953," he said, "the longest time in any one place. I feel as if I had only been here about a year. I still feel almost a stranger.

"I'm going to build a boat and take up skin diving and go back to the rock jewelry thing. I have to travel. I have always been a traveler," he said.

Sausalito Urges Yes On Prop. 14

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your recent editorial urged a "No" vote on Proposition 14 on the Nov. 6 ballot. You correctly stated that this measure affects only San Francisco and Sausalito, but I believe that your conclusion was incorrect when you deplored any amendment that would permit more filling of Richardson Bay. This is not the effect of Proposition 14.

There are at present mapped streets lying under water off Sausalito's shoreline. The owners of lots bounded by the streets can fill these lots and improve the streets. Proposition 14 would not increase the likelihood of these lots being filled, but would enable the City of Sausalito, after appropriate state legislation, to exchange its underwater streets for other land in order to erase the existing "grid pattern" of streets. The city council, at its Oct. 16 meeting, took the first step in approving a plan to exchange some underwater streets for other land to be used for a waterfront park and recreation area.

At its Oct. 16 meeting the Sausalito City Council unanimously approved the passage of Proposition 14. Since Sausalito is the only community in Marin affected by this proposition, we urge that you support a "Yes" vote on Proposition 14.

Express Opinion Whenever I Like

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I must say I am surprised that you would print a letter which constituted nothing more than a personal attack. Mrs. Miller obviously did not understand one word of my letter . . .

Just to set the record straight, I am 100 per cent against socialized medicine. I am quite familiar with the Kerr Mills Bill which was enacted into California law early this year by the Rattigan Act. I feel that the legislation is quite adequate but unfortunately many of my fellow citizens do not.

I therefore, merely suggested a possible alternative to keep the government out of the insurance business, and leave it in the hands of private enterprise.

If Mrs. Miller objects to me expressing my opinions, well, that's too bad. Thank God, we are still living in a country where one can express their opinions. She can have her's and I'll have mine and I will continue to express them whenever and wherever I feel like it. And furthermore, I will punctuate them however I wish to!

DON'T LET GEORGE DO IT

Did you know that the phrase, "Let George do it," was coined over 450 years ago by King Louis XII of France?

The king had a prime minister named George D'Amboise, who was so able that he delegated an increasing number of vexing problems to this trusted assistant. The monarch thus left himself free to attend to other royal duties.

Down through the centuries countless persons have taken the "let George do it" attitude about their family, religious, civic and the many other obligations that God expects them to fulfill.

The tendency, for instance, to expect others to shoulder the difficult task of providing good government has led to the weakening—and even disappearance—of free institutions everywhere.

Those, however, who specialize in graft, corruption or subversion never "let George do it." They do it themselves.

INDUSTRIALIST SAYS:

Khrushchev Still Plans To Come To The U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A U. S. industrialist who spent three hours with Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev only last Wednesday said the Soviet leader declared he was still considering a trip to the United States.

William E. Knox, of New York, president of the Westinghouse Electric International Co., told newsmen at the State Department how he went to Russia on a business trip and suddenly found himself summoned to Khrushchev's office.

This meeting took place two days after President Kennedy had announced his Cuban blockade plans.

"IT WAS WEDNESDAY at 2 p.m.," he said, "when I was called in my hotel and told the chairman would be pleased to see me at 3 p.m."

Knox said he was ushered into Khrushchev's office at 3:30 p.m. and was met by a "relaxed, very calm — but tired" looking Kremlin leader.

Knox declined to give full details of his talk with Khrushchev. He spoke to newsmen after reporting the details to State Department officials in an hour-long meeting.

BUT HE DID say the Soviet leader told him he was still considering coming to the United States.

Knox told newsmen, "we discussed many things and I have reported these to my government. These are critical times and I don't believe it would be helpful to say more."

He did relate this anecdote which ended his visit with the Soviet leader:

"Khrushchev's office," Knox said, "is quite narrow. He has a desk and a long table down one side at which I think he seats the whole Politburo. Khrushchev normally sits at the head. But this time the interpreter sat at the head. I sat on his right and Khrushchev opposite me.

"Walking out the door I saw a big picture of a man with a great bushy beard."

"'Who's that?' I said."

"Why, that's Karl Marx," Khrushchev replied.

"I told him I never knew that Karl Marx was a Cuban before," Knox said.

From Coach Buck O'Neill of Hamilton College comes a delectable football story of a climatic encounter years ago between Hamilton and its archrival, Colgate, in which the Colgate eleven was making damaging and consistent gains through the center of the Hamilton line. O'Neill finally sent in a substitute, Miller, for the varsity center, Doyle—and things immediately took a decided turn for the better.

After the game, Coach O'Neill warmly praised Miller for his key role in Hamilton's last-minute victory. "Thank you for the kind words, Coach," replied Miller, "but I really don't deserve all the the credit. You see, when I went in, Doyle never came out."

Not easily discouraged is a lady who moves in the highest circles in Long Island society. She admitted to a judge that her husband had walked out on her fourteen times, freely boasted about other feminine conquests, struck her repeatedly, and several times threw a whole trayful of dinner at her. "I take it you want a divorce," said His Honor. "Not that — for the present anyhow," decided the lady, "I want to try a legal separation first."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON—Whatever the outcome of the portentous chain of events now in motion on the waters around Cuba, the most significant fact of all is that the hot cold war which the Soviet Union has been waging against the free world is entering a radically different and potentially decisive stage.

President Kennedy's decision, in face of the ominous build-up of offensive Soviet weapons in Cuba, to say to the Kremlin, "Thus far and no farther," adds a wholly new dimension to the cold war. It is not the same kind of cold war that it was before 7 p.m., Oct. 22.

THESE ARE the reasons:

1—For the first time since Stalin ringed the Iron Curtain around Eastern Europe after World War II and Khrushchev began his world-wide piece-meal aggression called "peaceful co-existence," there is a direct confrontation between the military power of the United States and the military power of the Soviet Union. This time there are no intermediaries. Heretofore, as in the unsuccessful Communist-bloc war against Greece, Moscow has used the forces of its satellites to procure its aggressions. Now it has nakedly committed its own forces in Cuba.

2—For the first time the United States has taken a stand which can in the end yield only one of three consequences — the backdown of the United States, the backdown of the Soviet Union, or war.

NOT ONCE SINCE the Kremlin acquired nuclear weapons has the Soviet Union ever relinquished an inch of territory it has siezed by force, whether in Poland or in Hungary or in East Germany or elsewhere.

But never before have Soviet forces been confronted by American forces—the crucial test is now in the making. Either the Soviet Union or the United States will have to back away. In either event the consequence will mark the turning-point in the cold war.

If Premier Khrushchev backs down, as it now seems, the out-thrusting power of the Soviet Union will not only have been arrested, it will have been reversed.

If President Kennedy backs down—and there is utterly no reason to believe he will—then the whole free world's resistance to out-thrusting power will decay and crumble.

Finally—and as well now as later—we face the crucial moment of truth as to whether the Soviet Union is prepared to accept nuclear war with all its horrendous destruction for both sides in its mad effort to achieve world domination.

FOR MORE THAN a decade the Kremlin has been trading on the universal fear of nuclear war. It has contended that if the United States resists the extension of Soviet power to West Berlin, we will be responsible for bringing on a nuclear war. It has contended that if the United States resists the build-up of Soviet power in Cuba, we will be responsible for bringing on a nuclear war.

Its contention is that there must be no line of resistance to be drawn anywhere to the expanding Soviet empire, lest the price be a nuclear holocaust. Its contention is that the extension of Soviet power is inevitable because resistance is too terrible to contemplate.

Sometime, somewhere, the moment of truth had to come. It has come in Cuba. We will soon know whether Moscow's overhanging threat of nuclear war is diplomatic blackmail or whether it is in reality reckless, unrestrained political madness.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

There Are Limitations To Value Of Changing Climate For Health

VAN DELLEN

The warm, pleasant climate of the south and southwest has a strong attraction for ailing northerners, particularly the elderly and those with arthritis and disorders of the heart, lungs, or circulation. There are limitations to the value of changing climate, especially if it involves traveling long distances.

Air travel in modern, pressurized cabins is ideal for most of those who go south for their health. Long trips by car are tiresome for the aged and for men and women with cardiovascular disorders.

The commercial air lines will take anyone who can get on or off the plane without trouble but they cannot be expected to run an ambulance service or to jeopardize the trip for others. Anxiety about air travel is easily controlled with sedatives or tranquilizers and the chance of developing air sickness is minimal on large planes.

A TRIP OF this type should not be undertaken by men and women in an advanced stage of the above mentioned diseases. They will get along better by remaining at home or in a hospital under the care of their own physician.

The majority are too ill to enjoy the benefits of a warmer climate and the strain of travel is likely to aggravate their condition. The same applies to victims of stroke with severe damage to the brain; they do better at home or in an institution.

A DIFFERENT climate also requires acclimation, especially when the contrast is marked. People who spend the winter in the south should not return north until April, when the weather is warmer. The alternative is to stop for a few days in a moderate climate on the way home.

Changing climate does not cure any disease and spending the winter in Florida, along the gulf, or in Arizona or southern California does not mean the end of medical care or throwing caution to the winds. The sun still burns and swimming in cold water is harmful when the blood pressure is high or the old ticker is impaired.

HAIR PHOBIAS

Mrs. J. A. writes: What is the medical term for pulling out hair (in front of a mirror)? Is this a form of insanity?

REPLY

Trichotillomania is the habit of plucking hairs. It is called trichologia when it becomes a tic and carphologia when the individual unconsciously picks at this or that, including hair. The first is seen occasionally in the insane and the neurotic but is not necessarily a sign of insanity.

SWELLING AFTER FRACTURE

M. F. writes: I'm home after six weeks in the hospital with a broken leg and am using a walker. I notice my knee and upper leg swell after I'm up and around for a while. Is this natural?

REPLY

FUMIGATION AFTER CANCER

W. P. writes: Should an apartment where a cancer patient died be fumigated before moving in?

REPLY

No, even though viruses are the cause of some cancers. Viruses can exist only in living cells and cannot be transmitted from floors or walls.

CLOT PREVENTIVES

S. S. writes: Can anticoagulants be used as a preventive of heart attacks?

REPLY

Yes, but the risk of having blood that does not clot may be greater than having a heart attack. Let well enough alone.

The death of a senior British scientist from pneumonic plague was caused by an accidental infection in his laboratory. This is the hazard of handling virulent bacteria and the chance taken by research workers.

Those who were in contact with this man during his last few days have reason for concern because this type of plague is transmitted like an ordinary cold. Bubonic plague is conveyed by infected fleas that have fed on rodents such as rats but pneumonic plague is much more serious. To date, none of the victim's colleagues, or members of his family has acquired the disease. Neither have the physicians or nurses who cared for him during his illness.

BOTH FORMS of plague are caused by the same organism —Pasteurella pestis. The pneumonic form involves the lungs and symptoms are similar to ordinary pneumonia except in severity.

The bubonic type is much more common and is so named because buboes develop in the lymph glands in the neck, armpits, chest, and groins. The condition begins abruptly with chills, high fever, headache, vomiting, prostration, and delirium. We can do without this disease, considering the pandemics of bygone years that destroyed large segments of the population from time to time.

THE DISEASE responds to our modern antibiotics, including streptomycin, provided they are used early. The mortality rate has dropped from 70 per cent to less than 10 per cent with these drugs. I often wonder how many millions of lives would have been spared had these products been available two centuries ago.

But plague continues to be a problem in many parts of the world. There were 808 cases reported to the world health organization in 1961. These figures do not include those from the mainland of China. Contrast this with the 170,300 deaths that were reported annually from 1919 to 1928.

THERE WERE three cases of plague in this country last year but this small number is nothing to brag about. There were only 24 cases in all of Africa, including nine suspected cases. Most of our few cases come from the southwest, indicating that a focus of the disease still exists. Let's hope the situation never gets any worse.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

DRUG REACTION

S. R. writes: Could the antiringworm pills cause reactions like a sense of fullness in the head that comes and goes?

REPLY

Possibly, because reactions to any drug are variable. This aftereffect is rare with griseofulvin but now and then the user complains of heartburn, nausea, upper abdominal discomfort, hives, or headache.

MONONUCLEOSIS

Mrs. T. writes: Please send information on glandular disease in children.

REPLY

This condition, now called infectious mononucleosis, usually is mild in children. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on this disease.

EYELID SPASMS

S. S. writes: What is the cause and what is the cure of eye twitching?

REPLY

Twitching eyelids often are associated with eye fatigue, or overindulgence in tea, coffee, or tobacco. Irritated and inflamed lids may lead to twitching.

RADIOACTIVE IODINE

C. L. B. writes: Is a radioactive thyroid test done to find out if cancer is present?

REPLY

Yes, but the I 131 test also is used to determine the rate of thyroid activity.

Sierra Reservoir Open For Recreation Only

"This is the first recreational reservoir of its magnitude to be constructed anywhere in the United States or elsewhere in the world, as far as I can discover," said William E. Warne, director of water resources.

He was principal speaker at the groundbreaking ceremonies for the 2.92 million dollar dam on Indian Creek, a tributary of the Feather River. The site is about 6,000 feet high in the Sierra.

The earth-fill dam will be 105 feet high, 1320 feet long, and will store 21,000 acre feet of water in a lake over 900 acres. Construction is scheduled for completion in 1964.

The reservoir will provide water sports, plus water for downstream fish and wildlife.

It is the second of five reservoirs planned in the Upper Feather River Basin. The first, Frenchman Reservoir, was completed last year. No date has been set for start of work on the other three.

WILL AMERICA BE

OUT OF LUCK?

Industry and hard work brought America luck and leadership in business and trade, in science and living standards and in moral influence. How long can this last?

The future will tell. Leadership calls for leaders, and America will fall behind unless its colleges develop enough men and women with the special training today's problems demand.

But our colleges are in a squeeze. Some face shortages and in 10 years applicants will double. We need more and better laboratories, new facilities and, above all, many qualified teachers.

HELP THE COLLEGE OF YOUR CHOICE NOW!

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Tremendous Potential In Export Field For Small Manufacturers

Marin County can hardly be called a manufacturing center by any stretch of the imagination, but here as elsewhere there are a number of small firms engaged in producing specialty items—and if they aren't looking for new markets and opportunities to increase sales, they should be.

Bank of America points out the tremendous potential for small manufacturers in the export field. A "Made in U.S.A." label has strong foreign appeal and there are still American firms selling textile products and cigarette lighters in Japan, chow mein in Formosa, typewriters in Europe.

Many producers feel that to export they have to get all involved in a maze of details, paper work, market studies, making contacts and getting paid. They don't realize it's not necessary to go through the whole process themselves.

For most small manufacturers with no export experience it's best to use the service of outside experts in the field. Goods can be sold directly to a U.S. export merchant who takes title and does the foreign marketing—or you can work through an export agent who finds buyers.

A bank with a strong international department can be helpful in developing contacts, credit information and collections if you set up your own export department. Other help can be secured from the U.S. Department of Commerce, Small Business Administration, world-wide trade directories.

HENRY H. WILKINS of Ross has been appointed sales manager of the northern district of Kaiser Steel Corporation's fabricating division. His office will be in the Kaiser Center, Oakland. He was previously sales manager of the Napa plant. New responsibilities cover sales in Northern California, Oregon, Washington and adjacent areas.

He joined Kaiser Steel in 1955 when it purchased the steel fabricating division of Basalt Rock Co. He had been with Basalt's Napa plant since 1941.

BRANWELL D. FANNING of Tiburon, vice president of Cartan Travel Bureau, Inc., San Francisco, announces the expansion of his company's international operations will include a South Pacific division to be headed by Jim Babcock, formerly with Matson Navigation Co. and a veteran of Pacific travel.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING manager Carl Lehman of the I-J tells me that with the increased number of Help Wanted ads being submitted, every effort is being made to identify them as bona-fide offers of employment which state or indicate the general nature of the work.

Advertisements for sales help must state the type of product or service to be sold and the basis of compensation. When based on commission, no statement of the amount that may be earned is acceptable.

Ads in their entirety are screened for creating misleading impressions even though each separate statement may be literally true.

STARTING NOV. 1 Marin County Savings and Loan Assn., San Rafael is starting a Christmas Club program. Not for this Christmas, but so you can accumulate enough for next year's gift giving.

Zoning Plea Before Planners

The Marin County Planning Commission will hear an application Nov. 5 for a change of zone from single family residential to administrative-professional for property on Reed Street near the Mill Valley city limits.

The application was submitted by I. N. and Betty Tucker.

The property abuts another parcel zoned administrative-professional at the northwesterly end, but lies between two other parcels zoned for single-family dwellings.

The application is the eighth item on the commission's agenda. The meeting will start at 9 a.m. at 1711 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

Board Due Plan To Charge For Civic Center Brochure

Marin County supervisors will be asked tomorrow to begin charging 50 cents a copy for the civic center souvenir brochure, of which 7,500 copies have already been distributed free.

The county has paid $4,800 for the printing of 10,000 brochures, written and designed by the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation. John F. Barrows, assistant county administrator, will suggest to the board that the cost of future printings should be met by a 50-cent charge, otherwise the "general taxpayer must continue to bear the cost."

Sale of the brochures might be handled by the Marin Visitors Bureau, according to Barrows.

County Administrator Alan Bruce originally suggested a charge for the brochures, but the supervisors insisted on free distribution.

Barrows said most of the brochures were given out at the civic center dedication Oct. 13. About 2,500 have been distributed since then, "reflecting a continuing heavy demand."

Other matters at the board meeting, which begins at 9 a.m., include:

Setting a date for interviews of candidates for county veterans' service officer to replace W. P. Duhamel, who will retire Dec. 1.

Discussion of the job requirements for the proposed parks and recreation director and a "program statement" of the parks and recreation commission.

Bathing Beauties To Aid Swim Pool Bond Drive

Bathing beauties, decorated cars and bicycles in a parade Saturday afternoon will climax the drive for the $100,000 swimming pool bond issue in Novato.

Single girls of all ages are eligible to enter the bathing beauty contest for the title of "Miss Swim Queen," according to Mrs. William Carpenter, parade committee chairman. Two attendants will also be selected. Cash prizes of $10, $5 and $3 will be awarded the winners.

Entries will be accepted when the parade assembles at 1 p.m. at Lee Brothers Market parking lot. Each girl must be accompanied by a car, Mrs. Carpter said.

Individuals and organizations are eligible to enter the car decorating contest, Mrs. Carpenter said. There will be three prizes of $25, $15 and $10.

Students are eligible to enter the bicycle decorating contest, with prizes of $15, $10 and $5, and five $1 awards offered.

The parade will leave Lee Brothers at 2 p.m., go down Grant Avenue, Fourth Street, Court Road, George Street and Diablo Avenue to South Novato Boulevard to Nave Shopping Center.

Judging will be at Nave Shopping Center.

Someone Packed Off A Pachyderm

A thief broke a chain to steal a six-foot wooden elephant god carved by Sausalito artist Barney West from beside Bridgeway Boulevard Friday night, Mrs. West reported Saturday.

The carved figure, one of West's famous tikis, had been chained to a tree. About 10 a.m. today, Mrs. West found it had vanished. A broken link of the chain lay beside the road.

On Wednesday night, two of West's tikis were damaged in an attempt to steal them, the Wests told Sausalito police. The tikkis were inland from the Wests' ark on Mono Street.

West today offered $75 reward for information leading to the recovery of the elephant god.

Drs. Fred Coe, William Filante, Morris Katkov, Andrew Noble, Richard Wolk and Elmer Weden will be speakers. A new American Cancer Society film, "Is Smoking Worth It?" will be shown. There will be a question and answer period.

Dr. Gerald Hill, chairman of the public relations committee of the Marin Medical Society and president o fthe Marin branch of the American Cancer Society, said the program is available for other schools, and for service clubs and other organizations. Arrangements for it may be made by calling either the Marin Medical Society or American Cancer Society, he said.

Don't Duck Second Punch Against Polio

Marin County volunteers hope to make the second punch even heavier than the first when they man 20 immunization stations Sunday for the second round of the Bay Area K.O. Polio drive.

Type II Sabin oral vaccine will be metered onto thousands of sugar cubes for the 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. clinics. Doctors sponsoring the campaign to end polio in the Bay Area hope to equal or surpass the Sept. 23 turnout for Type I vaccine, termed the greatest one-day immunization operation in medical history.

BIG TURNOUT

The turnout for the first K.O. Polio assault was 77 per cent in the six Bay Area counties.

This was in marked contrast to results in Los Angeles County, where only slightly more than 19 per cent of the population received Type I vaccine.

Nearly 8,000 volunteers will have a hand in Sunday's drive. Among these are more than 700 doctors, nurses and lay workers.

EVERYONE URGED

The sponsoring Marin Medical Society, with Dr. Eugene P. Shatkin as Marin's drive coordinator, urged everyone to attend the handiest immunization station Sunday for seconds on Sabin vaccine.

The three types of vaccine to be administered in the K.O. Polio campaign safeguard against three types of polio.

Donations of 25 cents per dose of vaccine will be requested to help defray expenses of the program.

2 Liquor Licenses Bids Disapproved

Jerome Utz, attorney for the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Department, Friday recommended suspension of the liquor license of a San Rafael Liquor store and denial of a petition for an on-sale liquor license at a San Rafael delicatessen.

Utz, at a hearing in the San Rafael Labor Temple, said a 16-year-old girl bought whisky, vodka and beer at Le Jac's Liquors, 1008 Third Street, San Rafael, over a two-month period. The store is owned by John J. and Tressie G. Taaffe.

A petition for a liquor license by John J. Jandel at the Rue de la Paix, 1611 Fourth Street, was recommended for denial on the basis that Jandel misrepresented certain facts.

The hearing officer, Ivors Dains, forwards his recommendation to the director of the ABC who makes the final ruling.

Airman Reassigned

Airman 3/c Michael T. Thornton of San Rafael has been reassigned to Charleston Air Force Base, S.C., following graduation from the Air Force technical training course for jet aircraft mechanics at Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Thornton of Forest Knolls.
